Hay Making Demonstration

James A. Young, Jr., chairman of the Farm Bureau Dairy Committee announces that a "Hay Harvesting Day" will be held at the Erwin Seberry farm on Wednesday, June 14 and in case of rain on the 15th.

The program will include a discussion of hay making methods and a complete demonstration of various types of equipment including tractors, mowers, rakes, balers, choppers, home made unloading devices, commercial unloaders, elevators, blowers, crushers, buckrakes, and other home made devices. Farmers are urged to bring in any home-made device they believe to be of interest to the group.

Good quality hay is one of the cheapest sources of feed today and through a demonstration such as this farmers might be able to determine which method and what type of equipment is best on his farm to put up quality hay in the most efficient and economical way.

The program will start at 10 a. m. with mowing machine operation and continue through 3:30 or 4 p.m. Everyone is welcome. Bring your lunch and stay all day.

Price For May Milk Estimated At $3.27

New York, May 24—A uniform price of $3.27 per hundredweight will be paid to dairy farmers for their May deliveries to pool-approved plants in the New York milkshed, according to a forecast released today by Dr. A. J. Pollard, acting market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

He estimated at the same time that the producer butterfat differential for May would be 5.8 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

Fresh Air Children To Arrive July 13

It is announced that the Fresh Air children will arrive in Andover this year on July 13. They will all arive at the same time.

"In a World Where He is Tall"

In this age of falling barriers, tenement walls are high and still cast long shadows across millions of children. Taking one such child into the open spaces of the countryside for even two weeks has results sometimes that are in the nature of a small miracle.

Suddenly he is in a world where he is tall, where walls are so low he can climb over them, where the ground gives to his weight as he walks. No pavement ever did that; he has no weight back there in the alley. But in the lane and field he is big, he is real, he is a person who leaves his footprint on the earth as he walks across it. And it is all so much fun. That is enough for most of us, just to know that a little of our money has made a youngster have two weeks of new and happy experiences.

For others, the Fresh Air project is a special opportunity to bring together in our own home children of different races and religions where all can live out together for two weeks a deep belief which many have felt so helpless to express and to tidy up a small space in the world's confusion.

Alfred Ceramic College To Celebrate 50th Anniversary June 11-12

Plans are announced by Dr. M. Ellis Drake, president of Alfred University for the golden anniversary celebration of the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred June 11-12.

Dr. Charles E. K. Mess of the Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, will be the principal speaker on the 11th and a symposium on "Ceramic Education: Past, Present and Future," will highlight the program on June 12.

The College of Ceramics at Alfred is the largest educational institution in the United States specializing in training ceramic engineers, glass technologists and industrial ceramic designers.

Scouring damages walls and woodwork, for it not only removes finish, but also roughens the surface so that it gathers soil more easily.

Notice of Competitive Examinations

I wish to announce that competitive examinations will be held in Jamestown, Olean and Dunkirk on Monday, July 17 at 8:30 a. m. (local time) to fill one vacancy at West Point and one vacancy at Annapolis in 1951.

The examinations will be open to all young men who are residents of the 45th Congressional District and who are United States citizens.

West Point candidates are eligible for admission to the Military Academy from the day they are 17 until they become 22 years of age, on which latter day they are not eligible. Annapolis candidates are eligible for admission to the Naval Academy if they are not less than 17 years of age nor more than 21 years of age on April 1 of the calendar year in which they enter the Naval Academy. The age limit for both academies is 24 for any candidate who has served honorably for one year in the armed forces during the last war.

Following the custom in our district, the appointments will be given to the young men who make the highest grades in the examinations.

Those desiring to take this competitive examination should notify me immediately, giving name, address, and birthdate. I must have this information by June 5th to submit to the Civil Service Commission, who will conduct the examinations for me.

Yours sincerely,
DANIEL A. REED

Joyce Cow Completes Production Test

Brattleboro, Vt.—Mae Julia Posh, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by William F. Joyce of Andover has completed a 365-day production test of 544 pounds of butterfat and 15,124 pounds of milk in herd improvement registry.

This cow was milked twice daily and was four years old when she began her test period.
