Ask Your Banker!

$2,000,000,000 were taken by stock swindlers. Not one dollar would have been lost, if investors had first asked their bankers.

Men are saved by faith in the next world, and by want of it in this. "Ask your Banker before you Buy" keeps many men from being beggars.

FLOWER CARNIVAL WAS A SUCCESS

Those Who Won Prizes For Beautiful Flowers at the M. E. Church Show Last Week.

The Flower Carnival of the Methodist church, held last week, went over big, with fine display of flowers in the church parlors, a good attendance and fine entertainment.

The carnival opened at I. O. O. F. Hall with a good dinner which was well served and well patronized, Wednesday evening.

Thursday evening, besides the splendid display of Andover-grown flowers, which were a bower of beauty as arranged in the basement of the church, there was an entertainment in the auditorium of the church upstairs, at which District Attorney W. N. Renwick, gave a most interesting address, featuring the program.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE OF AUTO CLUBS

Would Increase Membership 25,000 Before Annual State Meeting at Niagara Falls, Oct. 23rd.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Sensing the need for a greater mobilization of motorists to fight unjust legislation and commercial enterprises that prey upon those who own automobiles, the New York State Automobile Association is staging a two months' membership campaign with the object of securing 25,000 new members prior to its annual convention to be held at Niagara Falls, October 23rd to 25th.

If the state association is successful in reaching its goal, it will mean the largest annual membership increase achieved in 26 years and that more than 100,000 New York motorists are organized for mutual benefits and protection.

Eighty-seven New York State Automobile Clubs are engaged in this campaign and prominent business men who are officers of these clubs are directing the work. Substantial prizes are offered by the State Association to the clubs making the largest percentages of increase over the quotas set.

The New York State Automobile Association is affiliated with the American Automobile Association of Washington, D. C., and working from the national organization are helping out in the state-wide drive for membership.

Increased membership will mean greater influence and more success in looking after the interest of the organized motorists, President John H. Wright of the State Association points out.

The State is approximately 2,000 miles behind in needed reconstruction of already existing highways, according to Mr. Wright, and it will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000,000 to do this work.

At the present time, the average annual appropriation for highway building and reconstruction is such that there seems to be little assurance that the state will ever catch up in this very important matter of highway reconstruction.

Therefore, it is likely that one of the important activities ahead of the New York State Automobile Association and its 87 member clubs will be a struggle to get the state to appropriate larger sums for reconstruction so that narrower roads may be widened, dangerous curves eliminated, poor materials replaced by good materials and in various other ways to bring about a general betterment of road conditions.

To be effective in this development as well as in all the plans that the Association has for the benefit of the motorist and the public, the Automobile Clubs need wide support and this is one of the principal objectives of the Membership Campaign recently launched.

This year for the first time, the New York Central railroad is offering a series of prize trips for 4-H club members to the national dairy exposition at St. Louis and to the 4-H club congress to Chicago.

OVER PRODUCTION IS FARM DANGER

Big Growth in Crop Acreage Foreseen by Economist U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The present agricultural situation has many causes, but among the most important may be mentioned excessive production, changes in diet, and changes in exports and population trend.

Increase in agricultural production has been more rapid since 1922 than in any previous period since 1900. The production of farm products between 1917 and 1926 increased nearly 14 per cent, while population increased only eight per cent.

Changes in diet affect the farm situation considerably. It takes about six pounds of corn to produce a pound of dressed pork, about 16 pounds of grain or equivalent feed to produce a pound of dressed beef; consequently, a shift from a cereal toward a meat diet means a notable increase in the consumption of farm products. The reduction in meat consumption means a reduction in crop acreage needed and may result in the increasing surplus of foodstuffs. If it continues it will aggravate the agricultural situation.

Exports of foodstuffs to Europe have decreased in recent years.

Provided immigration does not increase, it is believed that in 20 or 30 years the population will begin to decline. The effect of a declining population upon agriculture would be most serious, unless conditions should be such as to facilitate exports.

In the next decade, it is likely tractors and autos will continue to replace horses and mules. If this process of replacement goes on, there will be 15 to 20 million acres more of crop land released to feed milk and meat animals, instead of being used to feed horses and mules.

In addition, better conditions have brought about a great improvement in the amount of meat and milk produced per unit of feed consumed.

These factors are capable of increasing agricultural production more rapidly than the increase in human population, but whether they will do so no one can state positively. There are many other factors that may intervene.

All that can be said is that the approach of agricultural production and consumption on a price level that will place the farmer on a par with the average of other occupations has been retarded for nearly a decade.

Most American farmers sell on the basis of the world's market, and they seem likely to continue to sell there. They have found it profitable to do this in the past largely because of the greater use of power than in most other countries, and greater production per farmer; while in recent years they have acquired the further advantage of more efficient livestock than most foreign lands possess.

These two advantages can be further developed; and if, in addition, the prices of things farmers buy should go down, it would be quite possible for the farmer to recover economic equality with other occupations—despite the prospect of a stationary or possibly declining population 20 or 30 years from now.

Andover to Have Park and Landing Field

Plans are under way to create a private park and aeroplane landing field, on the land now owned by R. E. Shaff. This property is located one-half mile out of the corporation on the new highway towards Greenwood. It is ideally located for the purpose of public amusements, air field, gasoline service and tourist accommodations. Andover has long needed a place to hold its picnics and carnivals. This project in itself will help put Andover on a level with other towns.

The landing field under present plans, has a 630-foot run, which is on level dry and hard ground.

There is ample shale at hand to grade and surface all roads.

There will be a service station on the new road that can service cars in front and planes in the rear.

Across the road will be a tourist rest spot, with shade, tables and seats. In the rear of the flat, between the landing field and the creek, about two acres will be cleared and devoted to a park, open to the public for reunions, picnics and carnival purposes. There are now some fine elm trees growing there to provide shade. This development will take some time to complete but will be going to some extent by next year.

Wellsville has had to go more than four miles out of town to secure a suitable landing field.

ASKS CITIZENS TO WATCH LOCAL BILLS

Gov. Roosevelt Sends Open Letter to Allegany People. Fears State Reductions May NotReachThem

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, anxious that Allegany county taxpayers shall receive the full benefit of the reductions in State taxes, which has been granted them, sends an open letter to them thru the Andover News, for distribution. The Governor's letter to the News follows:

State of New York
Executive Chamber
Albany
August 23rd, 1929.

Editor,
The News,
Andover, N. Y.
Dear Sir:

I believe it of the utmost importance that the taxpayers of your county should understand how the so-called farm relief program affects them. I hope you will find the enclosed open letter to them of sufficient interest to cause you to publish it in full and as prominently as may be possible.

Cordially yours,
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

AN OPEN LETTER
State of New York
Executive Department

To the Taxpayers of Allegany County:

Because they have such a direct bearing on county and local taxes and expenditures, and so vitally affect your tax bills, I venture to present some simple figures showing what the new legislation, generally known as the Farm Relief Program, has accomplished for you.

A new law enacted this year relieves your and other counties from contributing 35 per cent. of the cost of completing the state highway system. This saves your county this year $166,460, and in ten years, it will save you $892,000.

Another new law relieves the towns and villages from contributing toward the upkeep of improved highways in the state highway system. That saves this year to taxpayers in Allegany county towns and villages $10,470. This will be a continued yearly saving.

The direct state tax on property was eliminated this year. Measured by last year's direct state tax, that saves you $23,306.

Two other laws were enacted this year which will give tax relief to all Allegany county taxpayers, but I am unable at the present moment to express in dollars and cents the benefits accruing to Allegany county. They will, however, be sizeable. One of these laws equalizes the burden of school taxes and gives relief on the state-wide basis of about $3,000,000 per year. The other reduces from ten per cent. to one per cent. the counties' shares of the cost of grade crossing eliminations. This will save, on a state-wide basis, $2,801,133 this year.

In other words, it is now known that the Farm Relief Program, which was in effect a rural tax relief program, will save to Allegany county taxpayers this year $200,236 plus sizeable amounts for rural schools and an uncertain sum for grade crossing elimination. This yearly saving will continue in succeeding years.

This is the first step, and a very definite one, as I am sure you will agree.

I am vitally interested in seeing this tax relief passed along to you. Whether or not you receive the full benefit depends upon your board of supervisors and other local officials. If this benefit is passed on, your taxes should be materially lower. If, on the other hand, the board of supervisors and town and village officials increase local expenditures for other purposes, a considerable portion or the whole of this saving may disappear.

In the final analysis, the great majority of your taxes go not into the state treasury but for local expenditures, and I am sending this letter to the taxpayers of Allegany county with the hope that they will take an increased interest in their local expenditures and, especially, in the decision reached by your local governing bodies as to how this substantial saving will be used in your county in this and succeeding years.

Respectfully yours,
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Eliminate Bad Curve

Workmen are busy installing curbing and laying concrete to widen the bad curve at the intersection of Elm and Barney streets. This has been a dangerous corner and many accidents have happened here in the past. These new improvements will tend to lessen the danger at this place.

Harrington — Farrell

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Kouch of Bath, when their sister, Miss Cecil Farrell of Olean and Clifton Harrington were united in marriage. The Rev. Clarence Sutten performed the ceremony at 6 o'clock, using the double ring service.

Miss Mabel Farrell, sister of the bride acting as bridesmaid and Charles Farrell as best man.

The bride was charmingly gowned in the new fall color of brown, with matching slippers and hat.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at Hotel Wagner and tables laid for 25.

The bride is a nurse of the Olean hospital and Mr. Harrington is a member of the staff of the Buffalo Bolt Works also a musician in that city. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Harrington will reside in Buffalo.

John J. Driscoll

The body of John J. Driscol, who died at his home in Toledo, Ohio, August 24, 1929, was brought to Wellsville Sunday morning and taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. W. J. Brown on Dyke street. Mr. Driscoll is survived by his wife, his aged mother, Mrs. D. W. Driscoll of Wellsville, two brothers: Daniel Driscoll, of Wellsville, and Jerry Driscoll of Smethport, Pa., and one sister, Mrs. W. J. Brown of Wellsville.

Deceased was an uncle of Mrs. LeRoy Brundage, Mrs. Edward Cable and John Williams of Andover.

The funeral was held from Immaculate Conception church, Monday morning, the Rev. Mr. Gallagher officiating and burial was in Sacred Heart cemetery.

William Hammell Loses Car

A Chrysler roadster, owned by William Hammell of this village, was destroyed by fire last week between Wellsville and Scio. The machine was nearly new and an overheated motor is assigned as the cause of the fire.

COME TO ANDOVER FOR LABOR DAY

Fourth Annual Celebration Under the Auspices of the Local American Legion. Three Big Days.

At the end of the "good old summer time" and as the beautiful fall months take over their activities comes, Labor Day. For the past few years Andover people have celebrated this day, given it over to the boys of the American Legion, in their endeavor to help make Andover more beautiful and therefore a more enjoyable place to live.

The committee of arrangements this year, for the community celebration from Saturday, August 31st to Monday, September 2nd, have been more than busy arranging a most interesting and entertaining program for our enjoyment. Every committee, without exception, reports good progress and that everything will be in readiness for a grand good time all three days of this celebration.

Thomas M. Lynch Post, American Legion will have full charge of all concessions and they promise plenty of fun for those who attend this community celebration.

The various stands have nearly all been sold so that the Midway attractions will be many and varied.

The Saturday program will consist of a lively midway with the usual attractions and rides.

Sunday, Sept. 1st

Co. K. Band of Hornell, which has recently received many honors and commendations at the Peekskill Camp, will give a band concert at 2 o'clock. Base ball game between Andover and the Wellsville Sinclairs at 3:30. Community service in the Auditorium, Sunday evening at 7:30. At this meeting Mrs. Alice Baker will be heard on the violin; a male quartet from Alfred will sing and Attorney Ward Hopkins of Cuba will speak.

Labor Day

The festivities on Laber Day will begin in the morning with midway attractions. Promptly at 12:30 the business men's, fraternal and fantastic parade, headed by the celebrated Co. K band will start; at 3:30 another ball game, Andover vs. Hornell Aces, a special picture show and vaudeville will be enjoyed both afternoon and evening. Following the picture show two big dances will be held. Round dances in the Auditorium and square dances in I.O.O.F. hall.

Monday noon the ladies of the Auxiliary will serve a roast pork dinner at I. O. O. F. Hall for 50c.

Four acrobats from the Keith Vaudeville circuit have been engaged to give free exhibitions on the midway Saturday evening and Monday and also at the picture shows in the Auditorium, Monday afternoon and evening.

The parade on Monday promises to be as large as ever. The Legion boys urge everyone who will to take part in the parade. Show your loyalty to the American Legion boys by decorating your automobile, bicycle, carriage, wheel-barrow or what have you, and joining the parade. Your co-operation and interest will be greatly appreciated by Thomas Lynch Post.

The proceeds for this Labor Day celebration, which that all goes to the Legion and Auxiliary, is not spent for the benefit of the Legion, but for permanent improvements to Andover, in the Legion Park, High School prizes and community Christmas tree and other civic matters.

Come, help the Legion boys. They helped you.

Chinchilla Venison

The editor's family dined on Chinchilla venison for their Sunday dinner this week. Don't think we are getting reckless with our cash, however, as the aforesaid meat came as a present from R. E. Shaff, who has a number of those delicious animals. We have sampled all kinds of meat in our time, but this Chinchilla stuff is the tenderest and most palatable meat we ever tried. Shaff is making a success of this rabbit farm of his. He is now dressing three months old stock and it has the white meat of the chicken beat a mile. One thing is strange, it seemed that the meat was all white meat. We are glad we were around with our hand out when Ralph was dressing his rabbits.

New Filling Station

Andover is to have another filling station right away. C. L. Earley has purchased a plot of ground of George Matison at the foot of Main street, where the new Greenwood road leaves Main street, and has already begun operations for the construction of a gas filling station there. Surveyors were here Saturday laying out the site.
