Keep Up Organization.

Thorough organization is the secret of great victories. A well organized army can beat double its own force badly disciplined. In numbers we are stronger than our opponents, in organization we are superior, and the signs of the times indicate our certain victory in November. But we want something more than a barren victory—a victory that leaves us the field, and drives the enemy to retire in good order. We want a victory that will stand through all time as a warning to ambitious men, who would barter principal for power. Greeley has gone over to the Southern portion of the Democracy purely because he wants to be President. This fiction accepted him because they think, or did at the time of the bargain, that he could be elected, and thus serve their purpose in the future. Now, to break up this coalition, and to administer to such men a stinging rebuke, we must make their victory a overwhelming one. We can do it if we but work for that end—every man must be active in the good work. Every man has some influence which must contribute their share and young must lead the way. Let there be campaign clubs organized in every town in Old Allegany. Appoint workers in every school district and do thorough work. See every voter at home, and present the issue plainly. It needs no eloquence to commend its merits to any fair-minded man. The acts of the Administration speak for themselves. They cannot be successfully attacked.

Work early and late from now until election; see that every Republican votes his ballot and then you can review your labors, and enjoy with full consistence, the fruits of the glorious victory you helped win. You have a leader who has proven as great a statesman politics as he was on the battle field. See to it, that he receives at the hands of a grateful people the hearty support which his services entitle him to receive.

Shall We Forget.

The charge is that men and papers like Greeley and the Tribune, and other Journals that is supporting Greeley, will try as they may to forget and forgive what they claim a great libel on and public man as this Administration of Henry Wilson, members for [illegible] this error [illegible] years ago, [illegible] leaders, as the [illegible] of the [illegible] Democracy [illegible] Harrison New Yorker.

publican party are continually harping upon Wilson Know Nothingism which died over 18 years ago. They cannot forget this in the noble man, who has done enough good for the laboring men and women of this country in the last twelve years to offset ten thousand times an error like this, if an error it was. Did that "error" ever cost this country one farthing? Did it starve Union soldiers? Did it fill our country with weeping widows and orphans? No! Not any of this. But this same party of coalition can forget and shake hands with Treason, over the yet new made graves of our Union soldiers. They can forget and forgive those, who it seems but yesterday, was an armed band of Traitors.—Treason that cost this country billions of Treasury and the lives of tens of thousands of noble and brave soldiers that went forth from their homes that our Union might be saved. It can forget and forgive these who have filled our land with yet weeping widows and orphans and thousands of sorrowing mothers and fathers, who had given up their last and only support that the government might live. They can forget and shake hands with those who but a short time ago starved in their bull-holes of Prison Pens thousands of Union soldiers. Greeley and his followers here at the North can overlook all this. But because a Republican, an honest man, sympathized with the american party he must be assailed and abused for it, they must not forget it. But we must forget deeds of those traitors, shake hands with them and take them all back in our fold. Reader is not this enough to condemn that new organization with any lover of his country? Let us forget them on November next and show them that we yet respect the graves of our brothers and sons.

Facts.

During three years of Johnson's administration, with a tax of $2 a gallon on whiskey, only $93,000,000 were collected.

During three years of Grant's administration, with a tax of fifty cents a gallon on whiskey, the amount collected and turned into the treasury was $157,000,000.

The expense of collecting the revenue under General Grant has been one-half less than under Johnson.

The aggregate receipts of the Government for the past three years have been $1,165,523,169,73; expenditures during the same time, $924,697,026,80, making a grand total of money passing through the hands of United States officials of $2,090,220,196,53. Out of this amount the Government has lost through defalcation only $1,097,963 64.

Since 1861 the amount of money passing through the hands of General Spinner, United States Treasurer, has been $55,104,232,282 84. Of this vast amount only $55,037,45 has been lost through the dishonesty of the officials in his office.

Since the beginning of Grant's administration the public debt has been reduced upwards of $350,000,000.

Since 1866 the aggregate reduction of internal revenue taxation has been $228,000,000.

When General Grant came into office the value of a greenback was about seventy-five in gold, now it is worth eighty-nine cents in gold.

Our public securities stand higher than ever; our public debt is being funded at a low rate of interest; our credit is good in the money markets of the world; our army has been reduced to a peace basis; every branch of industry is prosperous; wages are high; and General prosperity throughout the land greets the close of Grant's first term.

These are facts that the people appreciate. They know the value of an honest administration of affairs, and pay no heed to the foul slanders raised by the Greeley Democracy. Grant still retains the confidence of the people, and will be as nobly sustained by the loyal millions in 1872 as he was in 1868.

The Tribune has reached a point in the cultivation of "cheek" that is positively beyond competition. In speaking of the double-headed Conventions, it says: "There has been no wrangling for place, no fighting over the distribution of spoils." And this in the face of the fact published in every account of the proceedings, that the Conventions were engaged for nearly two days in casting lots—that the Democratic Convention kicked out of the window its committee's report, giving the Liberals' the congressman-at-large and appointed a new Committee on the Division of Spoils—that the sideshow of hungry liberals rebelled against the same report, and cheered the assertion of a delegate that they might as well disband and go home unless they could have two places on the State ticket! Such "perfect harmony" was never seen before—each faction was anxious to get all it could. They might have saved themselves the trouble. The people have a different idea of this election than that it is for the ratification of the shameless bargains at Baltimore and Syracuse. The action at the latter place will increase the majority more than ten thousand votes.—Warsaw New Yorker.

Hon. H. B. Smith

At the congressional Convention held at Hornellsville last week Hon. H. B. Smith was renominated by acclamation. The Steuben Courier thus speaks of Mr. Smith and his renomination:

"The Congressionall Convension for this District, which met at Hornellsville on the 12th inst, re-nominated by acclamation Hon. H. Boardman Smith for a second term. This action was not only in accordance with usage but it reflected the prevailing sentiment of the Republicans of this district. Mr. Smith has shown himself not only a faithful but an able representative of the principles of the Republican party, and his re-nomination was no less due to him than to the Republicans of the district. Mr. Smith's Congressional record has, thus far, been without spot or blemish, and it has been the fortune of but few members to obtain a better or more influential position on the floor of the house in a single session. As true to Republican principles as he is able and fearless to their advocacy, his constituents need have no fears that he will falter or fail in their support, in or out of Congress. They will endorse and return him to his field of usefulness by an old fashioned majority on the 5th of November next".

When are we to have a square denial by Mr. Greeley, or even an explanation by his friends, of his many utterances in favor of the right of secession? Here is one of the most significant of those utterances. It appeared in the New York Tribune, May 24, 1865:

Now, should the time arrive in our day when the great body of the people of our Pacific States shall say deliberately, kindly, firmly, to those this side of the Rocky Mountains, "You are stronger than we—older, more wealthy, more powerful—but we ask you to let us go, for we believe we can do better by ourselves than with you," we shall respond, and urge others to respond, "Go in peace, and Heaven's blessing attend you!" We believe that is the right, the wise, the Christian answer to such a request, and that the world will yet perceive and recognize the truth.

Fancy such a sentiment in a President's message! It would scarcely encourage loyalty to the Union and strengthen the bonds which bind together the different sections.—Yet if Horace Greeley should be elected—which happily is now out of the question—refusing, as he does, to retract anything that he has written on this subject, the enemies of the Union would not need to have his opinion and counsel reiterated in a formal message.—Elmira Advertiser.

Hon. George Bancroft, United States Minister to Prussit, writes from Berlin to Gov. Morgan, Chairman of the National Republican Committee, as follows:

I hope, my dear Sir that our State of New York will give its vote for Grant and Wilson. The free States of old, and the States North of Mason and Dixon's line might of themselves give the ticket votes enough to make the election sure. The movement in Missouri has simply sent Blair to the Senate; the same movement, if successful in the United States, would call to power the worst elements of secession.

Yours, very truly.
GEO. BANCROFT.

Berlin, Aug. 17 1872.

Is it not time that these men, who are being betrayed off into this most damnable coalition, got their eyes open and see the game that is up?

A contract has been ratified between the Erie Railway and the New York, Boston and Montreal railroad companies, by a full vote of the board of directors of the former road, which provides for the joint use of the road between New York, Boston and Montreal by both companies. This contract, by securing the Erie railway an entrance to the prominent manufacturing regions of New England, and by giving it the opportunity to obtain a large amount of western traffic, will deprive the New York Central of the monopoly they have held until now, and induce a lively competition. It is rumored that the portion of the New York, Boston and Montreal road not yet finished will be completed immediately from funds furnished by certain capitalists in the interest of Erie.—Rochester Democrat.

The Greeleyites have now given up all hopes of electing Horace Greeley and many of their Speakers would turn over again and come to the support of Grant, but they are afraid that the people would mistrust them, if they should play turncoat twice in one campaign, and thereby loose confidence in them. But this is a mistake for people, generally, will not loose the same thing twice.

Award of 15,000,000 in Gold to the United States.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—A telegram received at the State Department to day from J. Bancraft Davis, agent of the United States, says the award of the arbitration at Geneva has been publicly announced here.

The United States receive a gross sum of fifteen and a half million dollars for losses sustained by the acts of the Alabama, Florida and the Shenandoah after leaving Melbourne. By the terms of the treaty the award is payable at Washington within a year from the date of the awards.

The following is the platform and principle of one of the leading papers of Missouri, The Weekly Caucasian, published at Lexington. In another portion of the paper it demands payment for the slaves stolen by the Government. It needs no explanation. It Speaks for itself:

For Vice President,

OBITUARY.

Died of consumption at Andover, Allegany Co., N. Y., Aug. 29th 1872, in the 27th year of her age, Mrs. Jennie Lever, wife of W. C. Lever, and daughter of Daniel Hough of Perry, Wyoming Co., N. Y., her native place.

Mrs. Lever had been married nearly seven years, and for most of the time has resided in Andover.

She was hopefully converted in early childhood, and while in her youth joined the Presbyterian Church of Perry; and nearly two years hence, together with her husband united with the Presbyterian Church of this place.—Mrs. Lever ever adorned the Christian profession as a warmhearted and decided disciple of Jesus. She was kind and gentle in her disposition, affectionate as a wife and mother, true as a friend, and as such, she leaves a large circle to mourn her loss.

In her last hours she bore testimony of a triumphant and living faith in her Redeemer, by whose grace She was abundantly sustained in her dying moments. Her end was peace and her home is with the blest in Heaven.—The church of which she was a member bear testimony to her many virtues, and deepley feel and mourn her loss.

What I Know About Trimming.

Since the days of our grandmothers, there has never been such a rage for trimmings upon ladies' dresses and suits as this year; and the most popular is the so called French fold, made from bias material, put upon the dress in a variety of styles. To trim dresses at the present day without the various Sewing Machine attachments would be an impossibility.

A young man in Chicago has just invented an improvement for all Sewing Machines, with which to put on the fold as fast and as easily as an ordinary hem can be made. The same implement is also a practical Binder and a good Hemmer.

It is being made and sold by the Leslie Ruffler Company, and is a valuable addition to the Sewing Machine. It is called Comings, French Trimmer, and will be sold by all Sewing machine Agents.—Chicago Evening Post.
