Bloodmobile to Visit Andover September 10

The second Bloodmobile visit to Andover will be at the Andover Central School Tuesday, September 10 from 11a. m. until 6 p. m. Appointments can be made with Mrs. Frank Holmes, phone 107. A bloodbank reel will also be shown at the Andover Theatre both Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Over 15,000 pints of blood have been collected from voluntary donors in the Rochester Regional Blood Bank area since January 12, 1948. The yearly quota, however, will be in the vicinity of 30,000 pints of blood. Practically every hospital served in the region has reported instances where the ready availability of whole blood has definitely saved lives. This multiple community peacetime service is geared for disaster anywhere.

Part of the blood collected by the use of the mobile units is left in our community for use as whole blood; some is sent to laboratories to be made into various blood derivatives and supplies of these derivatives sent back to our community. Blood and blood products through the Red Cross National Blood Program is provided to patients, physicians and hospitals. The only charge ever made to the patient is for professional services in connection with the administering of the blood and blood derivatives.

The Wellsville Chapter of the Red Cross is again accepting applications for the new group of Gray Ladies being organized and who will serve fifty hours per year at the Veterans Hospital in Bath. Application blanks may be secured from the Welsville Red Cross office, 873, or from Mrs. E. C. Larsen, 704. After applications are filed, a personal interview will take place in Wellsville September 17th.

Mrs. Jennie Green Ends 45th Year With News

Mrs. Walter A. Green, who will leave next Tuesday with Mr. Green to make their future home in Boring, Oregon, last week completed her 45th year with the Andover News.

Jennie Crandall started work after her graduation from the Andover High School in 1903, under the employ of the late J. Harvey Backus and set type by hand for the News as well as setting type for the various printing jobs coming into the plant until some years later when Mr. Backus purchased a Junior model linotype, one of the first in the county, which was operated by her for many years.

During World War I when the junior partner in the firm, Claire C. Backus, was in service, Jennie, as she has been known to the office force and townspeople in general, acted both as linotype operator and bookkeeper at the News office. Later a newer and larger model linotype was purchased which she operated until taking the job of being correspondent for the News several years ago, after her marriage to Walter A. Green.

Mrs. Green has seen many changes in our little village in the last 45 years and recalls the keen sense of satisfaction derived from the purchase of a package of tobacco for her father, the late Henry Crandall from her first pay check. Jennie was born in the same house in which she now lives 63 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crandall of Water street. The family home will be rented for the present until Mr. and Mrs. Green make future plans for its disposal.

The News force and Andover residents will miss her cheerful greeting and friendly smile in the future, and bespeak for Mr. and Mrs. Green a happy and contended future in their new Western home.

As a token of esteem Mr. and Mrs. Green were entertained by Andover Rebekah Lodge Wednesday evening with refreshments following the regular lodge meeting and Mrs. Green was presented gifts from the Rebekahs and Past Noble Grands Club of which she is a member.

Home Bureau Starts Active Season

The 1948-49 year of the Andover Home Bureau began September 1st. The officers have worked hard to plan a good program and obtain good leaders. Members interested in the making of plastic bags are asked to be present at the September 9th meeting at Village Hall, 10 a. m., to see the completed bags on display, samples of material and to be prepared to order material.
