Judge Dismisses Charges in Hunting Fatality

Belmont, June 7.—The indictment of Charles H. Joyce, Andover, on a charge of manslaughter second degree and the information contained in the charge was dismissed in an opinion rendered by Allegany County Judge Ward M. Hopkins.

Young Joyce, tried as a youthful offender, was accused of fatally shooting Myron N. Haseley, Niagara Falls, while hunting deer on November 25, 1947.

In rendering his opinion Judge Hopkins said: "It is the opinion of this Court the People have failed to make proof that the defendant by an act of culpable negligence caused the death of Myron Harold Haseley."

The judge went on to say, "The death of Mr. Haseley is regrettable. Perhaps out of tragedy of others we may learn a lesson. The proof in this case shows the deceased wore a bright red jacket, dark green corduroy trousers, 16-inch laced boots with yellowish or fawn-colored tops. The trees and brush hid all of the decedent's body from the defendant except his legs below the knees.

"In my opinion," the judge said, "the yellowish or fawn-colored boots were a contributing cause of Mr. Haseley's death. These could be, and probably were, mistaken for the legs of a deer. A hunter for his own protection, should use every possible caution in the manner of dress, keeping in mind the possibility that some color scheme of the dress may be mistaken for the game."

Just a few words concerning the C. M. & Alliance church district rally held Memorial Day, May 31. First, we send a hearty thank you to the Presbyterian and Methodist church members for the use of their churches. At all three services the church (Presbyterian) was filled and even over-filled in the afternoon and evening meetings. In the morning, three pastors including Rev. Harold Hill from Wellsville, discussed such topics as "Should a Christian Marry An Unbeliever?" The answer was no. At both afternoon and evening services Rev. Allen, Rochester, N. Y. preached and at each service large numbers of young and old came forward to an altar of prayer to receive Christ Jesus or in the case of some, to dedicate their lives for Christian services. Only eternity will tell the accomplishment of this day.—Gordon Larson, pastor at C. M. & Alliance Chapel.
