Supervisors Make Grants at April Meeting

A grant of $3,000 to the Angelica fair to aid in building quarters for junior exhibits, allocation of $40,000 more for county roads and $7,000 for a town of Independence bridge were the highlights of last Tuesday's board of supervisors session.

The fair proposes to put up a 36 by 100 foot quonset type concrete and steel building with a 36 by 68-foot room for junior vegetable and farm products and homemaking exhibits building to the south of Main hall. In the end toward Main hall will be located rooms for taking x-ray chest pictures, also a room for nurses' use.

The total cost is expected to be about $8,000. The board's $3,000 grant will go into the 1949 budget. It is estimated that if even three county residents are saved from treatment for tuberculosis, the county's share of the new building will be paid.

The $40,000 of county road funds allocated goes to complete the Cuba Lake county road around the north side of the lake. The $7,000 is for a new 35-foot bridge on the Whitesville-Spring Mills road, replacing one lost last August in a flood. A temporary bridge, washed away a few days ago, has been restored.
