ANDOVER NEWS

A PROGRESSIVE FAMILY NEWSPAPER FOR ALLEGANY COUNTY PEOPLE — IN POLITICS INDEPENDENT BUT NEVER NEUTRAL.

VOL. 63, NO. 9. For the Week Ending Thursday, Feb. 26, 1948. $2.50 year; 7c copy

Study Shows New State Aid Bill Not Sufficient

Allegany county lost over $300,000 in potential state aid for school purposes when the Dewey administration forced the Republican Majority in the legislature to support the Governor's Education Committee Proposal rather than the Young-Milmoe Bill, according to a study made by the Allegany County School Boards' State Aid Committee.

The study shows that the schools of the county need $376,000 more money next year. The Governor's Committee Proposal will provide only $267,000 in additional State aid. This would indicate that a slight additional tax may be needed next year to offset the difference. The situation will become increasingly serious each year for the next five years when the teacher salary law of 1947 becomes fully effective. It is estimated that expenditures for the county will then be $695,000 greater, leaving $428,000 to be raised by added local school tax if the Governor's Committee Proposal prevails at that time. This represents a possible average increase in school taxes throughout the county of $3.50 per thousand.

If the Young-Milmoe bill had not been beaten down by an administration aspiring to the presidency, Allegany county would have eventually received $585,000 in new State aid. The amount received annually by the schools would have built up to that amount as expenses increased. This would more nearly meet the needs, leaving only a possible $109,880 to be made up by local taxes five years from now. This represents an average increase of $1.90 per thousand in school taxes as against $7.50 called for by the prevailing proposal.

Careful estimates of the needs of each school were made by the Boards of Education. A large part of the increase is accounted for by the inclusion of items that have been cut from budgets during the past five years in an attempt to keep school taxes from going unreasonably high. Such items are maintenance, replacement of buses and teachers and services eliminated.

Many schools have long needed and planned on added services but have been forced to postpone adding them because of insufficient funds. Such services as provided by art, music, homemaking, agriculture, library, guidance and nurse teachers have been included in estimates where needed.

Capital expenditures for shop, commercial, library, music, physical education and homemaking equipment have been included. Expenditures would be made for urgently needed additional buses, garages and classrooms in some school districts.

Salary increments account for the largest single item. The 1947 legislature mandated $150 annual salary increments for teachers. It is estimated that the cost of teachers' salary increments in the county next year will be $67,600 and five years from now $338,000. Since the recommendation of the Governor's Committee will only provide $267,000 in new State Aid annually, the county is faced with a considerable increase in school taxes within the next five years just to meet the cost of this item alone without taking care of deferred maintenance, restoring or adding needed services and equipment.

In arriving at estimates of expenditure on an annual basis, costs of deferred maintenance were spread over a five-year period, replacement of buses over a ten-year period and building additions over a 20-year period. No costs of major building programs were included in estimates although several schools will eventually be faced with such programs.

A study of Allegany county school finance as it affects Andover follows:

Additional State aid needed for Andover, 1948-49, $34,080; 1952-53, $59,200.

Estimated New State aid under Governor's Proposal, $14,500; under the Young-Milmoe Bill, $37,765.

Barbara Brownell Weds E. Kent Jones, Jr., in Florida Wedding

The following is taken from the DeLand (Fla.) Sun-News of February 13th:

Miss Barbara Romeyne Brownell, daughter of Mrs. Flora A. Brownell and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Akin of Deland and Andover, N. Y., and E. Kent Jones, Jr., son of Mr. E. K. Jones and the late Bessie Jones were united in marriage in a single ring ceremony at 11:30 this morning at the home of the bride's mother, 320 West Minnesota Avenue. Dr. Arthur R. Charlesworth, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated.

An improsived altar was arranged before the fireplace in the spacious living room where the couple took their vows in the presence of members of the immediate families. The fireplace was banked with palms and ferns. On the mantle was an arrangement of pastel snapdragons.

Traditional wedding music was played.

The bride was lovely in a suit of dusty rose wool gabardine, featuring a ballerina skirt and fitted jacket, with which she wore a rose colored hat with a halo effect trimmed with roses and a navy veil. Her accessories were navy and her only ornament was a double-strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. A corsage of baby orchids completed her costume.

Mrs. Brownell, mother of the bride, wore a spring print of navy and navy accessories. Her corsage was pink rosebuds.

The bride attended DeLand schools and is a graduate of Andover Central School. She attended Stetson University where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, social sorority.

Mr. Jones attended DeLand schools, Bolles Military Academy, Jacksonville, and was graduated from Gordon Military College, Barnesville, Georgia. He served four and a half years in the Army including overseas duty in the ETO. Since his return he has been associated in the contracting business with his father.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bridal couple with their respective families were entertained by the bride's mother with a luncheon at the Eastwood Terrace, after which the young couple left on a honeymoon trip by motor to the southern part of the state and Louisiana.

Upon their return they will reside in their newly constructed home at 133 East Ohio avenue.

Miss Brownell was honor guest at a tea during the afternoon hours yesterday.

Receiving guests were the hostess, the honored guest and her mother and sister, Mrs. Flora Brownell and Miss Daphne Brownell.

Rooms of the Jones home, 320 W. Michigan Avenue, were decorated with snapdragons and gladioli in pastel colors. Tea was served from a lace covered table centered with a low arrangement of sweet peas. Inviting guests into the dining room was Mrs. Francis P. Williams, and pouring were Mrs. L. A. Haslup and Mrs. David Fultz. Assisting in serving were Miss Fern Russell and Mrs. Benson Davis.

About 60 guests called between the hours of 3:30 and 5:30.
