WANDERING with "WILLIE"

WHILE gabbing with a group the other night, the remark was made that some folks (notice we just said some) would miss all the malarky that was written before the Exchange Club minstrel show. But fear not, as we are still talking minstrel show this week.

The way it happened was like this (and we're not passing the buck either): In the list of names handed us last week, some of the best talent was omitted by the guy who made out the list and so-o-o-o this week with a rather red face, a second list was handed in to us by a different party who double checked on the names and found the omissions. You probably noticed yourselves who the "boys" were who were missing from the list but to put the record straight they are—"Bud" Trowbridge, "Bud" Milligan and "Mike" Gath from the stage and "Doc" Common and "Slim" Reynolds behind the scenes.

AND while we're on the subject of shows, the public hearing party to be held this Friday evening between 7 and 9 bells at the village hall should prove to be quite an interesting affair if all we hear about it is true. We look for a quite a crowd down there to discuss the Main street parking ordinance business and are rather interested as to the outcome of the pros and cons of the little jamboree.

We would also like to see a public hearing come up some year about widening our Main street and besides doing away with the little bunches of grass here and there along the street give a guy plenty of room to do his parking and beautify the street.
