Village to Curb And Gutter East Greenwood Street

A petition was presented to the Andover Village Board at its regular meeting Tuesday night by the residents of East Greenwood street requesting that the village curb and gutter that street.

The board acted favorably on the petition and work will begin on the project, under the direction of Street Commissioner Fay Boyd, in the near future. The first step in this project necessitates the changing of the water service on that street for which we understand plans are now being made.

The board also passed a resolution to call a public hearing on Friday evening May 12, a notice of which will be found in another column of this week's News, to pass on a proposed parking ordinance for the Village of Andover. The substance of the proposed parking ordinance would limit parking on Main street between Dyke and Elm streets and a portion of East Greenwood street to two hours, between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 6 p. m. and also prohibit parking on portions of Dyke street, Pleasant Avenue and West Center street.

As no objections were raised at the hearing on the annual village budget, the budget was adopted by the board as published in a recent issue of the News.

Minstrel Show Huge Success "Willie" Believes

Well, it's all over — and we don't mean that nice gooey meringue the boys threw around at the minstrel show so carelesslly, we mean the minstrel is over for another year — and even now there are rumors that some of the boys are thinking up more drastic steps to cut loose with when it does roll around.

"The Man With a Shovel" is no more (especially with all the snow now gone). Verily though he walkethed through the streets of Andover unscathed during the days preceding the minstrel, mine friends finally caught up with him on the final eve of the play and buried his shovel in his thick but tender skull.

Also on the missing list now is old "Paddy of the Patch" who was last seen way below the "Patch" heading west as fast as his long legs could carry him and an angry and disappointed wife in pursuit because she became convinced that he was not the glamor boy publicity had built him up to be.

So that leaves us all alone once more, simply because we happened to be out of town again those two nights and probably escaped the fate of those other poor benigned half-wits.

We understand that our friend H. L. Gath was rather skeptical as to the success of the show before it was presented, but after counting noses as the folks headed up to the school each of the two nights we know he was just worrying in vain as so far as we can see it was the most successful performance of that type ever to be presented to the people of Andover (and we are not just making words there either, Gath).

The Exchange Club boys all join us in thanking the folks in general, and those who took so much ribbing in particular for the fine support given them in their annual charities show, and if you are all patient and just wait until next spring you can see another show of that brand with some more new stunts and surprises perhaps even better than the one given this year, if that's possible.

As in all shows, "the gang" who worked hard on rehearsals, etc., in order to put it across, we want to thank the following on behalf of the Exchange Club: Francis Cable, Pauline Yorton, Robert Ennis, Kenneth McClure, James Backus, George Karcanes, Robert Baker, Carlyle Carmody, Harold Huffcutt, Jug Dunham, Earl Richardson, John Richardson, Dick Potter, Ding Baker, Paul Kilbane, Bill Harrison, Chuck Holt and the girls of the Andover girls' chorus.

Behind the scenes the following dug in to put the show over the top: Harold Rice, Howard Gath, James Burgett, Al Wood, Everett Clair, Fay Boyd, Reg Sootheran, and last but not least Andover Central School for the use of its auditorium and Baker's Hardware for ticket sales.

And so—Adieu.

"WILLIE"
