

THE ANDOVER ADVERTISER.

Local Intelligence.

The first full of the season left Ole on Saturday last for Cincinnati.

Rev. Van Allen preached at the M. E. Church on Sunday evening last.

If you want a good cigar go to Benson & O'Connell's Drug Store.

Don't fail to read the advertisement headed "H. J. and Co."

Gen. Torrey has just added 1600 lbs. of lard to his stock of provisions.

Go to Benson & O'Connell's for your wall paper.

Samson county claims to be the home county of the State, having gained a Republican Supremacy.

Mrs. E. Sprague of Lynden, is the owner of a pair of two year old steers, that weigh 2,600 pounds.

Call at the Receptor Meat Market when you want fresh meat, fresh fish, corn beef, &c.

Daniel Lewis, A. B., M. D., has become associated with Dr. W. W. Cranford in the medical practice.

If you want a good shave or your hair dressed, call at A. O. Gendron's Barber Shop.

Good Day's Work.—Mr. Bradford, of the Receptor, on the 24th ult., brewed 200 bottles of his ten laurels.—Receptor.

Hon. Boardman Smith, Hon. J. H. Platt, C. N. Flanagan, and A. C. Barney, will please accept our thanks for favors in the way of Public Documents.

A telegram from Washington says that Commissioner Plummer has decided that stamps are not required upon renewals of fire insurance policies.

If you want a horse to ride or drive go to the livery, and see about two or three horses running around town to borrow one.

If you want a nice, tidy harness go to J. M. Goodwin, second door south of the corner of Main & Greenwood streets.

The well known Regalia are offered for sale at the lowest prices, at the corner of Main & Greenwood streets.

The Morris-Land Company of New Jersey has leased its works and facilities to the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company for a term of nine hundred and ninety-nine years.

Is there anyone by which we can have the cross walks on Main street repaved so that women, at least, can cross the street without getting stuck in the mud? Who are the responsible parties?

Four of the most war of Andover happened in the town of Andover, which were respectively, 253, 222, 214, 204 pounds, or collectively 955 pounds, an average of 238 3/4 lbs.

Every Saturday keeps up its high character for elegant illustrations.—The last number of the eighth volume, published by the Boston Herald, is a fine specimen of the art. Osgood & Co., publishers, Boston, Mass.

The Albany Democrat has its "inside" printed at New York. A prominent business man of that town remarked in our hearing, the other day, that a number of Wellsville gentlemen were of opinion that Bro. Williams had better get the outside printed there also.

False Report.—The statement published in the Receptor of last week, that the firm of Stillman & Verrill, of Wellsville, had been discontinued, is without foundation. They are still doing a lively business in Brown's Block, and intend to keep right on.

Lost.—On Saturday, March 11th, a black and white dog, about the size of a spaniel, was lost by the owner. Any person finding it and bringing it to the office will be liberally rewarded.

Death From Falling.—A little boy named Frederick, Scott, aged two years and five months, was killed by falling from a high place on Thursday evening, and before the fact was discovered he had choked off the brimstone end of his life. He was soon after taken sick and died from the effects of the poison about noon on Saturday.

Alfred N. Y., March 10, 1871.

The following is a list of the names of the members of the literary society of Alfred University, as given by the Secretary, Mr. J. H. Gardner, on Tuesday evening March 14th.

The actors were delegated from each of the four Societies, which brought out the best talent of the whole school. The roads were bad and the evening dark, but many persons from around were present, and the large hall was filled.

The wall above the stage was decorated by the banners of the societies, flags, &c. The Alfred Cornet Band was on hand, in fine condition and assisted a well selected choir to furnish music.

After prayer and singing the names of the societies were called, and each society responded by a delegate, with an appropriate sentiment. The respondents were:

Allegians.—T. L. Gardner.

Alfredians.—Miss Mary E. Darrow.

Ophidians.—Ray Robinson.

Wendians.—Miss Mary E. Simpson.

W. D. Williams, Allegian, delivered an oration on the subject of kindness, mainly noticeable for its didactic style, easy expression and good delivery.

Miss Mollie Setchell, Alfredian, who has been devoting her entire time for the past winter to the study of elocution, followed with recitations from authors, both grave and gay. Her delivery was highly entertaining, showing a fine and patient drill, a voice of great compass and culture, and good elocutionary powers generally—as she

THE ANDOVER ADVERTISER.

Local Intelligence.

Nice sugar cured hams at Harman's. Buy your flour at Harman's.

Livingston county park at Harman's. Pans at cost at Harman's.

Reggie & Grandall trim all of their wall paper before it leaves the store.

Sheetings of all brands by the yard, piece or bolt at the Regulators.

If you want to spend a pleasant hour or so, call on Geo. Pursh at the American Hotel, and hire a horse and carriage for a drive.

It will pay you to call and examine them.

He has also on hand a splendid assortment of Parlor Furniture which he will sell at prices as low as any establishment in Western New York.

The last number of Appleton's Journal has an eight page illustrated article about "The New York House of Refuge," the first chapters of "Mortimer House," a new story, a full page picture of the "Old Mill," alone worth a year's subscription, besides a great variety of miscellaneous reading. It is a superb number.

We hear from all quarters, good words for our new Landlord, L. D. Grandall, of the American Hotel, and certainly no man is more deserving.

His table is always furnished with the best of the country affairs, and served in the very best manner. The house is orderly at all times of day and night. He has also pleasant servants to wait upon the traveling public. Those visiting Andover will find it to their advantage to give him a call.

Two in original packages, direct from the importers. Merchants and friends of families would do well to call and examine before purchasing, as our stock is undoubtedly the largest ever brought to this market. We keep five hundred to one thousand choice always on hand to select from at Simon's.

Our lamp is again suffering from a severe attack of poetical fever. Hear him:

"I would not die in Spring time, When the flowers are in bloom, And the birds are singing sweet, For I should miss the spring breeze, And the soft, sweet rain."

In Spring's busy weather To fish, and play base ball, And a man who wants to die in Spring Is just no man at all.

In another column we have found the publication of Grandall & Brinard, which will be in effect on and after the first day of April, 1871. This firm have decided that on and after that date, they will only sell goods for ready pay, and their prices will be accordingly, at least 10 per cent below credit prices. Give them a call and see, gentlemen, that you will endorse their Ready Pay system.

A large stock of boots and shoes at Harman's.

A splendid brown sugar for 12-1/2 cents per pound at Harman's.

Nice roll butter at Harman's.

Buffalo robes and horse blankets at cost at Harman's.

NOTICE.—All persons having an account with J. C. Dyer of more than six months standing, are requested to call and settle the same within thirty days. At the expiration of that time, measures will be taken for the collection of all such unsettled accounts and notes which are now due, unless previously arranged.

March 15th, 1871. W. P. Q.

Correspondence.

Joint Session of the Literary Society of Alfred University.

ALFRED, N. Y., March 10, 1871.

"One of the richest literary entertainments that the Alfredians have enjoyed for a long time, was given to the Chapel of the University on Tuesday evening March 14th.

The actors were delegated from each of the four Societies, which brought out the best talent of the whole school. The roads were bad and the evening dark, but many persons from around were present, and the large hall was filled.

The wall above the stage was decorated by the banners of the societies, flags, &c. The Alfred Cornet Band was on hand, in fine condition and assisted a well selected choir to furnish music.

After prayer and singing the names of the societies were called, and each society responded by a delegate, with an appropriate sentiment. The respondents were:

Allegians.—T. L. Gardner.

Alfredians.—Miss Mary E. Darrow.

Ophidians.—Ray Robinson.

Wendians.—Miss Mary E. Simpson.

W. D. Williams, Allegian, delivered an oration on the subject of kindness, mainly noticeable for its didactic style, easy expression and good delivery.

Miss Mollie Setchell, Alfredian, who has been devoting her entire time for the past winter to the study of elocution, followed with recitations from authors, both grave and gay. Her delivery was highly entertaining, showing a fine and patient drill, a voice of great compass and culture, and good elocutionary powers generally—as she

THE ANDOVER ADVERTISER.

Local Intelligence.

John—A True Tale.

The following is a correspondence to the Andover Advertiser of last week.

John D. lives on his farm in Coe, John is very fat for a farmer, weighing over two hundred pounds. John tells many acres or causes the same to be done at his will and pleasure. John peels hickory for hard labor, but enjoys seeing others work and loathing the process. John pays well, three, well, and prosper, but also for his reputation. John does not take the Andover Advertiser, or any other newspaper, but he is a subscriber to the Andover Advertiser. John has been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John returned to the Express office, paid over the money and with his "crown diamonds" close under his arm walked off high up in the air. John quickly returned and a shrike. John opened his box and disclosed a sword and shavings—"only this and nothing more." John smiled something and sighed. John looked at the sword and shavings and said, "John, I have been a victim to the swindler's art. John sent his little money (eleven and a quarter dollars) to his "partner" in New York, for an assignment of the "quest" warranted to pass at genuine. John waited their coming impatiently for many days. John dreamed about Greenleafs and "the bank experts." On Friday last John's money, John came, and with it came John down to Coe. John went to the Express office and called on Mr. Merrill, the agent, for his package. It was directed as follows:

G. O. D. Coe, N. Y.

Not saying that amount of legal tender about his clothes, John retired for meditation. John perished freely, thought of stamps and South. John called on Smith, John sent John D. Coe, for cash sent $84. John