POETRY.

For the Andover Advertiser.
Experience of a School Teacher in Indiana—White "Boarding" Round.

If you should ask me "have they been here?"
In this place, Western Land?
I should tell you, I should tell you,
Count the years of my life,
One morning while engaged in reading,
A pretty fellow gazed my way,
He gazed at me with a smile,
I looked the while in my eye.

The Deacon's First and Last Sermon.
From the Deacon's standpoint the minister's salary was large, indeed "enormous," as the Deacon used to say. In point of fact it was very moderate, being only four hundred and fifty dollars a year, and fifty of that he took in wood. But we must look at it from the Deacon's point of view.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.

Section 1. On the third Tuesday of May, eighteen hundred and twenty-one, and on the third Tuesday of April in each year thereafter, when, by the terms of this act, a meeting of the electors of the several towns and cities in this State shall be necessary, the electors of the several towns and cities in this State shall determine by ballot whether the sale of intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage, shall be prohibited in their respective towns and cities. The officers in each ward or town who hold town meetings or ward elections for charter officers, shall, on the day above specified, and at the place of places of holding the same, be designated pursuant to law, the manner provided by law for such meetings and elections, to receive the ballots of the electors qualified to vote in such town or ward or town or ward officers, in which ballots shall be written or printed on the inside thereof the words "For Local Prohibition," or the words "Against Local Prohibition," and deposit the same in a book provided for that purpose, and the said ballots shall be canvassed by said officers, and the result thereof shall be entered and recorded in the book kept by the town clerk, or other officers, in which the proceedings and records of town meetings and charter elections in cities are entered. All the provisions of law for holding elections and for ascertaining the qualifications of electors at town or ward elections, and to punish false swearing and fraudulent voting thereto, shall be applicable to elections or proceedings under this act, to determine whether the sale of intoxicating liquors shall or shall not be prohibited. It shall be the duty of the several town clerks or other officers by whom the proceedings of town meetings and charter elections in cities are entered, to
