Dairymen's League Sub-District 19A Meets in Andover

The Andover local of Dairymen's League Association was host to the Sub-District 19-A meeting held at the Methodist church Monday evening, October 25th.

The meeting was opened with group singing with Mrs. Hazel Burgett at the organ, followed by a welcome from Rev. Raymond R. Taylor, pastor of the church. Mrs. Robert Spicer read a poem "They'll Fight."

Mrs. John Lewis, advisory committeewoman gave a nice paper on the advisory committeewomen's work at the annual meeting held in Saratoga Springs.

After the various experiences and impressions at the annual meeting as related by the Young Co-operators, there need be no fears of the future of the Dairymen's League Association.

Raymond Strahan of Friendship gave a resume of his trip to Virginia where he represented the Young Co-operators of the Dairymen's League at the meeting of the Older Rural Youth of U. S. A.

The District field manager, Mr. McClenathaw of Elmira, paid a wonderful tribute to the late president of the association, H. E. Rathbun. He also emphasized the need of increased membership with every member doing his bit by taking part in the organization.

The Home Department, Young Co-operators and delegate body met separately for a short time, after which the ladies of the Methodist church served a nice lunch to nearly 100 members and guests.

Dr. Lloyd Seager Guest Speaker Here Saturday

Dr. Lloyd Seager of Philadelphia will speak at the Andover Seventh Day Baptist church next Saturday on his experience as a delegate to the World Council of Churches organization conference at Amsterdam, this summer.

A professor at Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania, Dr. Seager is a member of the executive committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America and serves on the American Sabbath Tract Society board which is the publishing agent of the Seventh Day Baptist churches.

The Rev. Albert N. Rogers of Alfred station who heard Dr. Seager speak at Plainfield, N. J., last week writes that he has a thrilling story. The delegates were guests of the queen when the lights on the famous Dutch canals were turned on for the first time since the war and the entire population turned out their house lights to conserve power. Dr. Seager was able to visit Seventh Day Baptist congregations in Holland and in England in connection with his trip.

Andover will be host to the yearly meeting of the Seventh Day Baptist churches of Alfred, Alfred Station, Independence, Little Genesee, Richburg, N. J., and Hebron and Hebron Center, Pa., for the day. There will be morning and afternoon sessions and a tureen dinner at noon. Dr. Seager will speak in the morning.

October Milk Price Forecast At $5.49

New York, Oct. 25 — Dairy farmers will be paid a uniform price of $5.49 per hundredweight for their October deliveries to approved plants in the New York milkshed, according to a forecast released today by Dr. C. J. Blanford, Market Administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

He estimated at the same time that the producer butterfat differential for October would be 5.8 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 percent standard.

The price forecast is based on an estimated production for the month of 406 million pounds. This would mean an average of 290 pounds a day by the estimated 45,200 producers in the milkshed.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kemp have adopted a 10-months-old daughter, Linda Diane.

Christmas Seals Arrive For 1948 Drive

The 1948 Christmas Seals have arrived at the Allegany Health & Tuberculosis Association, Belmont, and preparations will get underway immediately for their distribution by mail to county residents, according to an announcement by Mrs. Wayne Stout County Seal Chairman.

Proceeds from the Christmas Seal Sale, which opens November 22nd and continues until Christmas, will support the association's 1949 tuberculosis control program in Allegany County.

Pictured on this year's Seal is a small blond boy in red pajamas, sitting with hands clasped around his knees and gazing into a blazing fireplace over which three empty stockings are hanging in anticipation of Santa Claus.

The 1948 Christmas Seal was designed by Barry Bart of South Kent, Conn., well known American artist and illustrator. Mr. Bart's inspiration and model was his young nephew who had slipped downstairs on Christmas Eve and patiently set up his vigil before the fire.

Allegany County's Seal Sale is part of the annual nationwide appeal of the 3,000 associations affiliated with the National tuberculosis Association to support their campaign against tuberculosis.

In this county, Seal Sale funds constitute the sole support of the Allegany Health & Tuberculosis Association and its tuberculosis control projects which include: health teaching service through talks, motion pictures, exhibits, and literature; service to Mt. Morris Tuberculosis Hospital, Social Hygiene, cooperation with health and other agencies in carrying on official programs of health service, and case-finding program; community, school and industrial x-ray, offering to every resident in the county, 15 years of age, free x-rays in an effort to find unsuspected and early tuberculosis. At an X-ray Survey recently conducted by the Allegany Health and Tuberculosis Association, at the Allegany County Fair in Angelica, 1,087 were x-rayed. Since April, 1948 the association has x-rayed 3,500 residents of Allegany County. Students at Alfred University, Houghton College and the Wellsville High School are being x-rayed this week.

Christmas Seals which have been sold in the United States since 1907 have supported the work of voluntary tuberculosis associations for 40 years. Without the Christmas Seal the Allegany Health and Tuberculosis Association would have been unable to carry on this vast program of x-raying this past year.
