Let Us Make Andover a Friendly Town

Andover has long been considered a "Friendly Town." Let us live up to the name by again inviting children to enjoy a health-giving vacation with us.

Tribune Fresh Air vacations are designed to help the poorest of New York's poor children, the children of the lowliest tenements. For one of these children two weeks in the country should be a period of great happiness. It cannot fail to be a period of freedom from the confinements of prison-like streets and the privations of an unwholesome dwelling. It must present to him a vivid contrast between the beauty of the country and the sordidness of a city's slums. It may inspire in him a reverence for the Supreme Artist who designed the world and the loveliness of nature, an inspiration for which there is no foundation in this city world. It may give him his first glimpse of the real American—American folks, American life, American ideals—as opposed to the life and ideals of the foreign quarter of the city in which he was born. It should open up to him friendships with upright, self-respecting Americans which may help to mold his character. It may touch off some spark in him which will help direct his life through happy and helpful channels.

Because these and many other possibilities lie in Fresh Air vacations for children of the city poor, the Tribune Fund seeks the help of friendly folks in the country to provide the vacations. Many of the warm-hearted, charitable people of the Friendly Towns, we are sure, will consider it an opportunity to assist in the kindly work. For thousands of children there is no other way in which these blessed things may be attained.

You may choose the age, sex and type of child you wish to invite. Many speak a foreign language as well as English.

The committee in Andover is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Helen Beach, who will be glad to give additional information and receive your request for a summer guest. Children will come in July and August, so you may select a time most convenient for you to entertain one or more of the children.

There are four dates from which to choose this year. The children will be coming out of New York on July 1, 13 and 20, and August 13.

Home Bureau

Cartwrights Sell Hotel Belmont

A deal was closed last Wednesday whereby Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cartwright sold the Belmont Hotel, which they have operated since 1945, to Felix Serio and son, James Serio. Mr. Serio is a former owner of the hotel.

Firemen's Meeting This Friday Night

Regular monthly meeting of the Andover Fire Department this Friday evening, June 4.

Andover Wins First League Game Sunday

The Andover Legion baseball team had a field day in their first league game in the Tribune League Sunday by defeating Angelica here by a score of 15 to 4. Phillipson pitched the entire game for Andover.

Monday afternoon the Legion team played an exhibition game against the Buffalo Harlem Giants which of course the visitors won by a score of 13 to 5.

This Sunday, June 6th, Andover plays Whitesville at Andover for the second league game of the season.

Rev. Shearer Assists at Albuquerque Church Broadcast

In a letter to Andover friends, Rev. W. D. Shearer, formerly of Andover, sends the following news release:

Sunday morning, May 16th, the Rev. William Donald Shearer III was guest of the Rev. James G. Brown in the First Methodist Church, Albuquerque, New Mexico, at the regular 11 o'clock Sunday morning broadcast over Station KOAT.

At this service the Rev. Mr. Shearer assisted at the receiving of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fordyce into the membership of the First Methodist Church by transfer of their respective church letters. Mrs. Fordyce was baptized and confirmed in the First Methodist Church of Andover under the pastorate of Rev. Shearer. Mr. Fordyce was baptized and confirmed in the First Methodist church at Chatanooga, Tenn., from where he transferred his letter.

The Rev. Mr. Shearer, a former Andover Methodist clergyman, has been vacationing in Southern California since January and is at present a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fordyce of 221 Hartline Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Shaff of Sanford avenue, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Sunday afternoon the party visited "old" Albuquerque, the historical setting for the recent screen success "Albuquerque." While there they had dinner at the LaPlacita, a famous old eating house whose search dates back to the land grant under Ferdinand and Isabella, rulers of Spain.

Among other interesting excursions they visited the University of New Mexico, founded in 1889; the old San Felipe Mission established in 1706 by the Franciscan order, a classic example of early Spanish adobe masonry, and Iseleta, Indian Pueblo that carry on in their traditional moves without the intervention of white man's culture.

The Rev. Mr. Shearer expects to fly east for the annual conference, after which he will spend his summer vacation at Cape Cod.

Appreciation

I wish to thank those who helped me at the time I was injured, the Firemen's Auxiliary for their gift and friends for cards and other remembrances.

School Band Makes First Appearance

The Andover Central School band under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Briggs, made their first appearance Monday and did themselves proud in leading the school children in the parade and playing on the program at the cemetery.

The Memorial Day observance was carried out as outlined in the News in a very capable manner by the Lynch-Burgett Post, American Legion. The Rev. Raymond R. Taylor, speaker of the day, gave an attentive audience a very timely and appropriate address.

The ceremonies at the cemetery were in charge of Ralph A. Allen, Legion commander and Walter Gath, Legion chaplain. The Gettysburg address by Carl Fisher and "In Flander's Field" by Miss Phyllis Burdick were both well rendered.

Two Andover Girls Graduate at Alfred

We note the names of Miss Mary Katherine Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cannon and Miss Mary Wanda Dolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dolan, both of Andover, on the list of graduates to receive diplomas at Alfred University Commencement next Monday, June 7th. Miss Cannon will receive a B.A. degree and Miss Dolan a B. S. degree.

This year is the 112th Commencement at Alfred and a record number of graduates will receive degrees. One hundred sixty students will be graduated from the colleges and 190 from the New York State Agricultural and Technical Institute.

Lt. Governor Joe R. Hanley will be the Commencement speaker and Rev. Carroll L. Hill, president of Milton College, will be the Baccalaureate speaker.

Cub Pack Meeting Successful

The first monthly Pack meeting of the Cub Scouts No. 77, was held Friday evening, May 28 at the Masonic Temple. A large group of Cubs and parents attended.

A moving picture and talk on Cubbing was given by David Flammer, assistant Scout executive for Seneca Council. The Pack charter was presented to Clifford Howland, chairman of the Pack committee by Mr. Flammer. A display of scrapbooks was shown as the month's theme.

Prizes were awarded as follows: Best parent attendance at Pack meeting, Den No. 3. Best Cub attendance at Den meetings, Dens 1 and 4. Best scrap book display, Den 4.

The Cubs received their Bobcat Pins, the first rank in Cub Scouting.

Neckerchiefs donated by the Andover Masonic Lodge were presented to the Cubs by James Burgett.

Grange News

The next regular meeting will be Wednesday, June 9th. A Father's Day program will be presented.

Will all Grangers please bring or send their two favorite recipes at this meeting? (Men included if you have a specialty!) Members please bring cookies unless otherwise solicited.

We also extend our thanks to Rev. Taylor for his fine address at our Memorial Service.

According to figures released by the Associated Railroads of New York State, Allegany county in 1947 had 288 persons receiving a total payroll of $420,315.88 for "working on the railroad." The Erie, B. & O., and Pennsylvania lines operate in this county.

Storm Puts Andover Lights Out Four Hours

The heavy rain Friday night put Andover in darkness for nearly four hours. The beating rain got into a Niagara transformer at the sub-station causing a short that burned it out, leaving Andover in darkness from 9:10 p. m. until about 2 a. m., before the necessary repairs could be made.

We got 1.66 inches of rain in less than an hour's time in the storm.

Series E Bonds Limits Doubled to Local Residents

The limit on the amount of Series E. Savings Bonds any local resident can buy during the calendar year has been increased from $5,000 to $10,000, George B. Rooth, Jr., chairman of Allegany county's U. S. Security Loan campaign points out.

Chairman Rooth said the doubling of the Series E. bond limit is serving as an extra incentive to his campaign organization of volunteers to sell the greatest amount of savings bonds in any three months' period since the end of the war.

"Local residents with funds to invest now have the opportunity to take advantage of a safe, profitable investment to an extent never before available," he asserted. "The Series E savings bond pays $4 for every $3 in any ten years. The investor can never get back one penny less than his original investment. Even if his bonds go astray, the Treasury Department will issue new bonds bearing the original date of purchase.

"How many other forms of investment can we think of today which would give the investor $10,000 back for $7,500 invested in ten years without any risk of the original capital involved. In fact, $7,500 put into Series E bonds today, undoubtedly, will bring even a richer return because we can look forward to the time when the dollar will have greater purchasing power.

"I have urged every one of our volunteers to call upon business people, professional men and women, individuals who have the means to buy more savings bonds to call the Treasury's action in raising the limit on E bonds to $10,000 in any one calendar year to their attention. In these crowded days it is likely many local residents have overlooked the Treasury's announcement. Local banks are ready to assist residents to buy their full share of Series E. bonds."

Chairman Rooth also pointed out that the Treasury Department is encouraging further investment in Series F and Series G Savings Bonds by philanthropic, educational, and religious organizations by trustees and guardians, and by business organizations establishing reserves. Bonds of these series may be purchased by any investor to the extent of $100,000 (issue price) in any one calendar year.

Home Bureau Achievement Day Well Attended

Over 350 members and guests of Allegany County Home Bureau attended the all day session of the annual Achievement Day which was held in the auditorium of Andover Central School last Thursday.

Mrs. Harold Chaffee, county chairman of Angelica presided over a program in observance of the 30th anniversary of the Home Bureau. A skit presented by the Madison Hill unit depicted the styles and projects of the earlier years. Merit pins were presented to Mrs. Mizpah Greene and Mrs. Ida Williams as members for thirty years and to Mrs. Elizabeth Green, Mrs. Mable Whiteman, Mrs. Lelia Livermore and Mrs. Ada Tracy for twenty-five year members.

Mrs. Margaret Eddy, of the Home Economics Department at Ithaca was the guest speaker. Mrs. Eddy was a delegate to the convention of the Association of Country Women of the World, held in Holland last September, at which 24 countries were represented.

She spoke on "Strengthen the Spirit of Peace" relating many experiences and facts pertaining to a people subjected to Nazism and how after being liberated they were so bravely attempting to make new homes, looking to America for leadership in this new structure.

The Andover Central School orchestra presented a musical program and the vocal numbers by Misses Ann Marie Green and Phyllis Burdick were fully enjoyed.

A delicious luncheon under the chairmanship of Mrs. Cowles Whiting was served at the Eastern Star, Rebekah and Grange Halls.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Flora Comstock Brenneman, who was born at Andover, New York July 12, 1868, daughter of Thomas M. and Jeanette Nichols Comstock, and died January 1, 1948 at her home, 65 Ogden St., Denver, Colorado.

On August 1, 1894 at her father's home, she married Lawrence L. Brenneman of Columbia City, Indiana, who died June 7, 1945.

They came to Denver in 1900 and united with the First Baptist Church.

On August 1, 1944 they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary by giving a lawn party in the evening, at their home.

She is sadly missed by many friends, a devoted foster daughter and her only sister.

Jennie Comstock Smith,
65 Ogden St., Denver, Colo.
