

The Farm and Dairy.

Packings Butter.—The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser describes a new process of packing butter for the retail trade...

A firkin or barrel is prepared by filling to proper depth with strong and pure brine. The butter as it is taken from the churn and prepared for market is carefully selected...

Experience in Wintering Bees. The wintering of bees last winter proved very disastrous, and the writer has interviewed some of the leading apiarists...

Mr. B. O. Part, of Aledo, Catawagus county, N. Y., started into the winter with ninety-three swarms, and got through the winter with only thirty swarms...

Symour King, of Yorkville, started with 70 swarms; lost 43, getting through the winter with 30, or a loss of three out of every five swarms...

J. C. Gile, of Franklinville, started into winter with 30 swarms, lost 40, and in the spring had 20 left, all weak. These have produced 24 new swarms...

G. W. Dustin, of Holland, began the winter with 109 swarms, lost 80, getting through with twenty, or only one out of five swarms, all weak...

Baldwin Brothers, of Sandusky, N. Y., had five species, differently located, started into winter with 425 swarms, one-half in cellars and one-half packed in straw out of doors...

It will be noticed that the loss of the Baldwin brothers are less, proportionately, than any others mentioned; and while most of their bees are Italianes, yet I am of the opinion that they sustained less loss, because they took greater pains and better care in putting their bees into winter quarters...

Eighty-two dead Chimanees were recently shipped from Sacramento for burial in their native land.

A sailor who has a scar which is the result of a dispute on shore many years ago refers to it as an old land mark.
