"The Town," by Conrad Richter, is a superb novel of the Luckett family, born in the wilderness and their transition to the ways of civilization and the turmoil of the first half of the 19th century. "The Town" continues the story begun in Richter's "The Trees and the Fields."

May Milk Price Set at $3.28 per Hundredweight

A uniform price of $3.28 per hundreweight will be paid to dairy farmers for their May deliveries to pool-approved plants in the new York milkshed according to Dr. C. J. Blanford, Market Administrator. The uniform price in April was $3.43 per hundredweight and in May a year ago, $3.55.

The administrator also announced a producer butterfat differential for May of 5.8 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

The output of 763,195,002 pounds exceeded by 5.45 per cent the production in May a year ago. The previous high was set in May 1942 with 725,304,622 pounds.

Andover to Have Religious Vacation School

The Rev. Raymond F. Herzing, director of Summer Vacation Schools for the Diocese of Buffalo, announces that plans are being made with the Rev. John R. Shea, pastor of Blessed Sacrament parish, to conduct a Religious Vacation School in Andover, during the month of July as a part of a six county program being carried out in the Diocese of Buffalo.

The Vacation School classes are conducted by the 85 young men of the Diocese who are studying for the priesthood. Two seminarians are stationed at each parish center, and they reside at the parish rectory during the four week period of the summer schools. Each weekday morning except Saturday is devoted to teaching the children, who are divided into a junior and a senior group. In the afternoon, the seminarians make spiritual visitations to the families living in the district.

The Vacaton School in Andover will open on Monday, July 3 and will close Thursday noon, July 27. The Most Reverend John F. O'Hara, Bishop of Buffalo, has assigned Frank Knab of St. Bonaventure's Seminary, Olean and Richard A. Graeber of St. Bernard's Seminary, Rochester, to conduct the classes in Andover.

The Summer School day begins with Mass at 8:30 in the morning. Preliminary to this, the seminarians and the parish priest arrange the transportation of all those who are beyond walking distance from the school. After Mass, the work of teaching is begun by the trained and experienced seminarians, and the classes continue until noon. They are interrupted at 10:30 with a half hour recess, at which time milk and cookies are served to the children. After class arrangements are made to take the children back to their homes.

The primary purpose of the Summer Vacation Schools is to reach those children who, because of distance from the parish church, find it difficult to receive religious training. The program has in mind the importance of the individual child. It works according to the principal that in the sight of God, every child is important. It is most democratic in this, that it gives the minority the same advantages enjoyed by the majority. It is the wish of Bishop O'Hara that every child in the Diocese who desires religious instruction shall have the opportunity to learn the truths of the Catholic faith.
