More than 2,000,000 members of the Boy Scouts of America will observe Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6th to 12th, marking the 38th anniversary of the organization. This year Boy Scouts are emphasizing conservation of food and natural resources, planting gardens, safety and fire prevention, home repairs and personal health check-up. Scouting promotes world peace through World Jamborees and practical help among 42 nations with 4,409,780 members. Through its World Friendship Fund of voluntary gifts the Boy Scouts of America helps Scouts overseas to rebuild their units. So far, more than 3,000 tons of equipment have been shipped. Above is the official poster marking the Scout birthday.

Attention, Veterans

Frank J. Hoesch, New York State Director for National Service Life Insurance, states that nearly 100,000 NSLI payments sent to the Veterans Administration failed to provide names, addresses and other necessary informaation.

While many of these payments have been identified there still are many who have not been and more coming in each day.

Identification of payments is assured if veterans will use the special "yellow envelope" sent to policy holders each month, but if not used the veteran should be sure to include his name and address and his NSLI policy number when mailing his premium payments.

Former Andover Horse In Morgan Horse Show

The following was published in November 1947 "The Morgan Horse Magazine." The paper showed a picture of Cornwallis and his present owner, Mrs. Anna Dickson Ela, taken at the National Morgan Horse Show at Windsor, Vt.:

Stallions shown in the Justin Morgan performance class must perform under saddle, also in harness, as roadsters and then draw a load. Only three performed in this class, as few stallions of the present time are trained to pull in harness. The class was won easily by the Townshend Morgan Horse Farm's Cornwallis which acted perfectly in all three categories under the expert guidance of his owner, Mrs. Anna Dickson Ela.

Wayne Crandall purchased Cornwallis as a colt when he was a sophomore in Andover high school in 1929. He trained him to ride, work and drive. Several years later he was sold to a party in Cortland, N. Y.

Two years ago while spending a few days with his sister's family in Massachusetts, they drove Wayne to a Morgan horse farm in Vermont. Much to his surprise he saw Cornwallis and learned that the colt he had trained as a boy was owned and was the senior sire of this Morgan farm.

Some Andover people may recall seeing the boys, Decatur and Francis Clarke, Robert Spicer, Franklin Nye, Edward and Wayne Crandall as they rode to school in all kinds of weather and they had a lot of fun doing it.

Burrel C. Williams Ins. Agency Re-elected to Live Members Club

The Burrel C. Williams Insurance Agency was notified today by James S. Kemper, chairman of (American) Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company of Illinois, that this agency has been re-elected to membership for 1948 in the Live Members Club, an honorary organization of outstanding company representatives throughout the country.

This recognition is awarded only to representatives who maintain the highest standards in the selection of policyholders, the conduct of their business, their loyalty to the company, success as producers and integrity in their dealings. "You may well take real pride in having met these requirements," Mr. Kemper said. "I know I speak for all of the directors and officers of the company in saying to you, 'Hearty congratulations'!"

Term of membership in the club is one year. The record of each member is carefully reviewed before he is re-elected the following year.

The Burrel C. Williams Insurance Agency is very proud of this recognition by Lumbermens as one of its leading representatives. It has been their constant aim to provile broader protection and service to their clients and to maintain high standards in the operation of their business.

This agency is cooperating with Lumbermens in its crusade for safety on the highways, in homes and factories. As part of its accident prevention and safety education campaign, Lumbermens sponsors safety messages in national magazines, offers safety material for children, teen agers and adults and through the Kemper Foundation for Traffic Safety provides fellowships and scholarships for municipal police officers at the Northwestern University Traffic Institute.

Mother asked Nelly to fill the salt shaker, and twenty minutes later she called to her daughter: "Have you finished working on that salt shaker?"

"No, mother," Nell answered. "I guess I'm pretty slow, but it takes such a long time to get the salt through these little holes."
