A good attendance at our Sunday School Sunday morning pleased us all. A few special readings and music were given. Our sppplies for April did not come, but as nearly every member was present with a Bible our responsive readings and lessons progressed as usual. In the absence of our Adult Class teacher, Mr. Howard Percy, Mrs. Pearl Bassett took charge. There were several guests present.

Daffodils, flowering quince and many other spring flowers opened in March. Dandelions are ready for greens. Many trees have started to leaf out.

Mr. J. M. Caward, our oldest resident, and in his early nineties, is known as quite a weather prophet, and he predicts our weather for 1945—A long dry summer, with many insects and pests to destroy vegetation. Mr. Caward, although at an advanced age, enjoys living. He takes long walks around the country side. Mrs. Caward, who is in her late seventies, is also a remarkable woman. Although not quite as active as her husband we always find her busy and with a kind word for everyone. They recently celebrated their fifty-first wedding anniversary.
