THE ANDOVER NEWS
Published Weekly by
THE NEWS PRINTING HOUSE
Claire C. Backus, Editor
Entered as second-class mail matter, under Act of Congress, at the Post Office at Andover, N. Y.

Turning Back the Pages of Andover History
(Taken from the files of the Andover News

30 YEARS AGO
NOV. 8, 1918

J. H. Backus & Son, Editors

Andover went all-out Monday when the news came of the signing of the Armistice. The celebration lasted all day and far into the night.

Mrs. Rose McGuckin died Monday, Nov. 11th. Surviving are her husband, Daniel McGuckin and four children, Alice, Mary and John McGuckin and Mrs. John Quigg.

Word has been received in Andover of the death at Canna, Kan., of Mrs. Edgar Carpenter. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McGrath, three sisters and a brother.

James S. Guinn has purchased the F. A. Richardson residence on First street.

Charles Robinson is in Syracuse this week attending National Grange.

Miss Veronica Hyland left Sunday for Washington, D. C., where she has a position in a War office.

Miss Belle Rice is storing her household goods preparatory to leaving Andover the last of the week for Bowling Green, Ohio, where she will pass the winter.

Work was started this week on the taking up of the rails on the N. Y. & P. Railroad.

40 YEARS AGO
NOV. 6, 1908

J. H. Backus, Editor & Publisher

Daniel L. Cartwright died at his home in East Valley Saturday night after a long illness. He was 75 years of age. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. E. R. Carpenter and Miss Eunice Cartwright.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers, Nov. 9th.

Rev. Boynton, Miss Minnie Clair, Bert Trowbridge and Leslie Hann represented the Andover Baptist Church at the Christian Endeavor County Convention held in Richburg Wednesday.

Ed Wilcox of Springville is greeting Andover relatives and friends this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Slocum were guests of their daughter, Mrs. William Reed of Canisteo Sunday.

Miss Margaret McAndrew left Andover last night to pass the winter with relatives in New York.

Michael and John Casey were called to Montersville, Pa., Wednesday by the sudden death of their sister, Mrs. John Cocoman.

Mrs. Flora Cook is in Rochester this week where she appears on the program at the annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions of Western New York.

50 YEARS AGO
NOV. 9, 1898

Mosher & Green, Editors

W. H. Phillips has gone to Port Jervis where he is employed as clerk in a merchantile house

Mrs. Charles Swain of Canaseraga is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Orvis.

Mrs. H. P. Benton has gone to Castile for treatment at the Castile Sanatarium.

Mrs. Effa Beaver of Galeton was a Sunday guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards and daughter May, of Troupsburg visited her father, C. B. Blowers, a few days last week.

New & Used Cars
Largest Showroom
Display in Western
New York
ALSO NEW HOUSETRAILERS.
One-third down, two years to pay
COLEMAN'S GARAGE
15 West Main Street
CANISTEO, N. Y.

INSURE . . Before Trouble Strikes
Don't wait for a Fire, an Accident or Lawsuit.
PROTECT WHAT YOU HAVE
Ardelle S. Hubbell, agent
Phone 174 Andover, N. Y.

BPS FLATLUX
The Wall Paint made with Oil
NEW DECORATOR COLORS
ONE COAT COVERS MOST INTERIOR SURFACES
PLASTER • WALLBOARD
WALLPAPER • CONCRETE
EASY TO APPLY • QUICK TO DRY
NEW COMPLETE RANGE OF DECORATOR COLORS
WHITE'S
WALLPAPER & PAINT
22 No. Main (our new location) Wellsville

MARY McANDREW
Says:

Andover, N. Y.—I don't believe in death!

I believe there is a Divine Creator.

I believe that there is a Great Plan, that we can not see, or understand, but that we must follow.

Animals possess instinct, but He gave us the power to think. To me this proves that we didn't just happen, and that, we did not by some miracle, learn to think.

Maybe you will not accept that as proof. Perhaps you wonder how great your rewards will be and what happens in the next world.

I do not know how great your rewards will be. I do not know what will happen in the next world. I can tell you this much: We Do Not Die! Human life is an endless thing. When we leave this life, we go on to something even greater. We go on to a more complete life, with less losses and more gains.

Every fall the grass withers and through the winter a blanket of snow protects it. It did not die for in the spring, as the snow sneaks away, it becomes green.

The leaves fall from the trees in the late summer and in the spring tiny green buds appear. Soon the flowers and leaves are gone, but they will come again.

This is not some new life, but a continuance of life. If plant life does not end, why should human life?

Each day I notice the many people on the streets. Some walk briskly along, with a shining ray of hope and faith gleaming in their eyes. They know that somewhere there is a Superior Intelligence. They know that their existence will never end. There are others laboriously trudging along who seem to have no hope and no faith. They are dead, because they believe in death.

We do not die. That thing we call death is only fertilizer for the soul.

MUSIC LESSONS
Private
Band and Orchestra Instruments
Correct Method
Harry H. Williams
Assisted By
Gladys G. Williams

DAY and NIGHT
Wrecking Service
Days - call 327 Nights - call 6143
THE LYNCH GARAGE
Main St. NEWELL C. BAKER Andover

CHURCH SERVICES

SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST
Carl R. Maxson, Pastor

Worship service Sabbath afternoon at 2:30.
Sabbath school at 3:30. Clifford Burdick, Supt.
"God loveth a cheerful giver," of talents, of love, of charity, of money, of all things required in His service. God bless the cheerful giver.

PRESBYTERIAN
Rev. Albert Rogers, Stated Supply

Sunday 10:30 a.m. Morning worship.
11:40 Sunday school, classes for all children.

INDEPENDENCE S. D. BAPTIST
Carl R. Maxson, Pastor

Dr. Ben. R. Crandall of Alfred will deliver the message Sabbath morning.

BAPTIST
Rev. E. W. Hoyt, Pastor

Morning worship, 10:30.
Sunday school, 11:45.
Christian Endeavor, 6:30.
Evening worship, 7:30.
The Bible study class will meet in the parsonage Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.
Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 17 there will be a tureen supper at 7 o'clock. Rev. King Wise, pastor of the First Baptist church of Cuba will be the guest speaker. Rev. Wise will bring us a message on the World Crusade through Evangelism.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Rev. Raymond R. Taylor, Pastor
Mrs. Hazel Burgett, Organist
Mrs. Doris Gilkes, Choir Director

Services Sunday November 14:
10:30 a. m. Morning Prayer. Sermon, "Prejudice and Death"
11:30 Church school.
Friday, 8 p. m. choir rehearsal

Woe to the man who loses the faculty of worship, the faculty of honoring and loving and fearing not merely something better than himself, but something which is absolute best, the perfect good his God. The life is gone out of his life when this is gone. (Phillips Brooks)

It is with pleasure that I announce the arrival of our new Lectern this last week. It is a gift to the church by Mrs. Bohne of Wellsville and her sister and brother. The Lectern was executed by Mr. Clayton Baldwin of Wellsville. We wish to thank all these people for making this gift possible.

CHRISTIAN AND MISSIONARY ALLIANCE
Gordon Larson, Pastor

Sunday school at 10:30.
Morning worship, 11:30.
Evening Evangelistic service at 7:45.
Bible study at the Church this Saturday at 8 o'clock.
Prayer meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m., at the church.

Special Sale On
Tractor Tires
10.28 Tires — ALL MAKES — Regular $59
Tires Will Be Sold For $42 EACH.
Sale Starts Today and Lasts Two Weeks
These are all new tires which have been replaced on new Tractors by oversized tires.
Ford & Peckham
ANDOVER, N. Y.

G. E. Refrigerators
G. E. Freezers
G. E. Ironers
G. E. Radios
Electric Ranges
ABC Washers
Monitor Washers
Steam Irons
2¾ lb. Irons
Toasters
Food Mixers
Clocks
Heat Lamps
Mazda Lamps
Milk Coolers
Milking Machines
Higby Electric
Andover, N. Y.

HEALTH FOR ALL
(This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by The Allegany Health & Tuberculosis Association, Inc., 44 Schuyler St., Belmont, N. Y.)

Most people have at least one acquaintance who foolishly refuses to go to the doctor because he "doesn't want to hear any bad news." He believes that "What he doesn't know won't hurt him."

That type of person fools nobody but himself. The fear that keeps him away from the doctor in the first place isn't half as bad as the constant gnawing doubt that persists while he stubbornly refuses to see the doctor when he isn't up to par.

Unfortunately, there are some ill-advised people who persistently avoid having their chests x-rayed because they are "afraid" the x-ray might reveal active tuberculosis.

But the chest x-ray will help to prove one of two things, either one of which will be to the distinct advantage of the person x-rayed. The x-ray probably will reveal that the person's lungs are clear, that he has no evidence of pulmonary tuberculosis. The person is then reassured of his health.

If the x-ray picture of the lungs happens to show that a person has suspicious signs of tuberculosis, further tests will be made to determine whether or not the person has the disease.

Even if these additional tests prove that the person does have tuberculosis, the sick man has the satisfaction of knowing that he can begin treatment immediately when he has the best chance of cure.

Without the x-ray, the disease might have progressed to the point where it would be much more difficult and much more costly to cure. Tuberculosis can be cured, but it is easier to cure when it is caught early.

That is why a person is fortunate who, if he has tuberculosis, discovers it in an early stage. When tuberculosis first strikes, it brings with it no obvious, apparent symptoms. But the chest x-ray makes it possible for doctors to see the lungs and detect the earliest, destructive work of tuberculosis germs.

Tuberculosis is a disease that is easily spread from person to person. The individual who gets regular periodic chest x-rays, therefore, is protecting his family, his co-workers and his friends as well as himself.

Every adult, whether he seems healthy or not, should get a chest x-ray at least once a year. This is his best way of being sure that he does not have the disease and is not innocently passing it on to others.

Better Health For Children
A Community Service Issued by Children's Hospital of Buffalo, N. Y.

A child's eyes are his most precious possession, and should be guarded carefully.

Eye care begins at birth when the doctor drops a solution of silver nitrate into the newborn baby's eyes to prevent the occurence of infection which might cause blindness. The germs which cause such infections are sometimes present in the birth canal of the mother, and the use of the silver nitrate solution kills those germs and saves the sight of many children.

The next step in eye care is watchfulness. During a child's pre-school years, it is easy for parents to fail to recognize the symptoms of impaired eyesight in their children.

Perhaps the simplest way to watch for eye defects is to watch your baby as he plays. Does he hold his toys and books very close when he looks at them? Does he appear to be clumsy and fall against chairs and other objects around the house more than he should? Is he cross and cranky without apparent reason? Does he throw up his food and lose his appetite after using his eyes?

If your answer is "yes" to any of these questions, you can be fairly certain that you should have the baby's eyes checked by an eye physician. There are many ways eye doctors can check very small children's eyes, and they can discern eye troubles and take the necessary steps to correct them any time after a child is six months old.

Almost every newborn baby appears cross-eyed at times, and temporarily. This condition usually disappears as the child gets older and his eye co-ordination improves. If the condition does not improve by the time the baby is 18 months old, take him to an eye doctor. Crossed eyes can usually be cured with corrective glasses, exercises, medication or surgery. Eyes can be straightened at any age, but the vision will be better if the straightening is done between the ages of two and six years.

Other common eye troubles which effect children will be discussed in this column at a later date.

ELECTRIC BILLS
MUST BE PAID BY THE 20th TO GET NET RATE
Service Discontinued After Two Months in Arrears.
VILLAGE of ANDOVER
ELECTRIC DEPARTMENT

Rockwell's
Annual
Thanksgiving Sale
Starts Thursday Nov. 11th Ends Saturday Nov. 20th
Rockwell's Thanksgiving Sale will truly furnish vicinity shoppers a real feast of values.
All Merchandise is from our Regular Stock and the Sale is Store-Wide.
Take advantage of the Special Low Prices in every department throughout our store for this annual event and do your CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY
Rockwell Bros & Co.
Wellsville, N. Y.

WINEBURG & GLEASON, INC.
100 Main St. Hornell, N. Y.
COATS COAts COats Coats
Dresses Dresses Dresses Dresses
Coats for the little ones
Coats for the Missy size
Coats for the Woman's size
Coats for the Stout size
Dresses for every size
Hundreds to Choose from
Largest stock ever
Our buyers have returned from various markets supplemented our large stocks with newest garments.
Colors Styles Sizes.
WINEBURG & GLEASON, INC.
"CHARLIE AND NEIL"
100 Main St. Hornell, N. Y.