LISTS LEADING DAIRY COUNTIES

23 New York Counties Included in Census Announcement. — St. Lawrence Leads in Gallons.

New York State has 23 of the 100 leading dairy counties in the United States, according to a recent report of the Bureau of the Census. Wisconsin has 35 counties in the list, California and Minnesota, each has ten counties; Pennsylvania eight; Illinois, three; Iowa, Vermont and Washington each has two counties; and Massachusetts, Michigan, and New Jersey each has one county in the select list.

St. Lawrence county leads in the amount of milk sold, 56,283,937 gallons, but is second in the value of the milk, $11,807,114. Los Angeles county, California, is fourth in the number of gallons produced but leads in the value of its dairy products with $12,431,325. St. Lawrence county and Los Angeles county are the only counties in the list of 100 that received $10,000,000 or more for the milk products.

The rank in gallons produced and the value of the dairy products for New York State counties is as follows:

Jefferson county, 41,186,964 gallons, $8,570,614.
Delaware county, 40,606,811 gallons, $9,694,131.
Oneida county, 36,726,530 gallons, $7,892,777.

Four Estate Administrators Are Named

Four estates were before Surrogate Judge Walter N. Renwick last Friday, all concerned with the granting of letters of administration. No wills were admitted to probate.

Floyd G. Spencer, Friendship, son, will settle the $100 personal estate of his father, James M. Spencer, Friendship, who died May 17, 1924. He and two other sons, Homer and Virgil J. Spencer, both of Friendship are heirs.

Horace W. Davis, 205 Maple avenue, Wellsville, husband of Mary M. Davis, Wellsville, who died Dec. 13, will administer her $5,000 personal estate. A son, Matthew W. Davis, Sr., Wellsville, is another heir.

Dr. J. Floyd Sortore, Belmont, brother, will administer the $1,600 personal estate of Ella Sortore, Belmont, who died December 18th. Alice N. Sortore, mother, Belmont and Julia Bierman, sister, St. George Staten Island, are other heirs.

Howard E. Piper, 225 Main street, Wellsville, was made administrator de bonis non, for Charles D. Halliday, Wellsville, who died March 12, 1929, leaving a real property estate estimated at $1,600 in value. Two daughters, Isabelle Meade, Wellsville and Bessie H. Mansfield, Hornell; a granddaughter, Ernestine Vaughn, Wellsville, and a grandson, Herbert Vaughn, Wellsville, are the heirs.

Judicial settlements of the accounts of Alberti and Roy L. McGibney, Friendship, executors of the will of Mary E. McDowell, Friendship; and of Peter B. Loftis, Houghton, administrator of the two estates of Allen L. Jackson and Dora A. Jackson, both of Caneadea, were made. The McDowell estate was inventoried at $34,398.98.

ALLEGANY STANDS HIGH IN NRA WORK

Report of State Chairman Harriman Shows Result of Work in the County is Good.

Activities of NRA committees in 57 counties outside of the city of New York, are summarized in a report of W. A. Harriman, chairman of the President's Emergency Reemployment Campaign in this state. Allegany county is shown to be among the foremost in carrying out the movement up-state.

Twenty-seven communities in Allegany were organized with 56 committee workers. In ten communities, 438 certificates of compliance were signed; $479 was added to payrolls as a result with 35 workers more employed. A total of 3,200 consumers pledges were signed.

Members of county committees responsible for much of the organization work included George B. Booth, Jr., H. A. Geiser, Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, W. E. Seager, Neil S. Sullivan, Deforrest Truman in Allegany county.

Allegany county—Alfred, E. H. Fenner; Allentown, S. J. Cleveland; Almond, W. L. Fenner; Andover, J. H. Backus; Angelica, L. L. Stillwell; Belfast, Harold Saunders; Belmont, A. E. Guidarelli; Belvidere, C. E. Whitcomb; Black Creek, Homer L. Davis; Bolivar, L. B. Dunn; Canaseraga, Swains, Birdsall, D. E. Windsor; Caneadea, Claude Bidwell; Ceres, Fred Gleason; Clarksville, M. W. Lewis; Cuba, H. J. Demcey; Hume, Granger, Centerville, H. A. Arnold; Friendship, M. C. Mason; Little Genesee, F. M. Burdick; Nile, Olie Compton; Ohi, F. W. Fiske; Richburg, H. W. Funk; Rushford, J. A. Benjamin; Scio, E. I. Smith.

Most Leaders Re-elected

When the 30 directors of the Allegany County Farm and Home Bureau Association met in Belmont, Friday, they seemed to feel that the organization was in such good hands as to its executive committees that the way of success for 1934 led thru re-election of members serving during the past year.

The president of the association was elected at the annual meeting December 19th and is A. F. Randolph of Alfred. Mrs. Henry Smith, Fillmore, was re-elected Friday as vice president; A. Lewis Middaugh, Friendship, secretary-treasurer.

The executive committee of the Farm Bureau re-elected these leaders: Chairman, Walter B. Wright, Scio; vice chairman, Jas. A. Young, Angelica; secretary, A. Lewis Middaugh, Friendship. The three leaders for the Home Bureau were re-elected: Chairman, Mrs. Henry Smith, Fillmore; vice chairman, Mrs. Helen Dunning, Bolivar; secretary, Mrs. Walter Greene, Andover.

The executive committee in 4-H Club work, chosen Friday, was made up of Chairman, I. D. Karr, Almond and vice chairman, W. H. Garwood, Canaseraga, re-elected; and secretary Mrs. Lester Reeg, Fillmore.

The total budget adopted for Junior Extension work was set at $2,710.67. Tentative projects were adopted. During January conservation work will be stressed, along with reorganization of the county dairy club. In February the 4-H Council will meet. In March poultry project work, strawberries and gardens will be brought to the fore. April will see demonstrations with forestry seedlings and strawberries. Easter week will likely see the annual homemaking rally, a dairy club meeting and possibly the live stock banquet.

Spraying of Potatoes Has Paid Dividends to Farm Bureau Members

Approximately 40 to 50 farmers in Allegany county have made use of potato spray rings as a cheaper and more effective method of getting their potatoes sprayed these past four years.

Over 1,996 acres of potatoes according to Earl C. Foster, county agricultural agent, have been sprayed by this method in the past four years. The average increase in yield due to spraying, based upon tests conducted by the Allegany County Farm Bureau and Cornell University has been from 70 to over 100 bushels per acre. Many times blight has not been a limiting factor to yield. Insect control and increased vigor given the vines have been factors in increasing yield. This increase in yield on the 1,996 acres means an increase of $32,954 in the value of the potato crop on Allegany county farms, based upon the present price of potatoes.

Potato growers cannot afford not to spray. It pays big dividends and if you are interested in the organizing of such a spray ring, the Farm Bureau office at Belmont will be glad to give you further information.

Whitney — Marvel

Miss Doris Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Whitney of this village and Lee Marvel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Marvel of Alfred Station were united in marriage Sunday, Dec. 31, 1933 by Rev. Walter Dynes at Wyoming, N. Y.

They were attended by Miss Gladys Whitney and Boyd Rogers.

Car Caught Fire

Returning from Rochester Wednesday afternoon, the E. D. Baker Packard sedan caught fire when near Lakeville, and was then left.

The party in the car, consisting of Mrs. E. D. Baker, Mrs. Richard Harder and Mrs. A. L. Youmans were on the homeward trip after taking Miss Ella A. Baker to Rochester to take up her work in Rochester University.

The party was picked up at Lakeville by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Traster and brought to Hornell where Richard Harder met them.

E. D. Baker went to Lakeville Thursday morning to see how much of an automobile he has left. It is thought the fire caught from defective wiring.

RAMBLING 'ROUND NEW YORK with HUGH KENNY

How many thousands, who would know?—but chances on the Grand National Sweepstakes to be run in March at Liverpool have commenced to arrive in New York. In innocent looking envelopes, addressed in longhand, they come illegally thru the United States mails. And the stubs for the drawing, together with the money in payment for the chances are enclosed in plainly marked envelopes, handed over to a small army of steamship stewards and crews, each with a gratuity. They agree to mail them to headquarters from a port on the other side of the Atlantic. Receipts and acknowledgements are mailed to the United States . . . Then not a word more—till you read of the lucky ones. You don't hear of the thousands who've bought and lost. Only Joe Jinks, laundry driver. He says he'll get somebody else to take his route on Saturdays—now that he has a hundred thousand. Or Mrs. White. Yes, now that she has thirty thousand, she'll have someone come in and wash the dishes at night.

The first underground railway in New York was a 250 foot tunnel in lower Broadway, secretly excavated in 1873 to prove to objectors that an underground could be made beneath Broadway "without interfering greatly with the traffic of that busy thorofare." The first subway was opened for operation in 1904. It ran from Brooklyn Bridge to 14th Street. Excavation had started in 1900.

"So this is Broadway!" Visitors used to say it breathlessly. More now say it disappointedly. With more and more hot-dog stands, open-front-stand-up-and-eat restaurants, a flea circus, barkers, beggars, peddlers, blaring loud speakers, cloth banners, cut-outs and mechanical advertising contraptions, Broadway becomes more like Coney Island every year. With repeal, high-class restaurants may follow the finest moving picture houses to Sixth Avenue or go beyond to Fifth, leaving the garish White Way to go Coney Island as fast as it may.

BAKERS' STORE NEWS

What You Eat

The health of this nation has gotten away from the people in general and into the hands of the food sellers. We are more and more letting ourselves be led astray in the matter of eatables by the makers of this, that and the other thing, who by highly colored magazine pages and blatant radio propaganda tell us the wonderful vitamin content of breakfast foods, made largely from peanut shucks and buckwheat hulls; bread loaded with the putrefying offal from slaughter houses and pastry that is shortened with ingredients that can be digested only by stomachs having the heat range of a blow torch.

The increasing prevalence of colitis, appendicitis, stomach ulcers and cancer should be a warning to everybody that this old alimentary food way of ours is being clotted with provender that is loading the whole outfit with such an excess of carbon that it knocks even on the down grade.

How we got this way is hard to explain; these hand-me-down foods have neither flavor, savor, relish or tang; they are most expensive when you add the doctor's bill, hospital expense and time lost, not to mention what you are expected to pay the undertaker. They do reduce slightly the exercise of intellect or imagination so we must conclude that their appeal to indolence (plain laziness) exceeds all other consideration.

It's time we shook off this lethargy, awoke to your true danger and provided yourselves and the children with wholesome home made food that is fit for human consumption. Cooking and baking is more fascinating and entertaining than bridge, picture shows or the circus, besides the delight of achievement. Try it for a month and see for yourself.

You will need a new outfit of cooking tools, probably those you have are rusty and out of date—that's where we come in; things to cook with are our specialty, one of our Combination Cookers is a large part of all you will need to start the new way to a healthful, happy economical and infinitely better way of life.

The saving on what you can produce from one barrel of flour will pay for all the cooking hardware you will actually require for the next seven years.

Music

Is said to be the hand maid of heaven and of being able to lift the burden of cares from the weary and heavy laden.

Furnish that young son of yours with a mouth organ and see how it works out in real life. You may try this experiment from 10c up.

For Rent

Living apartments for a medium or small sized family; spacious lawn and big gardens.

Special low rentals for the winter months.

No Ostrich

Your drain pipes are more likely to clog in cold weather. They can't take care of the congealed grease that is constantly being flooded into them.

The ostrich is said to posses extraordinary digestion, they require no dyspepsia tablets. Your drain pipes are different, they need Trapene; its frequent use leaves sewage odor, plumbers' service and the nasty mess that always goes along with a plugged line.

A quarter spent for Trapene means at least a dollar saved for other things.

Mustard

Try Beech-Nut brand for salads or spreads and see the difference. A liberal sized jar available here at 10 cents.

Fillmore distributed 42 Christmas dinner baskets. Belmont school children brought canned and fresh foods to school for poor families. Friendship aided needy families with food gathered in Christmas barrels in retail stores.

Friendship-Bolivar stage was snow bound 50 years ago this time and could not get thru. Snowplows with big brutes of trucks behind them were not even a dream those days.

Bolivar plans big doings next Saturday when the new refinery of the Allegany Refiners, Inc., begins business. A parade, flag raising ceremony, and first public inspection of the plant is expected. When the first crude oil refining begins 30 men will be busy steadily.

Whitesville is doing something for the pork market without any prearranged effort. Dogs chased and killed three shoats.

Friendship is justly proud of its high school band which recently made its first public appearance under direction of Prof. George E. Dunbar. The organization has 44 members, some of whom are soloists.

Bolivar bought $300 worth of bottled liquor from a retail store Christmas Day, says an unconfirmed report thru relatives of the owner.

Friendship hay was bringing but $9 per ton 40 years ago.

Allegany county Erie trackmen were earning but $1.10 per day in 1893. And one of them in Belmont raised his family and kept out of debt on that low wage, so a friend remembers.

Angelica had just voted 25 years ago to build its present fine school building, estimated to cost $30,000. It was to be erected on the site of the burned Charles Hotel.

Allegany county's next term of Supreme Court will be held Monday, Jan. 22nd, when a grand jury will sift criminal matters.

Fillmore village dads surprised a number of indifferent property owners rather late one morning after a heavy snowfall and put workmen on the job shoveling off the beautiful. The cost will be assessed against the offending folks. We opine walking will be easy on sidewalks there the rest of the winter.
