A. C. S. BOYS VISIT CORNELL

All the F. H. A. boys, Mr. Bronson and the veteran class of Andover attended Farm and Home Week at Cornell University April 7th. All boys were invited to attend one lecture on any phase of agriculture. Transportation was furnished by Mr. Bronson. Earl Atwell, Harold Dodge, Dewey Northrup, Jr., and Harold Sisson.

The F.H.A. boys and 4-H Clubs have sold over $200 worth of Robson's seeds this year. A picture of the soil conservation exhibit that Andover made for the Wellsville potato show this year appeared in the Syracuse paper recently.

Don't forget the F.F.A. and F.H.A. dance Friday night, April 9th in Andover Central School auditorium. Admission is 60c, tax included. RA

THE SOPHOMORES DID IT

This week the Sophomores of ACS prepared the Hi Herald. As some were doing the usual articles, others were writing editorials, poems, features and quizzes. They are hoping to receive as many congratulations as "Ray" Smith did for his contributions to our paper.

TEACHERS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Wednesday, April 21, all teachers of Andover Central School will observe teaching demonstrations in various schools.

Plans are now complete for teachers of grades one through six to visit the Geneseo State Teachers College where they will meet at the Halcomb School of Practice at 10:00 a. m. Most of the day will be spent in observing the work of interest to each individual since special attention will be given to activity programs in operation. A round table discussion will conclude the day's observations.

While the grade teachers are attending Geneseo, the high school teachers will be visiting various schools in the county and New York state, as they observe different techniques of teaching which may lead to useful suggestions for the improvement of teaching in the Andover Central School.

CHIT CHAT

After roaming the halls of ACS we have discovered some of the various ways in which our fellow students spent parts of their vacation.

Gay Rogers attended the circus in Buffalo with her parents, Mr. and Mrs Albert Rogers.

Marie Kemp received a letter from a friend in Hungary.

Wilda Mascho entertained a friend, Una Barrett, from Corning during the week of Easter vacation.

Beverly Sutor and Marion Milligan were visitors at the home of Marion's sister in Friendship for two days.

Anna Beil visited friends in Greenwood.

Earl Richardson visited Alfred University as a guest of his sister, Regina Richardson.

Pat Dolan spent her Easter vacation in Buffalo visiting friends.

Bob Carpenter spent some of the time at Silver Lake.

Mary Connor learned how to make synthetic rubber from pie crust.

Aquinas Lynch spent part of her vacation in Buffalo shopping and obtaining the new look in hair styles.

Teddy Vankuren spent a few days in Rochester among friends.

Doris Atwell attended the Shrine circus.

John Baker went to Brooklyn to visit friends for a week.

Joan Joyce spent part of her vacation visiting friends in Harrison Valley and Rexville.

Phyllis Burdick entertained company from Nevada and Olean over the week-end.

Mrs. Gussie O'Dell entertained at a surprise birthday party for Louise and Theodore. Among those attending were Kathryn and Teresa Joyce, Robert, Barbara and Jo Anne Marsh, Ronald, Wayne and Doris Atwell, Nedra Burrows, Dick Hancock and Dale Green. Louise and Theodore were the recipients of many nice gifts.

Thelma Mickle visited in Wellsville and cared for Judy Cook.

Doris Atwell attended the Cake Walk, held at Andover Grange hall.

Beth Whitaker attended a surprise birthday party in her honor on April 2nd. She received many beautiful gifts.

Agnes Joyce from Canisteo visited Charity Howland for three days during the vacation.

LeRoy Caple went to Buffalo and attended the Skateland. BW

SENIOR INTERVIEW

This week we interviewed the well known wit of the Senior class. This girl has black hair and brown eyes and she was born in Wellsville July 14, 1930.

She plans to study nursing with the September 1948 class at the Strong Memorial hospital, Rochester, where she is to report for an interview April 20.

If you haven't already guessed her name it's Helen Kathryn Yannie and some of her likes and dislikes are:

Food: Anything and everything.
Color: Blue.
Car: Oldsmobile.
Movie: "The Yearling."
Book: "The Green Years."
Author: A. J. Cronin.
Actress: Kathryn Hepburn.
Actor: Gregory Peck.
Ambition: Nursing.
Pet peeve: Gossips.

We all wish Helen much luck and success in her chosen career. JMM

20 MEN REPORT FOR FIRST BALL PRACTICE

Monday evening 20 candidates reported to Coach "Lyn" Chaffee at the baseball diamond for the first practice of the season. A fine team will represent ACS around the county and to be sure they will emerge victorious from many battles.

Coach Chaffee has a few veterans to work with and the remainder of the team will be greenhorns. The first practice went along well with the team warming up on batting and fielding practice.

Baseball has never received much support in Andover and I am sure if you will support the boys listed below they will give you a fine return.

This list was prepared from the first night's practice and there may be more men out. RS

HARVEY

It seems Harvey has had a very long and tiresome Easter vacation and could not suppress the urge to come back for a visit in school this week. Too, Harvey is very popular with the Sophmore class. He takes a fancy to Fran Baker and Joyce Linza, not excluding Joan Jackson by the comments and actions of our termite.

Fifth period study hall, with Mrs. Conde, has been Harvey's spot for interest this week. Since Harvey begged Joyce Linza to take him with her, he made the most of his visit when Mrs. Conde departed from the main study hall to the library work room Harvey surely made himself the center of attention. When one of the boys sent a flying airplane through the air, which landed on one of the lights Harvey was determined to retrieve it. Harvey began to poke me and told me to put him on the desk. I did so, and soon he took one big jump and landed on the light. There, Harvey was dangling on the chandelier, getting dizzier every minute. Finally Eddy Ryan rescued our friend and put him in my charge. At this moment Mrs. Conde again entered the library and things returned to normal.

As soon as Joyce started on her English assignment Johnny Baker and Earl Richardson began to talk so Mrs. Conde moved Earl to an empty table.

Soon the bell rung and everyone just piled out the door and there could have been a jam very easily. Harvey, too, was practically stampeded, but he survived very quickly.

Harvey said that he liked study hall better than any of the classes he had visited yet.

GRADE NEWS

Ann Connor and Donna Clements have returned to school after a week's absence. The kindergarten is learning about the birds that return early in the spring.

Robert Clark has returned to school after a week's absence.

During Easter vaccation Jerry Padden was in the Wellsville hospital where he underwent a tonsil operation.

Paul Vincent was elected president of his class for the month of April. Dale Ordiway and Marilyn Harris are the captains of the spelling teams.

The fourth grade lost a member of the class, Lewis Burgess, who has moved to Angelica. The Star Club has elected new officers: president, Barbara Schoonover; vice president, Jerry Rogers; secretary, Tommy Loucks; treasurer, Jackie Vickers.

The fifth grade has also lost a member, Carol Curtis, who has moved to Wellsville. Teddy Smith, Betty Kemp and Marjory Mix enjoyed their trip to the Shrine Circus in Buffalo.

The Easter vacation period and the short notice given to the reporters accounts for the lack of grade news this week.

TEN-WEEK TESTS RETURN

Teachers, pupils and Miss Taylor are working extra hours this week as they prepare for the ten-week tests which will be given to the pupils of Andover Central school Wednesday and Thursday, April 14 and 15.

In the high school all tests will last two periods. The tests in morning classes are scheduled for Wednesday while tests in afternoon classes will follow on Thursday until 2:30 p. m. At this time school will be dismissed as a result of the two successive study periods which follow the examinations.

Only ten more weeks of school remain since our next ten-week tests will be the June regents and final examinations.

Are You Bean Wise?

There's an abundance of dry beans in the country this year so the penny-wise housewife will do well to hunt up all her bean recipes.

Dry beans, you know, are not only an excellent protein source hence a substitute for meat; but they also are a high source of calories, calcium, iron, thiamin and riboflavin. And, although they cost a lot more than they used to, they're a good buy in today's markets.

The Cornell experts tell us that three half-cup servings of beans equal (in protein) a 4-ounce serving of meat; and that you can get about 10 half-cup servings from a pound of beans. At 25 cents a pound, you'd pay about 8 cents for enough bean protein to substitute for a serving of meat. Add to that a few cents for seasonings (tomatoes, molasses or salt pork etc.) and you get a pretty cheap dish.

With a Cup of Tea

Did you ever try melting semi-sweet chocolate bits on salted crackers to serve with tea? Just dot the bits on the crackers, place them in a warm oven for a few minutes until the chocolate melts and then spread the chocolate with a knife. They're particularly good served hot.

A Lesson In Grades

Meat prices may be a little lower, but the homemaker who gets her money's worth still is the one who knows the cuts and grades of meat.

Choice cuts—T-bone steaks, rib roasts, etc.—aren't necessarily tender, you know. The cut also must be high grade to fulfill all expectations.

So, when you buy meat, be sure to ask the grade. Here for instance, are the grades of beef and their distinguishing characteristics: "Choice" or AA—highest quality; has a thick covering of white or creamy white fat; the lean part is well marbled, and pale to deep red in color.

"Good" or A has somewhat less fat covering, less marbling, and lean is pale to deep red in color.

"Commercial" or B; usually has a thin covering of slightly yellow fat, somewhat soft; lean ranges from light to dark red with very little marbling.

"Utility" or C—a good wholesome meat but much less tender than the others even in a rib roast or porterhouse or T-bone; has thin, yellow or bluish grey fat and the lean is light red to very dark red with practically no marbling.

Thrifty Vegetable Buying

You must use your head and your common sense in buying vegetables for the family, Cornell foods experts suggest. And they have listed some pretty good rules to follow:

Choose good, fresh products, not wilted ones with a lot of waste and poor food value.

Buy just enough of the perishable vegetables for the meals you are planning. Learn to judge accurately how much the family will eat. (Don't buy a pound and a half of spinach if you plan to use only one pound.)

Buy packaged and canned goods in containers of suitable size. You save money buying a large size only when you can make good use of it, not when part will be thrown away.

Color in the Home

Are you planning to refurnish any of your rooms along with the spring housecleaning? The home demonstration project "Color in the Home" which many Home Bureau units are studying this spring offers some good suggestions.

Here is the primary color principle as prescribed by the College of Home Economics at Cornell (Home Demonstration Extension headquarters): Color should go around the room, up from the floor and out from the wall. That means, if you have a blue davenport, pick up the blue in a picture or lamp across the room. If there's rose color in your draperies, make sure that the same shade is repeated in a pillow or ottoman. And if your rug features green, that green should be used again in a chair or vase or some other subject.

Brown Swiss Breeders To Meet at Warsaw

The second annual meeting of the Western New York Brown Swiss canton district will be held Tuesday, April 13th, in the Warsaw Grange hall on South Main street, W. B. Stewart of Pifford, president, announces. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 by the Warsaw Grange. A business meeting will follow immediately.

Listed on the business agenda will be the completion of plans for this summer's canton exhibit, final date on the consignment sale to be held on May 8th at Cornell, artificial breeding information, and the election of officers.
