SHOP EARLY

By Eunice Hall

Do it early and avoid the rush. Yes, have you completed your Christmas shopping yet? Better yet, have you started venturing about in and out of stores, around people, dogs and packages. It is quite late to do some kinds of shopping now. Those packages you are intending to send to relatives and friends in some out of town place should be considered at this time.

During your Christmas shopping you must take heed to your fellow shoppers, they too, want to enjoy Christmas. Avoid carrying and staking your packages in your arms that you can't see where you're heading when you start off like a horse ready for the race. You may cause someone, who is trying to get out of your way, a serious fall or an injury.

Avoid grabbing and pawing at counters especially when there are others gathered about, trying to make their selection also.

Remember the art of giving isn't just to receive a present in exchange.

YOUR MANNERS ARE SHOWING

Did you know that:

If your boy friend always dances with all the girls at a party but you and you've been told that you are a good dancer, what can you do? Well, I'll tell you. You should make every effort to have as good a time as possible at the party. Dance with other boys if they ask, and by all means, do not let your date know that you have noticed his neglect. Make yourself attractive and independent, and he'll come around—just watch!

If you don't know your girl friend's escort's name and you would like to introduce the couple to your date, you can without too much difficulty. Introduce your date to your friend and she should, in turn, introduce her date and your escort. If she doesn't, you can easily introduce yourself to him or allow your date the opportunity to introduce himself and then you.

TOT SPOT

By Mary Brown

Miss Evans' kindergarten children are enjoying a new tool bench and a new doll bed.

Nine of these children have perfect attendance.

Jeanne Campbell and Robert Dougherty treated their classmates in Mrs. Robison's room to ice cream and cake in honor of their birthdays this week.

All the girls in this room have perfect attendance.

Frank Coy has returned to school after several days illness.

The kindergarten children have enjoyed making Christmas decorations this week.

All the children in Mrs. Hall's first grade had perfect attendance last week.

Olive Fuller and Kaye Bostwick have parts in a Christmas play at their church.

Nine students in Mrs. Carmody's room have perfect attendance for the year.

Many of Mrs. Helmer's students enjoyed shopping trips over the week-end. They are: Frank Sutherland, Beverly Barney, Shirley Snyder, Laura Elster, Cordelia O'Dell, James Mulholland and Judy and Richard Baker.

STUDENTS HOLD FASHION SHOW

By Colleen McAndrews

Thursday the home economics students held a fashion show in the homemaking room at 3:10 p. m., for all the girls in the high school.

The students in the home economics classes modeled the clothes that they had made and also some sent out by the McCalls Pattern Company.

Those that modeled clothes made by themselves were: Maxine Baker, blouse; Carol Briggs, skirt and blouse; Pat Sackett, blouse; Colleen McAndrews, blouse; Charlotte Case, skirt; Marie Kemp, blouse; Phyllis Burger, skirt; Neva Curry, dress; Catherine Kemp, skirt; Diana Lewis, skirt; Jackie Vickers, skirt; Marcella Smith, slacks; and Janet Hall, dress.

The girls that modeled the clothes sent out by the McCall Pattern Company were: Marcella Smith, jumper and skirt; Janet Hall, dress; Ruth Atwell, dress; Shirley Tidd, dress; Clarice Nye, dress; Phyllis Burger, duster; Maxine Baker, dress; Ann Marvel, skirt and jacket; Neva Curry, suit; and Colleen McAndrews, formal.

Since the show was praised by those who attended the girls are hoping that they can have another one in the spring.

PEERING AT THE PEDAGOGUES

Mr. and Mrs. Murlyn Conde attended the oratorical contest at Bolivar Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Marie McFadden, who shopped in Olean Saturday also attended the oratorical contest in the Bolivar Central school Sunday afternoon.

Mr. George Reil went Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Mary Baker remained at home over this week-end.

Mr. Carlyle Carmody went for his Christmas tree.

Miss Mary McCarthy took some some of the girls in the 4-H Club to Olean for a radio broadcast.

Mr. Lawrence Bartz put up the Christmas decorations in the school on Saturday and also entertained guests from Avon.

Mrs. Margaret Joyce went Christmas shopping in Hornell Saturday.

Miss Dorothy Sager was absent from school because of illness.

Mrs. Margaret Joyce was not in school Friday because of illness.

Mrs. Mareline Woodruff substituted during the absences of the teachers of the junior-senior high school.

Miss Ruby Jordan is having a new house built in Andover and hopes to move into it soon.

JIM CONDE PLACES SECOND IN COUNTY CONTEST

Jim Conde placed second in the county oratorical contest which was held Sunday, December 10 at Bolivar. Four students competed for prizes of $25, $15 and $10. The girl participant from Cuba won first place and top prize money. She talked about the branches of our government and their duties. Jim Conde, ACS sophomore, and the youngest student competing, gave an excellent oration on the Bill of Rights and made a very decided bid for first prize. The girl student from Wellsville took third prize with an oration on the Bill of Rights also.

"Jim" did a fine job in representing our school. He proved he will be a leading contestant for future contests.

WILDCATS EDGE WHITESVILLE 35-34

By Dean Fisher

On Friday, December 8, the Andover Junior Varsity maintained the league lead by just edging out a scrappy Whitesville five 33-34 in an overtime period.

The first quarter was very close and when it ended the visiting team led 8-6. There wasn't much scoring in the second stanza but Andover still led 8-12. In the third quarter the home team began an uprising and trailed only by a two point margin, 22-20. The fourth period was a wild quarter and when the final whistle blew, the two teams were deadlocked 31-31. The Andover juniors dumped in two buskets while the home team was scoring three points and won out 35-34.

High man for Andover was "Moose" Wheaton with 13 points and "Les" Monahan was next with eight. Blaisted was top scorer for Whitesville with ten points and Ray Smith was second with six.

HARVEY

By Mimsi Briggs

Yesterday I saw Harvey and I asked him if he went to the basketball game at Whitesville on Friday. He replied that he did and said he heard and saw quite a few amusing incidents. If you want to hear some of them that will make your hair curl, just listen to what Harvey had to say:

"The bus left the school promply at 6 o'clock. When we started up Joyce Hill, we just crawled along. Acouple times I thought we were going to roll back down the hill so I was already to jump out. As we rode along we all sang songs. Mary Ann Joyce enjoyed the ride over with Jerry Green.

"When we finally reached Whitesville, we all piled out in front of the school. I was the first one out and ran ahead, eager to see the new school. I guess everyone else was too since there was a big rush. The gym was beautiful, not quite as big as ours, but just as nice. I wondered if A. C. S. bleachers ever looked so clean.

"The game started promptly and between quarters I looked around to see if everyone was enjoying himself. Since I happened to sit near Beverly Laucks, I saw that she was annoyed by Jerry Green. Every time a point was scored by Andover he would give a blood-curdling whistle right in her ear which continued during both games.

"Ann Marvel came down and reported that whenever we had a foul shot a woman in back of her would shout. 'Oh go down, go down! you can't make the shot'. Ann said that when Whitesville had a foul shot, she yelled the same words. Ann said that the woman's face got red and she didn't say anything after that.

"Carol Briggs had almost the same experience with a man in back of her.

"Mary Ann Joyce had a little trouble with 'Tim' Marsh. Some how he found her wallet and took some pictures. When Mary Ann demanded them back Tim threatened to sell them to "Jim" Padden for ten cents each. Finally after a struggle she got them back.

"When the games were over everyone was tired but happy.

"Everyone loaded into the buses and then we were off. We sang all the way home."

MEET OUR TEACHERS

Have any of you ever seen a blue Chevrolet and wondered who it belonged to? It could be the car of Mr. Glenn Bronson, A. C. S.'s Agricultural teacher.

Mr. Bronson was born in Lindley, N. Y., and is now married and has three children, Patricia, Connie and Gail.

When he goes to the movies, he likes to see Bob Hope or Esther Williams. His favorite movie is "Duchess of Idaho." At the nearest music store he would probably purchase the record "Bushel and a Peck" sung by either Dinah Shore or Bing Crosby. After a dinner of tantalizing venison steaks, Mr. Bronson is ready to just take it easy, maybe by reading "Crusade in Europe" by "Ike" Eisenhower.

His pet peeve is obstinate people while his hobby is hunting and fishing.

Mr. Bronson now lives on Pleasant Avenue in Andover. He attended Cornell University and did graduate work at Alfred University. He has a B.S. degree and has been teaching seven years.

4-H NEWS

The girls 4-H Club held a meeting Thursday, Dec. 7, in the homemaking room at 4 p. m. for the purpose of electing officers by secret ballot. The officers so elected are:

Charity Howland, president
Gay Rogers, vice president
Lucille Smith, secretary
Betty Ann Kemp, treasurer.
Sandra Bostwick, songleader
Ann Marvel, news reporter.

Janet Lang, Alura Grossman, and Ann Marie Joyce, cheerleaders.

The projects for the coming year are "Sew a Fine Seam" and "Cakes."

On Saturday, December 9th Charity Howland, Gay Rogers and Lucille Smith went to Olean to broadcast a 4-H program on Christmas foods and center pieces. They broadcasted on the Olean station at 12:15. This was one of the regular monthly broadcasts presented by the 4-H Clubs in Allegany and Cattaraugus counties.

A. C. S. P. A. NEWS

The second quarterly meeting of the A. C. S. P. A. was held at Belmont Central school last Wednesday evening at 6:30. The schools represented were Angelica, Belmont, Fillmore, Friendship, Rushford, Cuba and Andover.

A dinner of chicken a la king and other tasty food started the night's program.

Following the dinner they gathered in the music room and were entertained by a saxaphone quintet that played a few Christmas selections. Then the speaker, Mr. White who is on the publicity staff at Alfred University spoke about the publicizing at Alfred University.

At the close of the meeting it was decided that the next one would be the last of February at Belfast.

Holsteins Sell a Record High Price in Sale

At Earlville, N. Y., on Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 6 and 7, 233 Registered Hostein cattle were sold for $124,840 to average $529, bringing the largest amount of dollars ever paid for a two-day offering of registered Holsteins in this long-established sale under the management of R. Austin Backus, Mexico, N. Y.

Butterfly Farms, Mexico, obtained $2,500 for a high testing cow purchased by Stocker Bros., Easton, Pa., Orson D. Smith, obtained $2,150 for a 901 lb. fat cow. She was purchased by Butterfly Farms, and John Rienhardt, Syracuse, sold a 2-year old bull for $2,050 to Howard Sisson, Sherburne. Seven other animals sold over $1,000 and the invitational offering of 68 head selected by Dr. E. S. Harrison, Camden, sold the first day for an average of $810.

Buyers numbering 143 took the offerings during the two days from 132 consignors with the cattle going to 33 different counties in New York State while 16 out-of-state buyers purchased 52 head or about one-quarter of the entire sale volume. Arthur and Martha Loftus, Pawlet, Vt. purchased 19 head for $8,605 and Walter and Pearl Whitbeck, Franklin, N. Y., took 15 head for $7,395.

More than 1,500 people attended the sale from as far west as Kansas, among whom was Wm. F. Joyce of Andover.
