Five Estates Are Acted On

Two wills were probated and letters of administration grahted on three estates at last Friday's session of Surrogate Court at the county seat.

Grace McLaughlin, daughter, New York City, and Frank McLaughlin, son, Cuba, are executors of the will of Frank J. McLaughlin of Cuba, who died February 2, leaving an estate estimated in value as $2,500 in personal and $4,000 in real property. A grandson, Victor McLaughlin, Cuba, was left $200; the son, Frank, $100; residence in Cuba to the two executors and Florence L. McCaffrey of New York, daughter, and the residue to the three children, share and share alike.

The $250 personal estate of Hattie E. Billings of Friendship, who died Aug. 16, 1933, was left to three children: Veda and Elton L. Billings of Alfred Station and Erma A. B. Burdick, Kenmore, executrix.

Delos G. Stout, Fillmore, son of Sarah J. Stout, who died July 22, 1933, will administer her $2,400 personal and $4,000 real property estate to which there are four heirs: Her husband, Andrew D., and two sons, Delos and Verne, all of Fillmore; one son, Merle, Gainesville.

Frank Schen of Belmont will administer the $1,050 personal estate of his late wife, Franc Marina Van-Campen Schen, who died January 28 leaving two sons, both minors.

Ralph J. Baxter, Belmont, was named administrator of the $200 personal and $500 real property estate of Esther Johnson, who died in Belmont, January 20. Four nephews and two nieces are heirs: Orrin Hand, Belmont; Charles H. Hand, Scio; Simeon Hand, Montour Falls; Will Gardner, Endicott and Hornell; Viola Skinner, Perry; and Tenora Bush, Brooklyn.

Judicial settlements were made with John A. Benjamin, administrator of the estate of the late Sarah A. Green of Rushford; and Clifford W. Watson, Fillmore, executor of the will of Dwight C. Hammond, town of Hume.

Five-County Social Conference

Allegany county will entertain, at Alfred University, Thursday, April 5th, a group of 300 social workers, persons connected with the courts, welfare officers, teachers interested in social problems and others from five counties, Steuben, Livingston, Wyoming, Cattaraugus and Allegany, as well as some leading social workers from other nearby cities.

Tentative plans were discussed at a gathering of workers connected with the New York State Conference of Social Workers, held February 7 at Hotel Fossett, Wellsville, and attended by Miss Mary R. Holsinger of Albany, executive secretary of the organization.

The gathering in April will be addressed by outstanding speakers from Albany, New York City and elsewhere. Efforts are being made to secure the presence and speeches by William Hodson, president of the State Conference of Social Workers and of David C. Adie, commissioner of social welfare of New York State.

The gathering will be one of the biggest events of the kind brought to Allegany county in some years.

Mrs. L. C. LeClere, executive secretary of the Allegany County Public Health and Welfare Association, is a member of the executive committee planning for the conference.

Blessed Sacrament Card Party

A very pleasant evening was reported by those in attendance at the card party Tuesday evening at the Blessed Sacrament Hall. Mrs. Orla Baker, chairman of the entertaining committee was assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. Margaret Cable, Mrs. Joseph Lynch, Mrs. Charles Lynch, Mrs. T. K. Regan, Misses Mary Guinn and Irene Dougherty.

The prize list awarded was a woolen blanket to Mrs. Nellie Middleton of Hornell; door prize, Paul Geer.

Contract bridge, high score, Mrs James P. Cannon; second high, Mrs. John Common. Auction bridge, ladies' high score, Mrs. Kenneth Alvord; second high, Miss Pauline Martin; men, high score, Walton Clair; second high, Gell Reynolds. OUR CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. Frank H. Biabee, Pastor

In these depressing days, the question of value is a hard question to answer. Even the wisest men have often been mistaken and have suffered great loss. The most important question is about the value of yourself. "What Are You Worth?" This question will be considered Sunday morning.

The Missionary stories in the Sunday School are very interesting. Stay to Sunday School this Sunday morning and hear about "The House That Mary Built."

Keep up your pledge for church support. Every one is needed.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL

Winfred C. Pero, Minister

We are going to feel better, have more hope, faith and love in this Easter Season and again prove to us what the spirit of Christ means to us.

Our Morning Worship will begin at 10:30.

Main feature will be movie slides shown by Allen Corwin of Wellsville. This production is from Eastman's Packing Film Co., and is along strictly education lines. Gives adults and children a living life-long impression of Washington's character and deeds

Supper and entertainment 35c; children under 12, 25c; supper alone 25 and 15c, entertainment alone 15 and 5c.

Good Milk, Prices Fair To All, Is Aim Of State Control Board

Consumers Also Gain When Distributors Are Treated Fairly And Farmers Receive A Just Return

By CHARLES H. BALDWIN
Commissioner, Department of Agriculture and Markets Albany, New York

Keystone
The Milk Control Board in Session: Left to right—Kenneth F. Fee, director; Charles H. Baldwin, Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets, and Dr. Thomas Parran, Jr., State Commissioner of Health.

A FAIR minimum price and a good quality of milk for the consumer is the aim of the State Milk Control Board when it establishes the minimum price dairymen are to receive for their product and distributors are to get for delivering it.

Ninety cents per hundredweight, or about two cents a quart, the blended price which producers received last March, previous to the creation of the Milk Control Board, was so low that if it had continued the result would have been a disruption in the entire milk producing and milk distributing machinery of the State.

Fair Treatment For All

This would have been disastrous for consumers, as well as for the other parties concerned. In order to make it possible for producers to live and continue their service, they must have a fair price for their product. Distributors must likewise be treated fairly. A fair deal throughout is what the board is endeavoring to establish. It has set the minimum price to consumers, producers, retailers and others for the various classes of milk. And it is interesting and satisfactory to note that the present retail price is not more than the 1932 price and is quite substantially below prices previous to that date.

Did you ever consider what an enormous task it is to place upon a every doorstep of each of the 2,500,000 families of the Metropolitan Area every morning before breakfast a bottle of fine, clean, sweet milk or cream? The milk required can no longer be produced just outside the city. To meet the enormous demand, the dealers must, at certain times of the year, draw upon a supply of milk as far distant from New York City as 350 or 400 miles.

Cost of Distributing Milk

Expensive sanitary equipment, immense cooling, pasteurizing, storage, transportation and distributing facilities must be provided. Approximately 76,000 well-equipped dairy farms in New York State alone, containing 2,000,000 dairy cows, with all the feed, farmers and their help, are required to insure consumers their needed supply of this life-sustaining fluid.

All of this vast system represents a tremendous investment and cost of operation. It is a complicated system in which many divergent interests are represented. To harmonize these various interests, to treat all fairly, to keep the farmer producing an adequate supply, to get it distributed at a reasonable price, and to insure the consumer a certain and high-quality product every day, is the complicated problem with which the Milk Control Board is engaged.

Home Bureau Unit Schedules

Next week's unit meetings of the Allegany County Home Bureau for Miss Elda Jane Barker's afternoon meetings, demonstrations of "Living Room Accessories," all held at 1:30 p. m., are as follows: Monday, Feb. 19, Andover; Tuesday, Feb. 20, Bolivar; Wednesday, Feb. 21, Wiscoy; Thursday, Feb. 22, Houghton; Friday, Feb. 23, Scio.

Mrs. E. L. Brandes of Scio, county leader, will visit the new Potdonque unit on Thursday, Feb. 22 at 10:30 a. m., for an all-day meeting and demonstration on "Reconditioning the Family Wardrobe."

To clean a percolator that has become stained inside with coffee, fill the pot nearly full of boiling water and add a teaspoon of salt. Let it boil a few minutes and then wash out with soap and water.

The small screw-top jars in which mayonnaise and various other food products are packed make convenient containers for next summer's picnic foods as well as for school lunches.

Attorney Mira Diffin, who has been seriously ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. Nellie Monaghan at Arkport, and at St. James Mercy hospital in Hornell since Christmas, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home in this village.

Andover has one honest kid at any rate. He picked up a sum of money recently on the street. He could have kept it without any questions being asked, but he did not. He took it in to the place of business near which it was found and advertised it for a week. Wish we had more such fine youngsters.

The Seventh Day Baptist Ladies' Aid Society held their February business and social meeting at the home of their president, Mrs. Fred Stebbins of Greenwood street Tuesday afternoon. Several items of business and plans for the coming year's work in the society were considered, followed by a social hour and a fine supper served by the hostess and her assistants.

Observe Lincoln's Birthday

Lincoln's Birthday was observed at the Baptist Church Monday evening in a unique manner. A collection of hand made quilts on display in the church parlor proved of special interest. They were arranged in groups, ancient and modern. Several of which around 90 years old were in splendid state of preservation and marvelous from the point of workmanship.

A New England dinner was served in the church dining room. The waitresses wearing "Ye olde tyme gowns." Mrs. John Lever in charge of the quilt display was especially attractive wearing her grandmother's wedding gown and her husband's grandmother's wedding bonnet. At 7:15 in the church auditorium the following program was presented:

Introductory remarks and prayer by the pastor, Rev. John McIntosh.

Piano solo, introducing several old songs by Miss Minnie Clair.

Vocal duet, "Silver Bells of Memory," Marion and Grace McIntosh.

"Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," male quartette, with tableau.

Cello solo, Miss Florence Williams

Song, "Once I was a Maiden," six girls, quaintly costumed.

A collection of old time hymns and songs were pleasingly rendered by Mrs. John Lever, Misses Inez Youmans, Alice Pope and Mary Lehman, Messrs. Frank Weinhauer, Raymond Lehman and Howard Baker.

Superintendent W. Gates Pope gave a very able and comprehensive address on the life of Lincoln.

The decision of the judges, Mrs. Louise Jobson, Mrs. Burr Ruger and Mrs. J. Harvey Backus was announced as follows: First prize for most attractive modern quilt, Mrs. C. L. Earley. First prize for old pieced quilt, Mrs. John Common. First prize, for old applique quilt, Mrs. C. H. Watson.

The Star Spangled Banner, with piano and cello accompaniment was sung as a closing number.

Old Allegany Heart Throbs

Fillmore is more confident than in some time that the Pennsylvania-North Genesee street grade crossing is soon to be eliminated and one mile of improved road built, awaiting construction for five years. Mayor C. H. Mowers and Supervisor Q. J. Smith presented petitions from the Chamber of Commerce and town and village boards to the Public Service Commission yesterday, following a conference of state highway officials, village officers and business men.

Cuba's contribution to the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis amounted to $78.18 net. The total receipts from and donations to the Presidential Ball were $180.

Clarksville's oil workers are helping with the drilling program in the Allentown field.

Belmont Boy Scouts are promoting a Father and Son Banquet for the evening of Feb. 22nd.

Allegany county towns having more than one bank only number four. They are Wellsville, Cuba, Bolivar and Belfast, each having two financial institutions.

Belmont village dads will hold a tax sale March 5th of property on which village taxes are unpaid.

Bolivar's supervisor, Albert L. Shaner, is passing his annual sojourn at St. Petersburg, Fla., and writes home that nice oranges can be bought for 50 cents per bushel, grapefruit as low as ten cents per dozen. The temperature is 75 to 80 and tourists plenty.

Belfast's well known attorney, Edward Rutherford, was reported Day last week's Blaze as up and dressed about his home every day now. Friends over the county are glad to hear such good news.

Bolivar Central School pupils, or a part of them, were recently taken thru the postoffice there and carriers came to the school to explain the workings of the postal service.

Friendship has a director, Supervisor Francis M. Alvord, in the newly organized four-county Production Credit Association, to loan to farmers.

Distributing Surplus Cereal and Eggs

Distribution of surplus foods, purchased by the federal government to aid the agricultural situation, continues in Allegany county, with added supplies now available

Milk Wheato, a cereal in two-pound packages, of which 4,528 pounds is available in this county, is now being given out on orders from town welfare officers. A supply of 1,290 dozen eggs has also been made available. These foods are being distributed thru the nine Market Basket stores within the county.

During January, 808 pounds of butter were distributed to 395 families, and 697 pounds of salt pork to 96 families.

The giving out of these supplies has not been allowed to interfere with the use of provisions purchased on orders given out cannot be decreased because of their distribution. They are extra food to the families to whom given.

Collector's Notice

The undersigned collector of the Town of Andover, county of Allegany, N. Y., hereby gives notice that she has received the tax roll and warrant for the collection of state and county taxes, assessed upon such roll, at the office of Horan's Hardware, in the Village of Andover, N. Y., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays of each week from 9 o'clock a. m., to 12 M. and from 1 o'clock p. m., to 4 o'clock p. m., for the next 30 days at one per cent.

The Family DOCTOR
JOHN JOSEPH CARNES M.D.

GOOD TREATMENT

Very few are the people who escape nasal infections in winter. Such distressful conditions, too. To feel "shivery" for a day—you just can't get warm. You ache in the muscles a little and sneeze at intervals—slight burning in the nasal passages. Oh, you know what I mean—you are "taking cold." You hate to hunt up the doctor when you are not exactly sick, and yet—

Well, the time is ripe for action on your part. If you're going to try to fight it out yourself.

If your bowels are not regular, take mild laxatives to start things. Milk of magnesia, mineral oil, cascara—anything that is not severe in effect; harsh medicines are not necessary.

Stay in the house for a day or more; keep the surface of your body warm and comfortable; eat soft, well-cooked food, with plenty of fruit; drink twice as much water as you formerly did.

Get this one bottle of medicine: Have the druggist put two drams of turpentine in a two-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with oil of Eucalyptus. Label it "for external use."

Take this bottle to your bedroom—wet a cloth with it and pin around your neck, so that the vapor from it will enter your nostrils all night long. Breathe all of it you can. There is nothing better for nasal germs than oil of eucalyptus—an old, respectable drug, made from the eucalyptus or "fever-tree" of the south.

This should break up any ordinary cold. But, if your trouble started in with a pronounced chill, see your doctor at once, and obey him faithfully. Don't depend on home remedies. Cold has long been known as "checked secretions." Start those secretions—perspiration, bowels and kidneys—and correct your cold.

The darkest colors in a room belong on the floor, and the lightest on the ceiling. This gives the feeling of weight or solidity underfoot.

Unofficial Inflation
An advertisement tells of how to make money at home.

Hear This
You young fellows who like to make things, this is your chance to join the National Home Workshop Guild, a young organization formed to stimulate the exercise of home craftsmanship; learn how to use tools and make things right.

It furnishes a college course in manuel training, incorporated and has as its Advisory Council some of the highest class architects, contractors, builders, engineers and technicians in the country, whom members of the Guild are free to call upon for any help to solve any problem.

This Home Workshop fraternity was first promoted and incorporated in the State of Illinois, with headquarters at Rockford, but the interest in and enthusiasm for its purpose has spread so rapidly that many local clubs have already been granted charters and the secretary reports that he has more than 1,000 applications for charters and requests for information in his office at this moment.

The home office has prepared a bulletin that gives information in detail. It is interesting and valuable, but sent free to any person on request; address "National Home-Workshop Guild, Inc., Rockford, Ill."

Here is a splendid opportunity for some alert young man to gather a group who may be taught the nucleus of almost any trade or mechanical profession.

If you are interested but hesitate, give us your name and we will make the application for you—but don't delay; you will be answered in order, but thousands of requests are going in every day.

Furniture Handles
Draw pulls, window stops, castor holes, nicks and crack, all repaired and made tight with Plastic Wood from the can like butter, when exposed, hard as rock.
Liberal sized sealed cans 35c.

Rubber Sponges
Tougher, larger, more flexible—but the price remains the same—10 cents.

H-T-H-15
This Chlorine cleanser and disinfectant now offered in a 50-cent size which will make two gallons of standard solution.

As a cleanser and germ killer, it is positive and dependable. Use it in the home, stable and poultry house; protects from germ diseases and reduces the tendency to colds. A small amount in the water used for washing dishes and the dairy utensils; also pour some into the drain pipe from the kitchen sink.

As a bleach it has no equal; will remove stains from rayon, cotton or linen fabrics, also cleans glass, tile or porcelain. Keep a can handy for home use in the kitchen and bath room. Try it on our say so, your money back if you don't find that it is worth to you double its cost. A big can, three times as much—$1.00.

There's a Big Difference
Some louse killers (so-called) with which we have had experience just turned out one of life's failures—cheap in price, worthless in quality. Not so with Gray Lawn Louse Chase, it starts and completes the job.

Feeding stock that harbor lice is throwing half of it in the fire; that is, unless you are fond of lice. Get a chart and a can of Gray Lawn, it is hot stuff, handles more comfortably on a cold day—this weather is just right to start operations.

Speaking of Russia
You may be able to learn their language thru a correspondence course, but when it comes to shaving your own face, you must acquire the knack by practice and the handling of the tools yourself.

You will get onto the job much more quickly and with less damage to your phiz with Blue Gillette Blades.

Now selling at five for 25c—your 60 cent dollar will buy four packages and a 2c stamp.

Segal Razors
For fastidious shavers. All in one piece. Blades easily changed. Neat, sanitary—50c.

Low Visibility
Garters are back to their old job of holding up stockings instead of traffic.
