OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

GRANGERS MEET AT FARM AND HOME WEEK

Conference Planned for February 13 and 14—Charles M. Gardner Speaks—All Patrons Invited.

New York state Grangers are planning a conference February 13 and 14 of farm and home week at the state college of agriculture. Charles M. Gardner, high priest of Demeter, is the chief speaker and will address members of the conference on "The Grange Lives Because it is Different," and "How to Improve Our Grange."

Fred J. Freestone, master of the New York State Grange, will preside at both meetings. Miss Elizabeth Arthur, state lecturer, is scheduled to speak on the leadership of the Grange lecturer and handicaps of the modern Grange.

Professor Ralph Pelton will speak on community work for honor Granges and on games for Granges. Miss Mary Eva Duthie will give a talk on how to equip the stage in the Grange hall.

The state dramatics contest, for which elimination contests have been conducted during the past fall in various counties and groups of counties, will have its final contest the evening of February 13.

The program is especially for Grange masters and overseers, altho all patrons are invited, it is stated. A conference for Grange masters and overseers, where Grange members only will be admitted, is scheduled for each day under the leadership of Mr. Gardner.

CORNELL LEADS IN FLORAL PRINT

University Experiment Station and College of Agriculture Have Largest Number of Bulletins.

In a list of bulletins recommended as valuable to persons interested in flower growing, Ohio State University includes 23 Cornell publications, eleven from Ohio, nine from New Jersey, eight from Michigan, and six from Illinois. Put in another way, the New York institution has more such pamphlets than both of the two colleges which appear next on the list. The list also includes 53 publications of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.

This list is intended to help persons who are interested in building up a reliable gardening library. The Ohio list also says that persons who are interested should start a garden library with such pamphlets and books which require study. It also suggests that members of gardening clubs should each get a different book and that these books may be passed around.

Among the Cornell publications which are available are: A Stury of Pogoniris Varieties M-100; Dwarf Bearded Iris; Autumn in the Flower Garden F-128; Spring in the Flower Garden F-106; China Aster F-152; Peony F-154; Sweet Peas F-151; Gladiolus Study E-11; The Flower Garden E-57; Beared Iris E-112; Decorative Use of Flowers E-87; 50 Common Forest Trees of New York J-23; Home Planting for Boys and Girls J-27; The Control of Aphids on House Plants E-126.

The authorities at Cornell say that any of the foregoing bulletins will be sent free in response to a postcard request giving the symbol, such as E-67, and bearing the name and address of the person who makes the request. It should be mailed to office of publication, college of agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

Rude Rural Rhymes

Step On It

The old one to the basement drug, we now have floored a brand new rug. I think that it is very neat and mighty easy on the feet, with colored leaves and flowers spattered, as if upon the brown earth scattered. I mind me of my early stages, in divers country parsonages. Our floors were not smooth red-oak pieces, but soft-wood boards with slivery creases. We covered them from feel and sight with carpets stretched to left and right. A thick straw matting, bedroom stuff, fed Clip and me was good enough (cold comfort for the feet to light, when fellers got up in the night). Rag carpet served the living room with ingrain for the parlor gloom. But this or that, we stretched it out, and tacked it straight or just about. If tacks were lost, why never mind 'em, barefooted kids would later find 'em. No Hoover hooved about the same until these new inventions came. Tho housewives swept until it hurt, the carpets simply soaked in dirt, till spring housecleaning struck the nation and moved them up from their location. Then when we smote them with a hose, my gosh what clouds of dust arose! I do not sigh for ways of yore, I much prefer a hard-wood floor. I'm very glad that we have got, the nice new rug that Hannah bought. — BOB ADAMS.

HIGHLIGHTS ON STATE CROPS

From New York State Dept. Agriculture & Markets January 29, 1929.

Vegetable Market Inactive

There was practically no trading during the early morning hours on bulk white potatoes or cabbages at railroad yards in New York City and Brooklyn, says the New York office of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets. The latest sales on state white Danish cabbage were reported at $50 to $55 per ton, while Maine, Green Mountain potatoes sold at $2.40 to $2.65 per 180 pounds.

Live Poultry

The live poultry market was firm on fowls which advanced two cents per pound but steady on all other classes without any price change. Fowls, leghorn and colored 32c; broilers, leghorn 34 to 36c; reds 34 to 38c, rocks 35 to 40c; capons 36 to 38c.

Hothouse Lambs

Receipts of hothouse lamps are running light with demand slow. The market tone is steady on top grade only while extra fancy are at a premium. Fancy weighing 30 to 35 pounds were $12 to $13 each, under 30 pounds $10 to $11; poor $7 to $9; imitation $4 to $7.

Dressed Calves

Country-dressed calves were in light receipt. The market was steady but slow. Choice brought from 24 to 25c per pound, good 20 to 2 cents, common 16 to 18 cents, small to medium 16 to 20 cents, lightweights 15 to 16 cents.

Butter—Cheese—Eggs

The butter market opened Monday with a firmer tone and prices advanced one cent per pound. This makes an advance of two cents within a week. Higher score was 49½ to 50c per pound, extra 49c. Imports of butter during December were 547,294 pounds.

The cheese market shows little change. Fresh fancy flats range in price from 25½ to 26 cents per pound, cured 27 to 29¼ cents. Imports of cheese for December were 3,836,187 pounds.

The egg market is steady. Nearby hennery whites, closely selected extras 46 to 47c; nearby gathered best grade 40 to 43c; nearby henery browns, top grade 47c. Imports for December were 305,277 dozen.

Livestock

Bulls: Market steady. Few good $9.75, medium $8.75 to $9.25, common lightweights $7.50 to $8.25. Cows: (mostly dairy) market irregular, few good $8.25, common and medium $7 to $8; low cutter $4 to $6.50; reactor cows $5 to 8. Vealers: Demand active. Good and choice $18.50 to 19.50, a few selected at $20; medium $14 to $16.50; culls and common $10 to $13. Calves: (whole milk feds excluded) market steady, medium and choice $11 to $13.50; culls and common $3.50 to $8.50. Lambs: Demand active. Good and choice $16.50 to $17.50; medium $13.75 to $16; culls and common $10 to $12.75. Sheep: Market steady. Ewes: medium and choice $7 to $9; culls and common $3 to $4. Hogs: Market steady to firm, prices higher. 85 to 100 pounds $9 to $9.75; 180 to 160 pounds $9.75 to $10; 165 to 200 pounds $10 to $10.75; sows (rough) $7.50 to $8.25.

Hay Market Irregular

Receipts of hay are liberal and the market is irregular. U. S. No. 1 Timothy sold at $26 to $27 per ton; No. 2, $23 to $25; No. 3, $19 to $20.

Around Our House

ODDS AND ENDS

"Small leaks sink a ship" is an old saying which taken figuratively may well be considered by the housewife. Small economies practiced consistently over a period of time mean substantial savings. Many dollars' worth of food finds its way into the garbage can each year if odds and ends are wasted. The housewife who is careless about using these or who does not often inspect her refrigerator and left-over food supplies allows waste by moulding and spoiling.

Odds and ends of food should be kept in mind and used when they are still wholesome and at their best. A small quantity of left-over vegetables may be put in the salad or the soup, and pieces of toast or hard bread may be ground up and saved for scalloped and baked dishes. Dry or stale cake can be made into a delicious pudding. The remnants of the roast can be used in timbales, casserole dishes; or chopped, it may be served in hash, either on toast or combined with rice or vegetables. Milk which has soured may be used in cottage cheese, pancakes, muffins or cake. When carefully used up, these remnants may provide the large part of an enjoyable meal and make extra buying unnecessary.

Many perfectly good foods are thrown out because their value is not recognized. Water in which vegetables are cooked contains much of the valuable mineral salts and should be used in soups and gravies; meat bones yield excellent soup stock and sometimes gelatin.

PREPARE WHOLE MEAL IN PRESSURE COOKER

Time and Fuel May be Saved by Planning Menu of This Sort, Recipes Are Given.

A whole meal may be quickly and easily cooked in the pressure cooker.

Casserole dishes or boiled foods which take an hour to cook in the oven will cook in half that time under ten pounds pressure in the cooker. Stews can be cooked in twenty minutes, and baked beans cook in 30 minutes under ten pounds pressure. Only 20 minutes in the oven is needed to brown the beans afterwards so that they are cooked in one-sixth to one-eighth of the time required when only the oven is used. Steamed breads and puddings are light and fluffy when cooked in the pressure cooker.

An entire meal can be cooked at one time, for an old-fashioned boiled dinner of beef, cabbage, potatoes, carrots, and onions will cook in one container and another container will hold steamed cranberry or graham pudding.

A boiled dinner to serve six people requires a pound of round steak cut in small pieces, one-half of a head of cabbage, six potatoes, six carrots and six onions. Put the cut meat in the food container and add the vegetables. Pour over the food enough boiling water to cover the vegetables, and add salt as desired.

For the cranberry pudding, cream three tablespoonsful of fat with one-half cupful of sugar. Mix and sift together one and one-third cups of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of soda, and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Add this mixture to the fat and sugar alternately with two-thirds of a cupful of sour milk. Stir in two-thirds of a cupful of cranberries; turn the pudding into a greased pudding mold and cover it tightly.

The two dishes should be cooked under ten pounds pressure for 30 minutes. Bread and butter, coffee, tea or milk, and cream for the pudding are all that is needed to complete the meal.

This Week

By Arthur Brisbane

Extra Congress, Extra Trouble. Prosperity's Back Log. Mr. Lucey Half Right. Wise King Amanullah.

There is to be an extra session of Congress, so well informed Washington reports, and the farmer will wait for "relief" until the new Congress gathers.

Mr. Hoover probably wishes that milestone were passed.

The farm question is this: How can you make those engaged in a thoroly disorganized haphazard industry as prosperous as those in industries thoroly organized on a scientific production and selling basis?

Changes in the tariff are predicted. "Big financial and industrial interests feel that tariff changes are needed."

If they feel that way, the changes will be made, and probably should be made. Big business has its faults, but it knows what the country needs, realizing that the big man can get only his part of what the little man can earn.

All of our prosperity comes down to the fact that people EARNING more can SPEND more.

Mr. Ecker of the Metropolitan Life Company puts it in words: "The people earn 15 to 20 billions more than it costs them to live. Those extra billions are prosperity's back log."

Mr. Lucey, the old Northampton cobbler who knew President Coolidge when a boy, is supposed to have given little Calvin this advice, "Keep your shoes laced tight, and never let your tongue wag."

President Coolidge took that good advice about the tongue. There is no information as to the advice concerning shoes.

It is baneful to lace children's shoes too tight. Lacing tightly around the ankles, pressing on blood vessels, impeding the flow of blood, gives the heart more work to do. Cobbler Lucey was only half right.

King Amanullah of Afghanistan discovered suddenly and violently what American prohibition enthusiasts are discovering slowly, that it isn't easy to change men's habits by proclamation or law.

Amanullah came back from his visit to England wearing European clothes, his wife fashionably dressed, short skirts, silk stockings, nothing to cover up her face.

He announced that women in Afghanistan were also to go with their faces uncovered, no more "seclusion."

Tribes rose against him, armed, drove him into a fortress.

King Amanullah changed his mind. Afghan girls sent to be educated in the modern way in Turkey are to come home. European dress is to be abolished. Soldiers of Afghanistan are to be allowed to follow and bow down to their religious leaders, the Holy men, or Pirs, and women will be kept in seclusion.

All the suggested reforms will be thrown overboard. Wise Amanulla, he wanted peace.

The Chinese, poor creatures, butchered, starved, forced into revolutions of which they do not know the meaning, know at least one thing, and that is, that it is important to have good roads.

Mr. G. Walter Reed, of the Santa Fe Railroad, quotes an engineer just back from China: "Food from South China cannot reach those starving in Northern China because of 15 hundred impassable miles."

Farm taxes in New York are mostly local taxes.

Both alcohol and turpentine are used to remove paint and varnish stains. They should be rubbed on and off quickly.

When a glass stopper sticks, pour a little glycerine around the neck and let it stand. The stopper will soon come out easily.

Save the small screw-top jars in which mayonnaise and other food products are packed. They are convenient food containers for next summer's picnics.

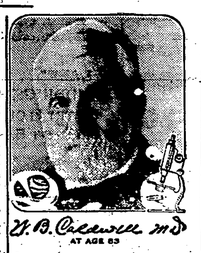
What Dr. Caldwell Learned in 47 Years Practice

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason to use a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and orange stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.



W. B. Caldwell, M.D. AT AGE 63

We would be glad to prove this at our expense to any person. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can speak to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Ill., and we will send you a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Makes Life Sweeter

Children's stomachs sour, and need an anti-acid. Keep their systems sweet with Phillips Milk of Magnesia!

When tongue or breath tells of acid condition,—correct it with a spoonful of Phillips. Most men and women have been comforted by this universal sweetener—more mothers should invoke its aid for their children. It is a pleasant thing to take, yet neutralizes more acid than the harsher things too often employed for the purpose. No household should be without it.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. registered trade mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.
