3 Fascinating Books Full of
THE NEWEST IDEAS
on Entertaining, Cake Making, Marketing and Meal Planning
ALL 3 FOR ONLY 25¢

Supplementary to the 12-Lesson Course in the National Cooking School appearing each week in our columns, the Andover News also brings you these three marvelous new books, which every woman will find indispensable. All three are written by Katherine Caldwell, America's foremost Cooking authority.

PLANNING THE PARTY—Where is the woman who is not eager to know the newest things relating to every entertainment occasion—what to do and how to do it—what to serve and how to prepare it—whether it is for a simple bridge party or an elaborate wedding reception. It is indeed the book of the smart hostess. It makes entertaining easy.

MARKETING AND MEAL PLANNING—What to buy, how to buy it and how to make the best use of it. How to plan meals wisely. What foods are regulating. What foods are building. About the vitamins. How to economize. When there are children. When constipation enters. When they would change weight. Every subject in this book is of importance.

THE EASY WAY COOK BOOK—This and this alone is a recipe book, but its presentation of the subject represents an entirely new departure. A book full of unusual cakes presented in a manner never before attempted. It is simplicity brought to a new degree.

ANDOVER MAN STATE INVESTIGATOR

John J. Oakes Appointed as Investigator to Enforce Engineers' Licensing Law —Five Others Named.

John J. Oakes of Andover was honored this week by being designated as one of six special investigators in New York State to investigate and report to the State Department any unlawful practice with regard to engineering. A news release from the New York State Society of Professional Engineers, Inc. follows:

Albany, Sept. 28.—At a meeting held at the State Education Building at Albany, Friday, six professional engineers named by the New York State Society of Professional Engineers were appointed by the State Education Department to serve as special investigators in the enforcement of the Engineers' Licensing Law. The appointees are:

Fletcher H. Burke, Buffalo.
Howard S. Thomas, Rochester.
Harold J. Dawson, Syracuse.
John J. Oakes, Andover.
Howard W. Danfield, New York.
George A. Dorfman, Brooklyn.

These special investigators will serve under the direction of Charles B. Heisler, director of the Division of Professional Licensure of the State Education Department, and James O. Hoyle, investigator for the professions. Their duties will be to investigate any reported violations of Article 55 of the Education Law, which regulates the practice of professional engineering and which declares it unlawful to practice engineering or to use the designation engineer without a professional engineers' license.

The meeting, at which the six special investigators were inducted into office, was attended by representatives of the State Education Department, the State Board of Examiners for Professional Engineers, including Dr. D. B. Steinman, chairman of the Board of Examiners; Roy G. Finch, Clifford Paul Morriss and Arnold G. Chapman, president of the State Society.

"This meeting," said Mr. Chapman, "cements the co-operative relations between the State Society of the Professional Engineers and the State Education Department. The State Society welcomes the opportunity to assist in the enforcement of the law for the protection of the safety of the public and the good name of the engineering profession."

Major and Mrs. Kemp Locate Here Permanently

Andover people are much pleased to learn that Major and Mrs. Elmer Kemp have decided to locate permanently in Andover, having the past week purchased the Glenn Ruger residence on Dyke street, where they will establish their home.

Both Major and Mrs. Kemp are Andover people and have always maintained their residence here, while for many years in the service of the United States Army.

For a number of years Major Kemp has been in charge of the ammunition depot at Fort Wingate, New Mexico.

Over 30 years ago, Major Kemp enlisted in the army as a private and in the years has worked his way up thru the lines until he was retired but a few weeks ago as a major in the U. S. Army. He saw active service all these years not only at home but in foreign fields and his many Andover friends are proud of the splendid record he has made in his army service. He is the son of the late Ira Kemp of Andover. His mother, Mrs. Thomas Swain and four brothers live in Andover.

Mrs. Kemp is the daughter of the late Lawrence and Flora Wilcox Bess, an alumni of Andover High School and an accomplished woman.

The acquisition of this splendid family to our community will add greatly to the pleasure of our social life. We all bid Major and Mrs. Kemp a hearty welcome as residents.

Celebrate 55th Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. George Alvord of Andover celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary at their home Friday, September 28th. Mr. and Mrs. Alvord were married at Independence, N. Y., on Sept. 28, 1879.

Mrs. C. M. Karnes of Bradford, Pa., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvord, entertained with a family dinner, a company of friends and relatives being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvord have the congratulations of the community for many more years of continued health and happiness.

ALLENTOWN YOUTHS KILLED BY CAR

Roy Millard and Laurence Halsey Struck by Car While Riding Bicycle Near Allentown.

An unfortunate accident last Sunday evening resulted in the death of two young lads in Allentown. Roy C. Millard, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David D. Millard and Laurence Halsey, 16 of Allentown. Millard was riding a bicycle and Halsey, it is believed, was behind the machine pushing it along the cement highway when they were struck by a car driven by Henry Gent of Wellsville near the Fred Boyd residence in Allentown. Millard was killed instantly, his skull fractured and wounds over the entire body.

Halsey suffered a fracture of the skull and fractured leg and died a few hours later at Jones Memorial hospital, Wellsville. The accident occurred at 9 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Gent, being blinded by the lights of an approaching car, did not see the boys on the bicycle, which, according to reports, did not have any light

State police and coroner investigations placed no blame upon Gent. The coroner rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Comrade John Deming Celebrates 89th Birthday

Comrade John Dehing, Andover's only surviving G. A. R. member, was receiving congratulations Tuesday, October 2nd from his many friends on his 89th birthday. He was also the recipient of many cards and letters from friends away.

Those from out of town to congratulate him in person were, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Deming of Friendship, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Collins and son Henry of Scio. The party brought their dinner and enjoyed it with him.

The following poem in his honor was written for the occasion by Mrs. John Vincent:

To Father

You say you were born in '45, that's
In fact, there's not so many that live that long, you know.
When you were young and studied geography and such,
The books were because folks
didn't write so much.
The Civil War had not been fought,
the country still had slaves;
Saloons were very common and Indians were called braves.
When you rode out so long ago a buggy was the style,
Or maybe a Democrat wagon, dragging mile by mile.
You walked to church an Sunday on a very muddy way,
But studied the same old Bible that people do today.
And when along came the telephone you thought it very great
To talk across a wire, even tho you paid the rate.
The electric light and phonograph
by Edison were wrought;
And you have seen them come in use, as common as a thought.
Then horses seemed so very slow,
that someone went so far
As to harness up an engine, and put it in a car.
The automobile almost turned the country upside down,
And old and young together now
travel into town.
And movies too, and the radio, a score or more of things
Have started out since you did, and moved as tho on wings.
And now the aeroplane has come to take you for a ride,
So very fleet, so very high, I'm sure you will decide
That of all the inventions which you have lived to note,
It's hard to say for which one you would really rather vote.
For 89 years is a long long time to have lived and loved and lost,
And found and thought and studied and learned, what life does really cost.
So as you face another year as you stand at its open door,
I can only wish for you the same as I've often wished before—
May the year you face be just as kind as the years behind have been,
And may 89 bring you joy and peace and love from all your kin.
For no matter whether old or young or wise or grave or gay,
The years roll on and bring new sights and thoughts which we carry away,
With much love,
ROSE B. VINCENT.

ROOSEVELT ASKS INDUSTRIAL TRUCE

Trial Peace Sought to Spur Business—N.R.A. to Stay He Says in Radio Talk, Sunday Night.

Washington, Oct. 1.—President Roosevelt called upon industry and labor today to quit fighting and join him in carrying the nation on to permanent recovery.

In a nation-wide radio address from the White House Sunday night the chief executive proposed a month of conferences between himself, employers and workers to set up trial peace periods in industries and in return pledged a fair profit system for business.

The President declared such a peace agreement would put men to work and start factory wheels turning without causing either side to actually surrendee any of the weapons of industrial warfare.

With this proposal came the clear-cut pronouncement that the "New Deal" is here to stay.

NRA will be permanent and new legislation to determine its future form now is being worked out, the President said.

Turns Fire on Critics

Mr. Roosevelt turned a blistering fire on critics of his policies. He said of those he described as "frightened by boldness and cowed by the necessity of making decisions":

"Now that these people are coming out of their storm cellars they forget there ever was a storm."

Again, replying to charges the New Deal ignores the Constitution, the President lashed back with:

"We are not frightened by reactionary lawyers or political editors."

Mr. Roosevelt scathingly denounced statements of critics that America, "like European countries," must always have large numbers of unemployed.

He added:

"As for this country, I stand or fall on my refusal to accept as a necessary condition of our future a permanent army of unemployed."

Replies on Regimentation

The President said that the plan must be to "arrange our national economy to end our present unemployment as soon as we can and then take wise measures against its return."

The President continued:

"I do not want to think that it is the destiny of any American to remain permanently on relief rolls."

Mr. Roosevelt swung back at the charges of regimentation and abolition of personal liberty under the New Deal with this statement:

"I am not for a return to that definition of liberty under which for many years a free people were being gradually regimented into the service of the privileged few. I prefer and I am sure that you prefer that broader definition of liberty under which we are moving forward to greater freedom, to greater security for the average man than he has ever known before in the history of America."

Will Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Spicer of Whitesville will be celebrated at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Spicer this Friday, October 5th.

A 1 o'clock dinner will be served the children and grandchildren. There are seven sons and two daughters, who with their families will be in attendance, also Mrs. Spicer's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fish of Coudersport, Pa. During the serving of the dinner music will be furnished by three grandsons of the bride and groom of 50 years, the Messrs. Robert Spicer, Jr., Karlton Beach and Stanford Sovocool. The table decorations are to be in gold and white and the color scheme carried out attractively throut the parlors.

The gift to the bride and groom is to be a beautiful set of China dishes.

To Form Bowling League

Those who are interested in bowling or wish to join a team in the local bowling league are requested to meet at Wade's Restaurant next Monday evening at 7:30 to form such league.

NEW COUNTY RELIEF PLAN

County Divided Into Four Districts With Investigator for Each District.—Re-investigate Relief.

Allegany county has been districted into four divisions in planning the change from town to county administration of welfare ordered at the September 19th meeting of the Board of Supervisors, according to Dr. Ivan G. Howe of Angelica, county commissioner of public welfare. Each district will have in it a trained investigator acceptable to state relief authority, who will confer with county authorities on salary and transportation facilities. Seventy-five per cent of investigators' wages will be paid by the TERA.

The investigator will be responsible in his or her district for home relief, medical care, hospitalization cases, etc., also for distribution of federal surplus foods which are expected to be furnished throut the winter. As quickly as the new system of distribution of aid is well worked out each investigator will establish headquarters within the district where hours will be set for consultation with applicants for relief. In Wellsville the present welfare office, with Clifford W. Worden as clerk, will be continued for a time at least and relief orders for five towns will be issued there. Relief orders for the remaining towns of the county will be issued from the Belmont office of the commissioner at regular intervals.

At the request of the State TERA all relief cases over the county now being aided will be re-investigated in order that all may be put upon the same fair basis, and all entitled to assistance will be given it in an even scale. During the administration of town relief other than fully trained investigators passed upon applications for help and there necessarily has not been the same uniformity in award as is required by state relief officers

In order to quickly put all applicants upon the same basis, three investigators have been added to the staff in the county commissioner's office until the re-investigation is completed when it is expected two such workers may be able to cover the county.

Miss Christine Lewis, Belmont, who has been connected with the commissioner's office for several months and did employment work before coming into Allegany county, has been assigned to the Alma, Andover, Independence, Wellsville and Willing district.

Charles Eldredge of Angelica, who has been town welfare officer there for the past year and has had some clerical experience, will work in the towns of Allen, Burns, Birdsall, Centerville, Caneadea, Granger, Grove, Hume and Rushford.

Miss Charry Woodard of Bolivar, a graduate of the Syracuse State Psychopathic hospital and who has done some relief work in Rhode Island and volunteer work recently in the Belmont office, has been engaged as investigator for Belfast, Bolivar, Clarksville, Cuba, Friendship, Genesee, New Hudson and Wirt.

Miss Twila Reddington of Bolivar, a graduate of the Philadelphia Baptist Institute for Christian and Social Workers, will do the investigating in the towns of Alfred, Almond, Angelica, Scio, Ward and West Almond.

Entertains Rebekah Officers and Members

Following the regular meeting of Andover Rebekah Lodge Wednesday evening, Mrs. Marie Hammond, retiring Noble Grand, entertained her staff of officers and the members of the lodge with a pleasing program including a violin solo, Miss Marion Swarts, accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Burgett, piano.

Vocal solo, "Whistle Your Blues Away," by Master James Burgett, who responded to a hearty encore.

Oliver Kemp gave a skillful musical number by playing the overture, "Poet and Peasant," on the violin and the accompaniment on the player piano in unison. It was a difficult number and finely executed.

The company were then invited to the dining room. The officers' table was prettily decorated with place cards and initialed handkerchiefs as favors.

A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, Mrs. Hammond, and assistants.

Elm Valley Community Club

The Elm Valley Community Club will meet with the president, Mrs. Florence Gibson on Thursday of next week, October 11th for dinner. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Please note the change of day and date.

Real Estate Changes

Among the changes of real estate in Andover the past week is the purchase by Glenn Ruger of the Burgett-Baker property on Dyke street, formerly known as the Stillman residence. Mr. and Mrs. Ruger and their son Carrol Ruger and wife are now nicely located in their new home.

Mr. Burgett has purchased of Leon Wahl the residence on North Main street, owned by the late U. W. Stratton and vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ruger and have moved thereto.

PRES. NORWOOD ON INTEMPERENCE

Head of Alfred University "Personally and Officially Bone Dry." Smoking Women Lose Charm.

Hornell, Sept. 29.—Personally disapproving of girls smoking as does the university officials, President J. Nelson Norwood of Alfred University told 555 students Thursday that "it took away certain feminine charms."

President Norwood addressed the largest first assembly in the history of the university.

"Personally and officially I am bone dry," President Norwood said. "However, I do not ask you to abide by my theories along this line only that you give me your co-operation. On that I insist." President Norwood appeared to mean that he would not condone drinking among students. "Schools and liquor do not mix," he said.

President Norwood said parents of girls in questionnaires opposed girls smoking or drinking. He said he could not reconcile himself to observing some girls smoking cigarettes, knowing they were paying for them and that they were receiving help in tuition from the university.

President Norwood said, "I believe the majority of girls of high character in the Alfred men do not smoke."

Whether it would be Socialism, Fascism, Communism or what course the country would pursue "if the present economic and political setup fails," President Norwood said he did not know. He did know, however, that the skilled men and women in trades and professions would be needed, no matter what happened."

President Norwood brought out that "Alfred University is under a greater financial strain than in 25 years."

Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Coleman of Elm Valley entertained a company of 27 relatives at a 6:30 dinner Thursday evening at their home in honor of his mother, Mrs. Addie Coleman's 94th birthday.

CHOPPING CONTEST DRAWS BIG CROWD

Estimated 300 Witness the Contest at Baker's Store Wednesday. Francis Ray the Only Contestant.

The world series ball game sank into insignificance Wednesday afternoon as the time for the wood-chopping contest at Baker's store drew near.

A crowd estimated at about 300, exclusive of the school children, who were excused a little early in order to see the event, gathered in front of the store at 3:30.

A 16-inch beech log was rolled up on skids and with the closing of the ninth inning of the ball game, McLaren asked for contestants. Altho there had been two or three local choppers who had signified their intention to chop, none of them put in an appearance at the contest.

Francis Ray was finally prevailed upon to enter the contest. Ray, using an axe which was borrowed from the spectators, made a fine showing under the handicap of using a strange axe which had not been conditioned for use in a contest, and the fact that for the past few years he had not done any chopping.

Ray cut the log in four minutes and 43 seconds, McLaren following him, cut the log in one minute and 53 seconds. Everett Childs of Portville was timekeeper.

While outclassed in this contest, thru unpreparedness, Ray states that he would like to chop against McLaren again, with an axe equally as good as the one McLaren uses.

Paul DeRemer won the door prize given by Baker's store, of a Plumb axe.

McLaren chopped Thursday morning at Fillmore, his contestant from that place being in Andover to watch the contest Wednesday afternoon.

A drive for Farm Bureau members for 1935 was planned by the community chairmen and will again be conducted in the form of a contest between the northern half of the county and the southern half.

L. H. Jamison of Fillmore was elected captain of the northern half while Lynn Watson of Belmont will captain the southern half.

The canvass will be in the hands of the community committeemen of the respective sides. A final round-up will be held on November 7th at Belmont.

Chester Gray, legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation at Washington, D. C., has been obtained as speaker for a county-wide meeting of all Farm Bureau committeemen, October 23. Between now and October 23rd the county agent will meet the community committees of the county for the purpose of making up their 1935 programs and revising prospect lists.

From beginning to end the entire meeting was marked with interest and enthusiasm and the Farm Bureau committeemen this year expect that Allegany county shall reach its goal of 600 members for 1935.
