If you want a good summer drink go to Pat Campbell's and call for a glass of "Krook Beer."

Don't forget to call at Benton & Crandall and see the Domestic Sewing Machine.

If you want any thing in the line of haying tools, go to Porter & Barry's Hardware store.

Don't forget that you can get the best glass of soda water you ever drank at Benton & Crandall's.

The best place to buy your hardware and all kinds of farming implements, is at Porter & Barry's, Andover.

A. C. Bishop, of Cuba, has been appointed Superintendent and Engineer of the State Prison now being built at Elmira.

The number of people who visited this place on Sunday last, to attend the Camp Meeting was estimated at from 8,000 to 10,000.

We have delivered the names of quite a number of our delinquent subscribers to Constable Nixson who will attend to them at once.

Express train No. 2 will stop here on 4th of July morning, so that people will be able to visit Homestead and participate in the celebration.

D. D. Lewis, of this place, will deliver the address before the All-Union Society at Alfred University, on Tuesday afternoon of next week.

Mr. Peter Swink has a number of Chester-White pigs for sale. For particulars call on or address:

P. SWINK,
Andover, N. Y.

C. M. Beecher, of the Wellsville Free Press, paid a visit on Tuesday. Beecher represents everything lively at Wellsville, or would-be "Genesee," with any amount of that "stuff" that Wellsville is so noted for, whiskey.

We understand that our Masonic Lodge will visit Homeville on the Fourth, and take part in the laying of the corner stone of the Masonic Hall and Opera House that is being erected there. Excursion tickets, will be issued to companies of twenty-five or more for 75 cents the round trip.

TEST OF MOVING MACHINES.—On Tuesday, Mr. Clark, agent for D. Rawson & Co.'s Moving Machine, accepted an invitation to a moving match from an agent of the Climax, to take place on the farm of Alonzo Brown, at Whitesville, in which the Rawson machine came off first best. It beat the Climax in moving on rough ground, and in cutting the grass more even.

REPRESENTATION.—Mr. Crosby, the gentleman who drives the splendid wagon from Cuba, was in our village one day last week, with his usual stock of merchandise, junkie notions, patent medicines, stationery, cigars, &c. Mr. Crosby has built up for himself a good business, and we believe no man comes into this place for the purpose of selling goods, that is more welcome by our merchants than is Mr. C.

Rev. Wm. Alvin Bartlett who is to deliver the lecture before the literary society of Alfred University, Tuesday evening, July 4th, entitled "Dona to Data," delivered the same before the society of Madison University, Wis., June 30th, which is there spoken of thus by the editor of the Wisconsin State Journal: "After giving a synopsis of the lecture, he says:

"The address was as brilliant as a display of pyrotechnics—a succession of surprises—and was heartily applauded. We met one of the Regents at the door, on coming out, who said:

"It was a noble address! It would transform a loafer into a lion!" It is impossible to do justice to the eloquent speaker without publishing a full report. From the press and double rows, back and rows beneath, we have given a few terse details in our report.

Don't fail to attend the lecture.

Died.—In this place, Thursday, June 29th, 1871, Albro Bundy, aged 56 years.

Mr. Bundy was an old resident of this place, and an active member of the Baptist Church, and was counted upon as one of our best citizens. He was elected Supervisor from this town two years in succession, giving perfect satisfaction to the town.

Mr. Bundy leaves a large circle of friends to mourn his loss.

The span of the new Binghamton suspension bridge will be 800 feet in length, supported by two wire cables on two towers, 32 feet high at each end. The cables will each consist of seven steel wire ropes. Each rope will be two inches in diameter, and of sufficient strength to bear 83 tons weight. Each cable holds a weight of 644 tons. The length of the cables will be 504 feet.

Hall has just received the largest and best stock of jewelry brought into Wellsville, which he is selling at astonishing low rates. He also has one of the best watch-makers in the country who does all kinds of watch, clock, and jewelry repairing and engraving. Don't fail to go to Hall if you want a good picture album, frame, or anything else in his line of business. He sells the cheapest.

ACCIDENT.—On Monday last, a man by the name of Charles Murphy, a tin pedlar from Homestead, drove upon a bridge in the town of Greenwood. The bridge fell through with him, landing him and his horse and wagon some thirty feet down among the rocks. Strange to say that neither man nor horse was badly hurt. Dr. Lewis, of this place, was called and dressed a slight wound upon the man's head.

No PAPER NEXT WEEK.—We shall be unable to issue a paper next week, as part of our help are bound to "celebrate" the 4th of July, and we have considerable job work on hand that we shall endeavor to get through with next week in order that we may start again the next week. Our subscribers will lose no number by it, they will receive their 52 copies for the year.

"Several young ladies" at Belmont, are said to be in need of such a judicious spanking as the strong-armed mothers of the olden times used to bestow upon girls whose silliness took a dangerous turn. They advise Mr. "correspondent" with young gents, with a view of fine and mutual improvement. If these thoughtless girls want to know a common result of chastising correctly, of course it's "stiff" they have only to ask the chief of police in the nearest city.—Herald New Yorker.

ACCIDENT.—We learn that Alvin Holmes, a citizen of this town, met with an accident, and made a narrow escape with his life on Saturday evening, at Camp Hill, while stepping from one passing train to another. In doing so he lost his footing, and the cars passed over the top of one foot, while heaved himself otherwise by dropping over the side, without further injury. His hurt is, of course, uncomfortable, but we are happy to learn he is not likely to prove serious.—Standard Courier.

The Camp Meeting.

About seven thousand persons were in attendance at the Camp Meeting last Sunday. The day was very pleasant, and at an early hour people came thronging into the village from all directions. Never was a larger mass of people convened in this town. The services were very interesting during the entire week. The rain of Saturday deterred many people from being present on that day. Everything passed off pleasantly; there was no rowdiness, and but little drunkenness. Some miserable wretches—happily they were few in number—procured liquor in other places, and had they dared would doubtless have made a disturbance, but nothing of the kind was attempted. In the grove, all things were done decently and in order, and we never saw so many people together so quiet, and apparently so deeply interested in the religious exercises.

The ablest clergymen in this district were present, and a deep interest was manifested at all the meetings.

Since the above was in type, a communication, over the signature of P. D., purporting to have been written from Wellsville, has appeared in the Elmira Advertiser. The publishers of that paper doubtless regarded their correspondent as a man of veracity. We are unwilling to believe that they would insert in their columns the article referred to, who the intention of misrepresenting the people of Andover.

The Advertiser has many warm friends here, and they were pained to see in that paper, the many attacks of the unprincipled writer, who is too cowardly to give his name in connection with his grossly libelous article.

He says "The editors were all open and larger beer sold." This is entirely false. No alcoholic or malt liquors are sold in this town. We noticed none here from Wellsville under the weather from the effects of the liquor inebriated at home, and a few of our own townsmen, we regret to state, went to Wellsville, or Genesee, or whatever the mad town is called, and procured whiskey.

Andover has but two hotels and there being as the correspondent admits 5,000 or more persons, a boarding tent was erected on the campgrounds by Messrs. Crandall & Brainard for the accommodation of the visitors.

P. D. frankly admits that he was "rather short of hands." He could not afford to pay 75 cents for his dinner, and being hungry and ill-mannered he writes down Andover.

Brother Fairbanks, don't you forget your Bohemian Wellsville 75 cents, and permit him to enjoy the luxury of a good square meal.

P. D. letter abounds in falsehoods. He states that the President Elder proposed taking up a collection. Wrong! Perfectly Disputed, (if that is what your initials represent).

His worthy townsman, Rev. M. H. Davis, is not Presiding Elder of this district, if he knows himself; nor did he ask for five or ten dollar bills in his lecture. You drew too much on your generosity for wit, and on your imagination for facts. How unfortunate that a collection should be taken when you were short of funds. No wonder you are perfectly disgusted.

P. D. confesses that he is "not very religiously inclined." This admission is totally unfeeling for. No one can read his slanders attack on an assembly of Christian people, worshipping God in his first temple, the grove, without discovering that he is devoid of Christian Charity and Christian Truth. But upon confession is paid for the soul. It is said, and perhaps it is convincing of a want of respect for sacred things may be followed by a conversion to at least common decency.

The Wellsville letter is evidently from the pen of some jealous scoundrel, who looks upon the rapid growth and consequent influence of our town in an ungenerous and uncharitable spirit.

P. D. takes this advice: when you are tempted to speak of Andover's drunkards, extortioners &c., remember the adage about dwellers in glass houses.

His HEAD WAS LEVEL.—A New York wholesale grocer, who has become rich in his business, has lately made the following revelation: He says his path always was when he sold a bill of goods on credit, to immediately subscribe for the local paper of his district. So long as his customer advertised liberally and vigorously, he rested, but as soon as he began to contract his advertising space, he took the fact as evidence that there was trouble ahead, and he invariably went for his debt. "For," said he, "the man who feels too poor to make his business known, is too poor to do business." The withdrawal of an advertisement is an evidence of weakness, that business men are not slow to observe.

Andover Union School.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION, &c.

The fifth and last semi-monthly examination for the spring term of the Andover Union Free School, was held on Friday, the 28th inst. The usual report will be found below. The Board of Education have decided to shorten the spring term by three weeks for the purpose of giving time for the usual summer vacation of eight weeks, and have the fall term commence about the 1st of September. This arrangement seemed to be necessary to regulate the term so as to avoid the heat of July and August, and still have 42 weeks of school in the year. Hereafter, the next term will probably commence Aug. 28th, and continue 14 weeks, closing Dec. 1st. The winter term will probably commence Dec. 4th, and close March 9th, 1872, allowing a vacation of one week during the holidays. After a spring vacation of two weeks, the spring term will probably commence the 26th of March and continue 14 weeks, closing on the 29th of June. The remainder here suggested needs the sanction of the Board to make it authoritative.

The lamented and untimely death of Mr. Wright shadowed the school and its prospects in impenetrable gloom, and this, together with the changes and vicissitudes which have since followed in consequence of it have had the effect to prevent the more advanced grades from completing the work of the year, and they are, therefore, not prepared for the changes which should take place at this time. Each grade should now be advanced one number if they were all ready for the promotion; but, under existing circumstances, this cannot take place, with some of the grades, before the close of the fall term. It will require close application and continued effort, on the part of students and teachers, during the coming year, to make up this lost time. The accomplishment of this result may be possible, but no easy.

FIRE IN CANISTEO.—The house of

Lorenzo Davidson, of Canistota, was burned last Sunday night. The family were at Andover attending the Camp Meeting, and had left the house in charge of the servant girl. The fire was discovered at about one o'clock, and was then under such headway that it could not be stopped, and but little could be saved from the house. The origin of the fire was supposed to have been accidental. The loss is estimated at two or three thousand dollars. Fortunately, it was a very still night, and the fire did not extend to several houses, barns, &c., which were in very close proximity.—Heraldville Times.
