STUDENTS TRY OUT FOR HI HERALD EDITORSHIP

At the last meeting of the Hi Herald staff it was decided that the next few issues of the Hi Herald would be issued by members of the Hi Herald who wished to try out for editorship of the school paper. The editor and co-editor chosen will take over the supervision of the paper for next year.

Last week, beginning Monday, April 10th, Norma Perry and Ruth Shutt began the try-outs. They issued the assignment to different members of the Hi Herald staff for this issue of our school paper.

This week the paper is being taken over by Beverly Clair and her assistant, Phyllis Burger. Next week Rosemarie Baker and Betty Isamin will try their hand at it and the following week Evelyn Glover and Rosemary Mead will take their turn at editing the Hi Herald.

LOCAL TALENT PROVES VERY OUTSTANDING

Last Friday night at the Andover Central Shcool we found the local talent on display.

It was astonishing to find such fine talent in our own community. Of the five winners selected by the judges: Mr. James Kessler, Mr. Glenn Bronson, Mr. Murlyn Conde and Mr. Richard Fisher, the first three were natives of Andover.

First prize was given to Misses Phyllis Burdick and Ann Marie Greene who did a short act centered around the song "The Lilac Tree." The girls, who received a billfold and five dollar bill, generously donated the money to the Senior Class fund.

Second prize was won by Miss Lorraine Baker, eight years old, of Rochambeau avenue, who has the gift of playing the piano. With two encores she played "The Serenade of the Bells," 'Golden Earrings" and "Rosemary". She received a harmonica as a prize.

The third prize winner was Dale Pelton, also of Andover who won a photograph album with wooden covers for his very fine imitations of movie and radio and comic book characters.

As shown on Friday night there is indeed a lot of talent in Andover which should be encouraged for who knows who will be the Frank Sanitra, Nel Blanche, Harry James and Frankie Carlyle of the future. All these young folks need is a good chance to prove their worth. RMB

NINE SENIORS TAKE SCHOLARSHIP EXAMS

Monday and Tuesday, May 3-4, we found nine seniors (Jim. Burgett, John Bridge, Ray Smith, Rose Mary Baker, Pat Dolan, Kevin Lynch, Delores Snyder, Karl Fisher and Phyllis Burdick) taking the New York State Scholarship examinations.

The examinees report a tough exam based on various vocations and possible aptitudes.

Specific facts about English, History, Math, Science and Art were included in the examinations.

Since the scholarships are awarded in each county Andover has a chance to rate an Allegany County scholarship.

ANDOVER WINS LEAGUE OPENER

"Vick" Daley

Friday, April 30th the local baseball fiends journeyed to Whitesville for the first league tangle of the current season. The Blue Jays flattened Andover last year 23-6 but the locals flared up this year and pounded Bloss for 13 hits to score 11 runs against 8 Whitesville hits and 7 runs.

Coach Chaffee's men are improving by the day and eventually the final product will be an excellent team.

Tomorrow night the locals move into Richburg for the second league game.

GRADE NEWS

In Mrs. Connor's first grade we find the pupils reading from a new and interesting book entitled "Our New Friends". Also in the spotlight this week, we find Joyce Ann Day celebrating a birthday on April 27th.

In Miss Hall's first grade we find Joan Sootheran held a birthday treat for the class Wednesday afternoon.

The children are also making flower posters in hopes that those long awaited warm spring days will soon arrive.

In Miss Recktenwald's room we find several pupils are absent with the chicken pox. The other pupils are reading about our little feathered friends, the birds and hope those people who are absent will be back soon to share the unit with them.

In Mrs. Helmer's third and fourth grade the long struggle in the contest is over. The "Tulips" won and received a candy treat for their efforts. The class is making chalk drawings of the Iris. The third grade made May baskets in art class. Corrine Alvord happily celebrated a birthday.

In Miss Baker's fifth grade the pupils are still happily telling of a play they presented caled "Mumble and the Grateful Lion".

The characters were:
Mumble: Dick Rosintoski.
Lion: Patricia Padden.
Hunter: Cort Marsh.
Chorus: The class.

In Mrs. Schwarzenbach's sixth grade there is the usual feeling of excitement. In an Arithmetic contest which was held by the "Yankees" and "Dodgers" we find the "Yankees" are still leading. They won the final round and were given a candy treat.

The Panthers beat the Varsity Tanglers in their spelling contest.

They have a large collection of items from the Orient contributed by the pupils. These articles will be used in history class.

In the Top Drawer

A little four-year-old occupied an upper berth in the sleeping-car. Awaking once in the middle of the night, his mother asked him if he knew where he was.

"Course I do" he replied, "I'm in the top drawer."

YEARBOOK GOES TO PRESS

Mr Lawrence Barts and his yearbook staff of seniors have completed and sent in twenty-four picture lay out mats which will comprise a large section of the annual.

The advertising and a few pages are yet to be completed but this will be taken care of in ample time to insure delivery of the books before school closes in June. RS

CHIT CHAT

All those who wish to increase their knowledge of Donald Duck stories enroll immediately in the classes held daily by Charlie Snyder and Jack Wheaton in the library workroom fifth period.

Teresa Joyce went to the dance at Alfred University last Friday night.

It seems Dick Hancock is having some difficulties lately. It seems he can't make up his mind between "Shortie" Atwell, Norma Perry, Connie McAndrew or a few other girls around town.

We wonder how "Charlie" Dougherty and Caroline Briggs are getting along lately.

Frances Baker had a good time collecting autographs Friday at Cuba—especially the one from Houghton College.

We see Annabell O'Dell and Dick Fulton are still good friends

Did Teddy Vankuren and Barbara Wintemberg have a good time Sunday night?

How did Ronnie Atwell get his black eye? It wasn't in a fight over Marion Milligan, was it?

Don Mulconery, did you have a nice time after the Amateur Show Friday night.

Why has Maxine Filler lost interest in going skating all of a sudden?

Annie Greene's lonely Sunday home didn't pan out so good. We hear she went gadding around fishing instead.

Joan Joyce and Rickie Halsey sure had fun at Harrison Valley. They are still on "old time."

The eighth grade class is going to take up a collection to buy Donald Greenan an alarm clock.

All the chorus girls had a good time at Cuba Saturday.

Lyle Slocum and Dick Nye have been strutting their stuff on the baseball diamond at noon.

Why is it impossible for Neva Curry to get anything done during seventh period study hall?

We are afraid Roger Wright will catch a cold with such a short haircut.

Mary Lou Clark is still struggling hard to keep from getting tangled up in her instrument.

Mary Brown is our famous fisherman. Two-inch fish are her favorite.

Who did Wilda Mascho sit with on the way home from Cuba Saturday?

All the eighth graders are having a difficult time learning the names of the presidents in order.

A number of the eighth grade boys have been studying for the career of a housewife. JM-BS
