THE LAST STAND

by Rose Mary Baker

Everyone should take at least one last stand or even two before they admit defeat. Defeat is final and once you are defeated it will take a long, long time to rise to your glory again.

School students, especially, should try to make a last stand if they think that they may fail the Regents and those who think that the tests will be smooth sailing might take heed too for the tables may be turned on them at the last minute.

Students have an excellent opportunity to get an assurance of graduating though they fail their Regents, but they must work for it.

This chance is a 75 per cent average. By keeping this average all year a student who fails a Regents can still graduate.

Isn't this a chance worth trying for, students? Why not all try to keep our final average up high enough to insure graduation? It will prevent a lot of heartache later perhaps.

PURPLE PANTHERS DEFEAT STRONG RICHBURG TEAM

Tuesday evening the Andover Central basketeers blasted Richburg out of the first place tie in a game of games. The Eckhart men led in scoring most of the game, but could not produce that last fatal quarter and Lynn Chaffee's men romped to a 30-25 score for their fifth straight league win of the season.

It's going to be a mighty fine team that beats Andover in league competition.

The scores:

Andover H. S.	field	foul	ttl.
Mulconery	4	0	3
Richardson	4	0	8
Lynch	1	2	4
Burgett	3	3	9

DR. HOLDEN ADDRESSES SENIOR CLASS

Tuesday at 11:15, in Mr. Conde's room the members of the Senior class met with Dr. Holden who talked on the value of choosing a career for which you are best fitted and on choosing a good college.

In his lecture he pointed out several facts which should be carefully considered by every person choosing a vocation.

"Your interests," stated Mr. Holden, "are about the most important factor to consider." If you are one who likes crowds and likes to associate with people you should choose a career quite the contrary to a person who gets all frustrated and excited in crowds. Then you should consider your abilities to fit a special type of job, the advantages and disadvantages of the work. In order to tell which jobs you are best suited for Mr. Holden suggests that a young person try a variety of occupation before definitely making up his mind.

At the end of a very enlightening period, Dr. Holden asked that the people interested in teaching remain for a few minutes. During this time he talked about different State teachers colleges in New York State and what they offered. Later the students asked him questions to clarify any doubt which they had in their minds. ROVING REPORTER

An issue of public interest and much controversy is the subject of longer skirts for women. Your roving reporter has been doing some extensive inquiring into the situation, and has come up with the following replies to the question "What do you think of the longer skirt?"

Kevin Lynch, "They look all right on the husky type."

Mrs. Feeley, Commercial teacher, "I think they are very becoming, but only to a certain extent."

Don Scott, "Personally, I don't think very much of them."

Pin Connors, "They conceal too much."

Barbara Wintemberg, "I think they look very neat."

Earl Richardson: "I don't care, I don't wear them."

Betty: "What a terrible world."

Duane: "I don't think so. What if the world was a chocolate cake. Think of all the crumbs you would meet."

GRADE NEWS

Mrs. Robison's kindergarter pupils are coloring sheets of objects to teach numbers. In the story hour, the pupils are using the victrola record of "What the Lighthouse Sees."

Miss Recktenwald's kindergarten pupils are studying a unit on Eskimos. They are having a birthday in honor of Richard Baker. They are also coloring sheets of objects to teach numbers.

In Mrs. Connor's first grade, Robert Clark has a birthday the 12th and June Burch and Virginia Atwell have birthdays on the 14th. John Common is proud of his new brother. Group 1 and 2 in reading are beginning "Fun With Dick and Jane." Spelling will be introduced.

Miss Church's fifth and sixth grades have accomplished much. Among them are the following: They have elected the following officers for their club Friday: President, Rogers Theetge; vice-president, Sandra Bostwick; secretary, Mary Ann Joyce; treasurer, Eddie Harkenrider. Carol Curtis had a birthday party Friday afternoon. Her mother sent ice cream and cup cakes. The class enjoyed it very much. They would like to thank Mrs. Conde for the fudge she sent for their Christmas party. It was very good. Their attendance for the year is 98 per cent. They hope that they will be able to keep it that high during the rest of the year. Janice Fulton, James Yannie and Rogers Theetge made a winter scene for their bulletin board.

Mrs. Schwarzenbach's sixth grade, Miss Jordan's fifth grade, Miss Baker's fourth and fifth grades, Miss Parson's third grade and Miss Gaus' second grade are studying hard for their mid-year exams.

Mrs. Bennett's second grade children are studying "Workers Who Help Us Play," in Social Studies and an animal unit in science.

Mrs. Helmer's third and fourth grade pupils made snowman booklets. The spelling teams are building snowmen. Dixie Appier's team is ahead in the spelling contest. Carolyn Clark and Dixie Appier arranged a bulletin board on building materials for social studies.

Mrs. Hall's first grade opened the birthday box for Wrexie Balcom. The group sang "Happy Birthday." They have completed three pre-primers and work books. They are reading "Fun

Air Force Offers Grades To Skilled Veterans

Any man who is qualified in one of more than 300 military occupational specialties in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines or Coast Guard, is eligible to a non-commissioned grade if he enlists now in the U. S. Air Force for three years.

The exact grade a man receives depends on his previous grade and on the length of time he held his occupational specialty. Former enlisted men may be given grades as high as technical sergeant. Former officers may receive grades as high as master sergeant.

This is truly a remarkable opportunity for a man to make his previous experience pay off, and there is probably no field today that holds more promise than aviation.

Full details are available now at the local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, 109 West State street, Olean, N. Y.

SENIORS ON REVIEW

Beginning this week, we are featuring a new column, of senior interviews. Since the time is nearing when our Seniors will be leaving their Alma Mater, we feel the public should know more about them.

In the limelight this week is a very attractive red-head, who tells us she was born in Kenmore New York on August 14, 1930. This fair young lady, during her high school years has prepared for a career in home economics, which will no doubt be of great value to her, since she is engaged to a very handsome college student.

If you haven't guessed by now, she is Miss Jo Ann Theetge. Among her favorites are:

Color - green.
Food - Southern fried chicken.
Actor - Robert Mitchum.
Actress - Lucille Ball.
Book - Foxes of Harrow.
Author - John Jennings.
Car - A 1934 olds (no heater).
Sport - Football (from the grandstands only!)
Hobby - Water coloring.
Activity - Dancing with Ray.
Pet - A Mexican Chiauhau, only she doesn't have one, but she'd like one named Pe'dro.
Subject - Art (a field in which she is very adept)

Jo Ann hopes to be graduated in January, after which she plans to work in Rochester until she gets married.

While attending Andover Central School, Jo Ann has participated in extra curricular activities and has maintained a high scholastic record. The school wishes her happiness in her chosen career.

CHIT-CHAT

Here we are back again with your weekly gossip column, to see if we can't interest some of you with the tales and deeds of our students.

That ring which Lila is flashing around on her finger is nothing to be sneezed at. Soon there will probably be a ringing of the bells and great feasting in that family. Until then, however, Lila struggles on in the Market Basket trying to keep her boss contented.

Louise Loucks, who is this Dream you have been talking about? Why keep us in suspense?

The Freshmen are proud to know that the Hancock-Atwell romance has taken up again. Dickie, have you heard the song "When I'm Not Near the Girl I Love, I Love the Girl I'm Near?"

Kevin Lynch had the kind of vacation that we all wish we had. None of this wild night for him; he stayed at home and took over the management of that large Lynch farm for his father.

Mary Ellen Driscoll and Reta Goodridge went to the skating rink Friday night and from all reports we hear they had quite a time.

Say, Wayne Sherwood, did you have a reason for wanting to get kicked out of business law class and into study hall third period? It couldn't be because Annie Greene is in there, could it?

We hear that Louise O'Dell had a date with Melvin Herrick Saturday night, but Archie got there first.

Ruby Ordiway seems to be reading a lot of stories lately in school.

Donna Nobles, who's picture is that you are carrying around in your billfold? Does Bob actually look like that "Stevie"?

"Barney" Bostick, when are you going to get yourself a mate or do something so we can write about you once in a while?

Ruth Halsey seems quite happy this week. Could it be because she had a visitor, Ronny Eccelston, over the week-end?

The sound of sawing wood, don't take us literally, came from the Burgett home. It seems that Jim, the master of the house, was catching up on a little lost sleep which he received as payment for being a b-a-d boy.

It seems that Ruth Shutt was quite busy over the week-end. It couldn't be because of Jack Mason, could it?

Does anyone want the correct time? Ask Pat Dolan, or for that matter, almost anyone of the Senior girls. It seems that they all received watches for Christmas. Pat's, however, is in a spot of its own in rank as it traveled across the country to be here in time for her Merry Christmas.

Elizabeth Bridge, who's white coupe have you been riding around in? You could offer us a ride once in a while.

What ambitious boys, the Senior class has. "Ray" Smith like Jimmy, slept his time away so that he could get rested up for New Year's Eve. Oh, also learned a few more of the finer points of that ever-loving game of pool.
