E. M. Johnson, editor of the Addison Advertiser, and Assistant Clerk of the Assembly, has been appointed Clerk of the Assembly, vice Underwood, deceased.

Rather Scarce.—A correspondent to the Hornellsville Times, writing from Hartsville, says that "Greeleyites are as scarce in this town as Democratic preachers or hen's teeth."

Grant used to set type; Colfax is an old newspaper man, while Greeley and Brown are experienced printers. Four typos running for the highest offices in the people's gift ought to make a good impression.

New Meat Market.—Mr. Chauncey Balsam has entered into co-partnership with Mr. Clear, in the Meat Market business, in the new building just completed by Mr. Clear, on Greenwood Street.

Mr. P. N. Brown, a well known railroad man and formerly superintendent of the Western Division of the Erie, has been offered the General Superintendency of the Erie Railway, and will probably accept.

Any man wearing a white hat now-a-days is twitted of being a Greeley man. This is rather hard on our merchants who have bought a stock of light hats this spring for they will have to carry the stock over to another season.

According to the Paterson Courier, hay has been bought in Wayne county for packing, in large quantities, at from $15 to $18 per ton, and a much higher figure is not anticipated. The crop holds out much better than was expected.

A baggage car on the mail train, on the Buffalo Division, on Tuesday afternoon, caught fire just before it reached Canaseraga. It was run under the water tank at that place and a full beam of water let on. Only one truck was saved.

Geo Francis Train delivered two of his wild lectures at Hornellsville last week, with very poor success. The crowd consisted of about 100 the first night and less than half that number the second. That is better treatment than he merits.

Fire.—A small dwelling house belonging to a German named Yeager, situated across the river, near the residence of A. N. Cole, was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last about 4 o'clock. Loss, $4,000; no insurance.—Free Press.

Engineers are not the only persons annoyed by misplaced switches. A married lady in Hornellsville, upon returning to her home after a few days absence, found one in her bed room; which did not match with her own hair. —Westerly Advocate.

The Elmira Gazette says: Harvey Smith, the old man arrested on suspicion of murdering Daniels at Horseheads, is the brother of old Joe Smith, the founder of Mormonism. He is the man who baptized Brigham Young in the polygamous faith of the Saints.

This is a good time to plant cats.—The cat should be prepared with a boot-jack, revolver, or some other utensil, and then planted under the plum tree. If you have not got a plum tree, plant anywhere. Plant all you can and plant deep. This branch of agriculture is too much neglected.

A Bit of Sarcasm.—An Illinois editor thus sarcastically speaks of the marriage of a professional brother in Indiana: "He stepped up on the hymeneal platform, adjusted the fatal noose, and swung off into that unsilent darkness from which he can never return. [illegible] consulting

The Waverly Enterprise says: The Lehigh Valley Railroad officers propose instituting an accident insurance on their lines for the benefit of employees, paying benefits to disabled men at the rate of ten dollars per week, and in case of death, $200. Upon careful calculation it is found that this can be paid from a revenue of twenty-five cents a month from each operative.

What You Can Find at Crandall & Brainards.—700 bushels of Seed Oats. 150 bushels Black Eyed Peas. Clover and Timothy Seed.—Early Rose Potatoes. A large assortment of Crockery and Glassware.—Richardson's Boots and Shoes, at cost. A large quantity of Canned Fruits.—Downer's Oil, &c.

Cash paid for any quantity of eggs.

The Commissioners have summoned a jury for the purpose of opening a street across what is known as the Baker lot opposite the depot, on Saturday. An application has also been made to the Commissioners to open a street from Third to Chestnut St., also to extend Maple street, west, about one-fifth of a mile. One or two other streets are talked of and ought to be opened immediately, in order to supply the present demand for lots. Andover is growing as rapidly now as any town in the county. All we want is room.

Sam Taber's Simon-pure, dyed in-the-wool, Black-Republican, Abolition-Grant State Convention meets at Elmira two weeks from to-day, and Sam Tilden's Democratic "Republican," Cincinnati-Miscegenation Beat Grant State Convention meets at Rochester on the same day. Having frequently "seen Sam," we shall attend the former, as will all others virtuous and soberly inclined.—Bath Courier.

As the last clause hits us squarely we'll be there.

The Next State Fair.—The Executive Committee on the State Agricultural Society held a meeting in Albany last Thursday afternoon, to consider the location of the next Fair of the Society. Representatives of Utica, Elmira and Watertown were present, and the claims of each were strongly urged. After hearing the propositions made by the different delegations, it was resolved that the matter be referred to a committee of five, and that a final decision be rendered on or before the 21st inst.

The Canvassing Agents Manual contains reliable Advertisements of Merchants, Manufacturers, Publishing Houses, Insurance Companies, and others, from all parts of the Country, having goods exclusively for Agents. This is the only medium of the kind published, making a complete Business Directory for Agents, and assisting them into business; it also contains illustrations and an original story interesting to Agents, and other valuable information. Published Quarterly; $1,00 per year, 35 cents per copy. White & Harris, Publishers, 194 Broadway, New York.

A correspondent of the Genesee Republican gives his view of the present excise law. "One beauty of this act is, that it creates at least twenty-two license boards in this county where but one existed before, the expense of whose sittings are $198 per day. If they sat five days in the year, the cost to the county would be nearly $1,000, whereas, under the old law, it was only $200 or $300. This act, too, permits the organization of two distinct boards in towns where there are incorporated villages, and those two boards have, in nearly all cases thus far, come into conflict with each other, the result of which has been that if one board refused a license to any one, the other board was almost sure to grant it. The existing excise law may possess some valuable features; it certainly has some very grave faults."

"Our Pigeon; or, My Jolly Friend's Secret," is the happy title of Dio Lewis' latest and most important work. It is well calculated to do good service in promoting the health of the people, and deserves a wide circulation. The very reading of the book will tend to make one wiser and jollier, for the doctor writes with great directness and vivacity, and a due infusion of humor, playfulness, and anecdote, which are sure to render the work attractive and universally popular. It ought to supersede Buchan's and every other "Domestic Medicine," as a household book; for it shows how medicine may be dispensed with, to a considerable extent, in a majority of cases. We confidently believe this book will save thousands of doctors' bills, if its wisdom is heeded. It solves the problem of cheap living, and will thus "if read by the many bless the million." It teaches us how to live, so that we needs never be troubled with "the blues," or suffer with biliousness or dyspepsia. It tells how to manage so that you shall have white teeth, sweet breath, strong muscles, good spirits, refreshing sleep and long life. This is the nature of the secret of our jolly friend, and is really worth many times the price asked for the book. Buy it, and study its invaluable information and receipts, is our advice to all. We are informed that the book is to be sold entirely by agents, and in our opinion they are seldom offered a better chance to make money rapidly, than the sale of this low-priced practical book will afford. We advise all seeking profitable employment to write without delay, to the publishers, Maclean, Gibson & Co., 712 Broadway, New York.

Milk Wagon.—After consulting some of the enterprising citizens of this place, I concluded to start a Milk Wagon for the accommodation of the public. It is now nearly a month since I undertook the enterprise, and so far it has surpassed my most sanguine expectations. I return my sincere thanks to all my customers, and would be pleased at any time to increase my present number of patrons. I know that as far as price and quality are concerned, I can give perfect satisfaction. The wagon will deliver milk at any house in the village of Andover, every morning, for 4 cents per quart. Tickets will be put up in packages of 25 each, and can be obtained at the wagon. Those paying in advance will be entitled to one free ticket with each package. Give me a call.

J. A. Robinson.

Andover, May 9th, 1872.

Burglary.—Last Monday night some individual entered three houses in this village. First, judging from the time, was Dr. F. J Baker's. Here he passed in through the cellar and up a pair of stairs and through the dining room, where he made some noise which awoke Dr. and Mrs. Baker. Mrs. B. spoke to the doctor and asked him what was in the house. At this, the would-be robber made some hasty moves to get out and the doctor after him with a chair, but the thief was too quick for him and got out first. It seems that he helped himself to some victuals when he was in the cellar.

Dr. J. J. Harman's house was entered the same night where it was managed to get the window open into the pantry. Here he helped himself to some cake, pie and bread, disturbing nothing else although silver spoons and forks laid near where the eatables were. He then visited Peter Van Sickle's house and by opening the pantry window helped himself to some milk and set some things that was just under the window, on the shelf, out doors, undoubtedly for the purpose of getting into the house, but while at work he locked some spoons off on the floor, making a noise so as to awake the occupants, when he made tracks.

The description given by Mr Baker answers well for a man who was around the village on Monday afternoon begging and claiming that he was blind. But we are satisfied from what we see of him that he has perfect sight, and is nothing more or less than an imposter. He is a man about five feet high rather stout and wore whiskers all over his face. It may be well to look out for him.

L. Dana Crandall, formerly of this place, has leased what is known as the old Tracy House, at Belmont, and after he known as the National Hotel. Mr Crandall is a first-class landlord and we will guarantee that all who may favor him with a call will go away perfectly satisfied that Mr. C. knows how to please the traveling public.—He is also prepared to furnish as good a stabling as any in the county.
