for your share.

E. DONNELLY,

ANDOVER, N. Y., Dec. 28, 1870.

I will not carry the argument back to the reformation of Martin Luther, nor discuss the question whether civil liberty grows inevitably from the root of liberty of conscience; whether kingdom and priest-craft, by any law of necessity, stand or fall together. Nor have we time to dwell upon the question, which is nearer to my purpose, of the industry in the civil affairs of of a free Bible.

History proves that somehow or other a free Bible has always been ready to the people, and that they have never it a good thing to have in the house.

Renn says it is the German universality that conquers in battle; but a free

Bible is the architect of universities.

The saying of Father Hyacinth is more direct; that Germany is great and strong and free, and her great soldiers win victories on whatever field, not because they fight with the needle but because they fight with the Bible.

Not beginning then, where the first trucks of liberty may be traced, it was God's benediction that blew the wind which brought the Puritans to Plymouth Rock. Liberty has never thriven beneath sunny skies. The place of her nativity is in the mountains, and on sterile soil. The ark of human liberties was with little hand of pilgrims, and they were "cast upon the rocks, and sucked with the teeth of the sea." In order that the pillars of freedom should be made tough —fit for their work. So, through the revolution and in the war of the religion, this nation, still young, has been trained up for business—a liberty reared to last, even as the Goddes in the old mythology, made her pupil immortal by feeding him with divine milk by day, and burying him in the fire at night.

I need not argue to prove to you that New England character, like New England hills, is slow to rear and somewhat obdurate to stand; that in governmental affairs it loves the middle, and is somewhat hard to be unhinged; that a north-east storm, in revolution in religion or in politics, which blows from New England, is very much like a snow storm from the same direction —you get more than you want. Nor,

I take it, will I need to prove by argument anywhere in this country, that a colonized Yankee clings to his early faith, just as a transported sea-cog hugs to his cabin of ice. Like a convinced Scottishman he is "of the same opinion still."
