"Free and Unshackled."

G. S. BARNARD.

Thursday, March 26, 1874.

WHAT ASSURES

Give me very justly said in his last annual message that there is no mystery in the annexation question. Man may puzzle over different plans of effect. There may be diversities of opinion respecting the details of legislation. But as to the annexation question, there is no mystery. The people of the United States are to be consulted. The people of the United States are to be consulted. The people of the United States are to be consulted.

AN IMPORTANT COMMITTEE

The following we take from the New York Times in regard to the Assembly Committee. It will be seen that the Times, as well as a large majority of the people, are somewhat misinformed of them. There are several railroad bills now before that committee, and plenty more to come. The committee will be closely watched from now until the close of the session, and that the people may know who they are, we publish the Times' notice of them:

Mr. Smith M. Weed, of Clinton. We believe that Mr. Weed is counsel for the Delaware and Hudson Canal, and is therefore a railroad man. There is no reason, of course, why he should not do his duty faithfully on this committee. Mr. Martin L. Stover, of Montgomery county. A gentleman not unacquainted with Senator Wagner, who is on Vanderbilt's line. We assume, however, that Mr. Stover is an honorable man, and will resist all influences which may be brought to bear upon him.

Mr. Augustus Dennison, of Orange. Totally unconnected with any railroad, so far as we know, and a man of irreproachable character. Mr. George W. Chadwick, of Oneida. Both men of good reputation, and whose names we have never heard of.

ANYTHING TO BEAR

We have known for some time that a strong influence was at work to kill the Annexation. Every means, no matter how mean or how low, have been employed in the past. The foremost of these was the "Amber Apartment," a weekly paper, which was published in this city, and was edited by G. S. Barnard. It was a weekly paper, which was published in this city, and was edited by G. S. Barnard.

History of the Orange Movement

Among the many remarkable events of the year which is just drawing to a close, there is none so worthy of notice and careful study than the important movement among the agricultural classes, and which promises to create the "Farmer's War Against Monopoly." The rapid and astounding growth of this movement, the formation of the Farmers' Granges in every part of the Union, and the remarkable success that has attended every step of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry, have made it the most closely and anxiously observed of any of the movements of the day.

Mr. Augustus Dennison, of Orange. Totally unconnected with any railroad, so far as we know, and a man of irreproachable character. Mr. George W. Chadwick, of Oneida. Both men of good reputation, and whose names we have never heard of.

The Erie strike at Jersey City is at an end, and the men that struck have been discharged and paid off and new men put in their places, and all is well again.

The Rochester Express gets off the following note:

The New York Express insists upon the Democracy nominating and electing another better man than Governor Dix. The trouble is that the Democracy haven't entrance to the place where such men only can be found.

Remains of Dr. Livingston.

At 10 o'clock, on Monday, the remains of Dr. Livingston were interred in the cemetery at Westchester, N. Y.

Real Estate For Sale

A Store on Main Street, Andover, occupied by Messrs. A. Brown & Co. as a business, will be sold upon reasonable terms.

Also, a House and Lot on Railroad Street, near the Water Mills. A good site to build upon.

Executors' Sale!

The influence of forests in drawing moisture from the heavens may be judged from the experience of San Diego, California. Previous to 1859 there was yearly a rainy season, which nourished the soil and made it productive. The greater part of the country, cutting down the luxuriant chaparral, and blackening the hills. Since then there has been no rainy season at San Diego.
