Firemen's Old Home Week Very Successful

The weatherman gave the local firemen the first real break in many years last week when the Old Home Week Celebration of the Andover Fire Department was held. Although several showers occurred during the week, all parades were held on schedule without a drop of rainfall at parade time.

Four parades were held during the week with prizes given as follows:

Wednesday night, Boy Scout parade and fire equipment demonstration: Dansville Hook & Ladder Company, $20; Wellsville Boy Scout Troop, $20.

Thursday night, industrial and fantastic parade: Friendly Class of the Methodist Church (fantastic hobo float), $10; Andover Cub Scouts, $7.50; Ford & Peckham Co., $5; Higby Electric, $2.50.

Friday night was the big parade of the week with more than 22 units in the line of march. Prize for the best fire department, $15, went to Scio; best band, $10, Scio; best Auxiliary unit, $10, Belmont; best Drum Corps, $10, Belmont.

Saturday's children's parade brought out many novel and amusing floats with several cash prizes and free rides for all who participated in the parade going to the kiddies.

Each night found a good attendance at the Andover athletic field where the Eastman Amusement Enterprises had a fine midway set up with an estimated 50 attractions and rides.

The committee in charge of the celebration wishes to thank all those who helped in any way in making the Andover firemen's week a success and to the public in general for the fine attendance.

X-ray Booth at County Fair Again This Year

Allegany Health and Tuberculosis Association announces that the x-ray booth will be at the Angelica fair as it has been for the past two years. Everyone over 15 years of age who comes to the fair is requested to stop at the booth as he passes by and have a free chest x-ray. It takes only a minute, for it isn't necessary to disrobe.

These x-rays are one way to blot out tuberculosis from Allegany county. In 1947 there were 13 new cases of tuberculosis and three deaths. Thirteen patients were admitted to Mt. Morris and 17 discharged, with 14 Allegany county patients remaining in the hospital on December 31, 1947. On that date there were 97 known cases of tuberculosis in the county.

The death rate for Allegany county in 1947 was 7.5 per 100,000. This is very low, and there is no reason why this county shouldn't be the first in the State to have no death rate from this disease.

Do your part by stopping at the x-ray booth at the fair.

Editor Backus Fractures Wrist

Editor Claire Backus is taking an enforced vacation from his duties at the News office as the result of a fall at Lamoko Lake Sunday afternoon when he suffered a fractured right wrist. Allegany County Over-Subscribes Cancer Quota

Mrs. Howard O. Platt, Allegany Commander for the Field Army Cancer Control, announced today that the annual drive for funds has come to a close. Final announcement was made pending returns from Belmont, which is the only community with "no report".

The county adequately met its quota of $5,000. Aside from Belmont, the two villages most disappointing in returns were Wellsville and Bolivar. The very small villages whose contribution were phenomenal should feel proud indeed that they are doing their share in promoting the great strides which are taking place in the fight against cancer.

Great appreciation is due the Wellsville and Friendship newspapers who so generously gave space to cancer publicity. These two papers keep up their cancer educational program throughout the entire year. We trust that the other county news organs will follow their good example this coming year.

Andover's donation to the fund this year totaled $318.50 as compared with $55.00 in last year's drive.

Mrs. Platt wishes to thank all those who so willingly gave time energy and funds in the recent drive. The spirit of cooperation is most gratifying.

Mrs. Platt has been notified that the organization of Allegany County is outstanding in county organizations throughout the state.
