ON THE WAY TO AN ASYLUM

It was deemed best that Mr. Greeley should remain over night at the residence of Mr. John R. Stuart, in Tarrytown. Mr. Stuart was an old friend, and it may be remembered that it was at his house that one of the first receptions tendered to Mr. Greeley after his nomination was given. He was restless all night, and a strict watch was kept upon his movements. He seemed to know that he was on the way to an asylum. At first he told Mr. Stuart that he would not leave his house. It was only after Mr. and Mrs. Stuart promised to call and see him every day that he consented to go. Before leaving Mr. Stuart's residence he walked through the grounds.—Suddenly stopping and gazing intently at two small shrubs, he said, "We must put the cider in the ground, for it will freeze hard before Tuesday."

Mr. Stuart became alarmed, and then endeavored to place him in a close carriage for removal to Dr. Choate's residence, at Mount Pleasant, Mr. Greeley cried bitterly, and for a long time refused to go. He repeatedly said to Mr. Stuart, "don't let them take me away. I want to stay here with you."

It was only when urged by Aunty Samson and Mrs. Stuart that he consented to go with Mr. Stuart in the carriage.

AT DR. CHOATE'S.

The day after his arrival at Dr. Choate's the disease developed itself in all its intensity. The horrors of acute mania were hourly witnessed, and he was violent in his actions. The most skillful treatment at the hands of experienced physicians proved of no avail, and the patient gradually sank into a state of unconsciousness. The inflammation of the brain made the stomach sympathize with it to such an extent that Mr. Greeley refused and was really unable to take food in any form.

Such are the facts as accurately as they can be gathered at this time. The reticence of Mr. Greeley's business associates, who are loath to acknowledge his loss of mental power, has rendered it difficult to obtain them, but we believe them to be correct.

—Persons who never complain of "short crops"—Barbers.

—"How is your honor, Pat?" Unimpeachable, sir," was the reply.

—Knowledge may increase sin if the heart be not educated as well as the head.

A merchant asks why he should be obliged to go so often after money that is coming to him.

—Why are your nose and chin constantly at variance? Because words are continually passing between them!

—Why are laundresses good navigators? Because they are always crossing the line, and going from pole to pole!

—"Have you much fish in your bay?" asked a Jacksonvilleite of a fisherman in the market. "Yes, there's a good eel in it," was the rather slippery reply —Chicago has a petrified baby. It was petrified with astonishment at seeing its father and mother get through one day without quarreling or threatening divorce.

—A Brooklyn lady was very much pleased with the appearance of the cemetery at Danbury, but she said that it must be very unhealthy there because of the abundant shade.

—An old Italian proverb says, "See Naples and die." An American traveler, writing from thence, quotes this proverb, but adds, "I didn't die, but I did very nearly, the smell was so terrible."

—"I don't like these shoes," said a lady customer, "because the soles are too thick." "Is that the only objection?" blandly asked the salesman. "Yes," was the reply. "Then madam, if you take the shoes, I can assure you that the objection will gradually wear away."

—A negro, who was suspected of surreptitiously meddling with his neighbor's fruit, being caught in a garden by moonlight, non-plussed his detectors by raising his eyes, clasping his hands, and piously exclaiming: "Good Lord! this yere darkey can't go nowhere to pray, any more, without being tarbed!"

—At a funeral it New Jersey, the other day, a friend of the deceased asked permission to make a few remarks. When he got upon his feet he informed the officiating clergyman that it would have made his hair to stand on end to watch the corpse planking shad at a picnic, while it was well known fact that "he could shake a livelier leg in the Virginia reel than e'er a man in the whole Methodist Jersey Conference." The farewell then proceeded to the grave.

There is a jolly sort of an idea;—The New York and New Haven Railway Company have been experimenting with a new safety switch, which is thus described: The lever of the switch is enclosed in a small house or sentry-box, the door of which is locked. When the switchman enters the house and opens the switch, he thereby opens the door of the house or box, from which he cannot make his exit till, by shutting the switch, he thereby opens the door of the box. If by any chance a train comes along while the switch is open he must make his escape from the box to avoid the probability of being himself killed. He cannot make his escape without shutting the switch. Therefore, every time a switchman opens a switch he is bound under penalty of death to have it closed before any train comes along. One man can attend to only one switch.

A Devil Worshiper.

New Salem, Ind., has a devil worshiper, and is proud of him. Black Bill is his name and cobbling is his trade. He lives the life of a hermit, and never washes, shaves, or cuts his hair, which is very black. He is not handsome, but what he lacks in beauty he makes up in piety. He is tremendously pious, but believes the religious basis of the whole world is wrong. He holds that men worship the wrong being, and that man would be happier and more successful if he were to offer up his devotions to and ask the aid of his Satanic majesty, instead of appealing to the Throne of Light. He pretends to believe that Satan is the true God of the World, and ought to have due respect paid to him as such. Black Bill lately tried to get up a Young Man's Devil's Association and start a prayer-meeting after his own creed, but the enterprise failed, and he is as yet the only acknowledged member of the sect of Devil Worshipers.

—Never have a wooden leg made of oak, because oak is apt to produce a-corn.

—A down east shop keeper advertises "quart bowls of all sizes for sale cheap."

—Why is a blunt knife partially round like a young pickpocket? Because it is a little sharper.

—The hoof and mouth disease is prevalent in nearly all our large cities. That is to say, balls and lectures are in progress every evening.

—A man who has a beautiful daughter with an obnoxious suitor, got up in the night recently and kicked him out of doors. When his anger lulled he allowed his daughter to explain that he had footed the wrong man. He says now that he was walking in his sleep.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN JURUBEBA BLOOD PURIFIER is unequaled by any known remedy. It will eradicate, exterminate and dissipate from the system all poisonous substances in the blood and will establish a liquid all fresh position to disease, and regenerated.

IS THERE ANY DERANGEMENT IN YOUR LIVER AND STOMACH? Unless relieved at once the blood becomes impure by contact with corrupted matter, causing scrofulous or skin diseases, blotches, felons, purulent canker, pimples, &c., &c.

Have you a DYSPEPTIC STOMACH? Unless digestion is promptly aided, the system is debilitated with loss of vital principles, quantity of the blood, despitial tendency, general weakness or lassitude.

HAVE YOU WEAKNESS OF THE INTESTINES? You are in danger of chronic diarrhœa or the dreadful inflammation of the bowels.

Have you weakness of the urinary organs? You must possess instant relief or you are liable to sudden and severe disease.

Are you dejected, drowsy, dull, sluggish or depressed in spirits, with headache, back ache, coated tongue and bad taste in mouth.

For a certain remedy for all the above diseases, weakness and troubles, for cleansing and purifying the vitiated blood and imparting vigor to all the vital powers, for building up and restoring the weakened constitution USE which is pronounced by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris "the most powerful tonic and alterative ever discovered in the medical world." It possesses all medical discovery but has long been used by the inhabitants of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

Don't weaken and impair the digestive organs by cathartics and other powerful but only temporary relief—Indigestion, flatulency and dyspepsia with piles and kindred diseases are sure to follow their use. Keep the blood pure and health is secured.
