Allegany County To Have Good Roads Chapter

Albany, June 7—Allegany county will be the 35th county in the state to have its own chapter of the New York Good Roads Association. Formation of the local chapter is scheduled for Tuesday, June 20, when Association members who reside in Allegany County will meet in the County Court House in Belmont at 8:00 p. m. for that purpose. Principal speaker will be Charles H. Sells, Executive Director of the New York Good Roads Association and former New York State Superintendent of Public Works.

"The meeting for the organization and former New York State Roads Association," said Mr. Sells, "has been scheduled in response to requests from county residents who are members of the State Association." All Allegany County residents who are interested in good roads are invited to attend the June 20 meeting, he said.

Included on the agenda for that meeting will be the adoption of county chapter by-laws and the election of officers to head the local group. Supervisor Francis N. Alvord, of Friendship, will be chairman for the meeting. A capacity attendance of persons from all sections of the county is anticipated.

Membership in the New York Good Roads Association is open to all citizens of the state who are at least 18 years of age, who subscribe to the principle that good roads are needed and who pay their annual dues of one dollar. "It should be made clear," said Mr. Sells, "that the New York Good Roads Association is a people's organization and, in order to keep it so, no person who is employed by government or by any company or industry interested in road construction may hold any elective office in the State Association or any of its various chapters.

Assisting in planning for the Allegany County meeting are: H. L. Bloss, banker, of Whitesville; Harry Craig, County Highway Superintendent, of Belmont; Richard E. Hall, farmer, of Belmont; Ralph P. Hamilton, auto dealer, of Wellsville; Leon J. MacDonnell, oil producer, of Bolivar; Ferd L. Shear, Chairman of the Allegany County Board of Supervisors, of Standards; Hollis G. Young, utilities, of Fillmore.

Many wise men and women, in the years behind us, put their thoughts into words—you can find them in books if you have time to read a book.

Library News

In Foot Notes of Nature John Kieran writes about a few men, and many walks in the woods and fields of New York and New England. It is an account of the birds, trees and flowers that were encountered in that territory. A good reading preparation for your summer vacation trips.

Another delightful book for interesting reading at this time of year is The Joyful Gardener by Agnes Rothery. She writes of many kinds of gardens, from the Garden of Eden, the Hanging Gardens, to gardens of simple wild flowers and indoor gardens in winter.

Dardanelles Derelict, Van Wyck Mason. Major Hugh North, posing as a traitor, tricks Soviet agents, goes behind the Iron Curtain to get secret data and escapes to Turkey with the help of a pretty newspaper woman.

Kinfolk, Pearl Buck. In this fine novel, Pearl Buck pictures the ignorant but deeply wise and lovable Chinese peasants, and what happens when they come in contact with American civilization.

The Pink House, by Nelia Gardner White, author of No Trumpets Before Him, is a moving story of Nora Holme, a little crippled orphan who is sent to live with unfriendly relatives; of her courage and faith in trails, and the happy culmination of her love.
