Fine Farms and Pairy.

Butter-Making not a Fixed Science.

What do you think is the opinion of a thousand or more farmers in this country who will agree with the editor of "Ogden Farm," in the American Agriculturist, that "butter-making is not a fixed science by a considerable, unless it be science to know how to make butter

There is no greater evidence of the need of improvement in our agriculture than that presented in the vast amount of poor butter sold by farmers, in every market town and city in the country. It is the next thing to impossible to buy good, clean, pure colored, and fine-flavored butter in any grocery in Rochester, at least during the winter season.

Now, what is the cause of this; ignorance on the part of farmers and their wives of the way to make good butter; or lack of means and strength to follow the true way? In the first place, cows must have good, nutritious, butter-forming food, a plenty of pure water, clean yards and stables, and good and regular attendance as a prerequisite to their yielding the materials for making good butter; and then that material must be collected and kept in clean, sweet vessels, in cool rooms, free from infecting odors, and receive the labor necessary to convert it into butter, and to separate therefrom all impurities.

In most cases this butter-making must be done by the co-operation of both male and female laborers. The farmer must provide the pasture, and other food, the yards and stables, the pure water, the attendance, including milking, and the milk room, while the farmer's wife and her assistants must keep the utensils clean and sweet, attend to the care of the milk and cream, and the churning, working, and packing of the butter. We doubt not, that a majority of the cases of failure to make good butter may be attributed to the neglect of the farmer to provide the first requisites to success, and the remainder to the lack of strength upon the part of the women to properly perform these parts. But, without saying more, we give the extract that has suggested these thoughts:

"It is reported that at a meeting of the American Dairymen's Association, a prominent member said: 'Butter-making is a fixed science. Everybody knows all about it; it is of no use to bring it up here.' I have no doubt that this opinion is widely shared by the farmers of the country, and especially by their wives. It is true they know how to skim a pan of milk, how to work the dasher of a churn, how to squeeze out half the buttermilk with a wooden spoon, how to shovel in the salt, and how to stow it away in streaks in a firkin. Judging from the butter one sees (and smells) in the markets, a majority of them consider this the whole of the "fixed science." Those who know more about it know very much less, and there is not a single item of the process from the selection of the cow to the packing for market on which they do not leave more light and need more. We are, after all these centuries, on the very eve of knowledge, and those who first confess their ignorance, and make the earliest attempts to learn are those to whom success and pecuniary reward will first come.—[Rural Home.

Maxims for Small Farms.

1. Small farms are cheaper and easier to manage than large ones, and pay better for the capital invested; therefore small farms are the best.

2. If you want to make your farm pay, you must give it your daily attention. But if your farm is too large you can not do this; hence, as I said above, small farms are the best.

3. If you don't want your farm to run away, you must stop the little leaks.—We may expect fewer leaks on a few acres than on a great many.

4. Feed your land well, and it will feed you just as well. It takes less to feed a small farm than a large one.

5. If you would live long and enjoy life, work a little, then rest a little; but if you have a very large farm you must work all the time.

6. If you have good fences you need not to look to stock; but at the same time fences are costly.

7. If you want good roads and plenty of schools, churches, and mills, you must have a dense population. If farms are large this is impossible.

8. Farms should increase in value year by year. It costs less to improve them than to purchase a great many. Therefore, in my opinion, small farms are best.—[C., in Rural Home.

Tomatoes.

At a meeting of the Alton Horticultural Society (Ill.), Capt. Hollister gave an account of his successful method of raising tomatoes, which is briefly as follows: The seeds are sown in a hot bed, in drills. After the plants come up, they are root pruned by passing a knife between the rows. When rough leaves appear, they are transplanted to another bed, two or three inches apart. If they become "drawn" the roots are doubled up on the stem, and thus set out in a warm bed. The plants are run repeatedly between the rows, while they stand in the crowd, they are transplanted again into a colder bed, with eight or ten inches of earth. Thus they grow strong and stocky. The weeds are, of course, kept down by growing crops, and the ground used as often as once a week, the roots become short and numerous, and hold the soil when they are set out. The plants were set out in the field the 1st of July, at Alton, lat. 38°.

Crib Biting.

A correspondent of the London Field recommends the rubbing of aloes upon mangers to prevent crib biting; he says it is completely cured a confirmed cribber that he had just bought. A correspondent of the Spirit of the Times recommends the application of crude petroleum for the same purpose.

M. J. Ellis.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR-DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines.
Price One Dollar.

Buckingham's Dye.
FOR THE WHISKERS.

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation, which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass.
