Have a Companionable Kitchen

Plan a place for the family in your kitchen—if it's just a rocking chair in one corner—so you can enjoy chatting with the youngsters and Dad while you go about your work.

You spend many hours in the kitchen; they can be more pleasant hours when you have company for conversation as you prepare meals. With a comfortable place to sit and relax in the kitchen, the children head for the spot first when they come home from school. And the man of the house will take to read the paper there and discuss the day's activities. Perhaps, you'll also get more help with kitchen tasks.

Have a play space in the kitchen for the littlest folks too, if it's at all possible. A youngster likes a place where he can play freely and also see and hear his mother.

Sewing With Nylon

If you select nylon in a gay print or a bright plain color for your costume, sew on it with a little extra care to get best results.

Since nylon is strong, sharp scissors and pins and needles must be used when working with it, according to clothing specialists. When you cut out a garment, leave a wide seam allowance because nylon may fray a bit. Also cut notches outward instead of into the seam allowance for the same reason.

To stitch on nylon, have the machine needle as sharp and fine as possible. Slacken tensions on the machine to avoid puckering and drawing of seams. As you stitch, hold fabric front and back without letting it slip; and ease fabric through, sewing slowly.

All-Purpose Furniture

When you shop for new furniture, look for pieces that will serve several purposes.

Tables, for instance, can be quite versatile if well chosen. A drop-leaf table may be used for dining, for a writing desk, or for a card table. And the leaves can be put down so the table takes little space when not in use. A coffee table will double as a bench if you choose one that's sturdy; and that's convenient when the living room overflows with company.

Instead of regular beds, a studio couch or sofa bed may be the wisest choice. One of these will serve for seating space or for sleeping. Make sure of its comfort and how easily it converts to a bed before buying. Another way to economize on beds is to buy a simple frame with four legs but without a headboard or footboard. Generally these cost less than regular beds.

Nylon Shirts for Men

For the man of the house, a nylon shirt may fill the bill as a birthday gift. But make sure there's plenty of room in sleeves and body of the shirt before you buy.

A good fit is important because nylon has a tendency to give way at the seams unless there is plenty of room—however, it won't shrink. Clothing specialists at the New York State College of Home Economics list several points to look for, seams; well cut collar, yoke and cuffs; and well made buttonholes.

There are both advantages and disadvantages in nylon shirts. On the asset side, they wash easily, and dry quickly. If necessary, they can be worn without ironing, though pressing the collar and cuffs does improve the appearance. One disadvantage is the fact that the shirts sometimes have puckered seams around the collars, cuffs and pockets. Also, some men find nylon shirts unsatisfactory in warm weather because these garments don't absorb perspiration.

S. D. Baptist Western Association Meets at Independence

The 114th annual session of the Western Association of Seventh Day Baptist churches was held at Independence Saturday and Sunday, June 17-18, with members in attendence from Alfred, Alfred Station, Andover, Hebron, Hebron Center, Little Genesee, Nile, Richburg and Independence. Visitors were also present from Verona, Plainfield, N. J., and Westerly, R. I.

The Sabbath morning worship was conducted by Don Sanford, acting pastor of the Independence and Andover churches, assisted by Rev. Ronald Hargis, executive secretary of the S. D. Baptist Board of Christian Education, who is serving as pastor of the Hebron churches. The sermon was given by Rev. Victor W. Skaggs, Little Genesee who chose as his topic, "Doing the Impossible." Music was furnished by the children's choir of the Independence church under the direction of Mrs. S. W. Clarke.

The afternoon service consisted of a men's sing under the direction of Rev. Albert N. Rogers, a worship service conducted by Paul Osborn, pastor of the Nile church, and a panel discussion on the camping program with Fred Palmer acting as chairman. Speaking on the panel were George Davis, Verona, Dr. Wayne Rood, Alfred, Rev. Albert N. Rogers, Alfred Station, and Rev. Skaggs. Much thought has been given this project of establishing a camp ground for the use of the Associational camping program for both youth and adults. The young people's camp this year will be held at the Whitesville Exchange Club camp, July 30 to August 5.

The business meeting was called to order by S. W. Clarke, moderator Sunday afternoon following a tureen dinner. Mark Sanford, Little Genesee was elected moderator for the coming year and is also chairman of the committee to select a suitable camp site. Other officers elected included Jesse Burdick, Richburg, assistant moderator; Mrs. F. J. Pierce, Alfred Station, corresponding secretary; Thelma Clarke, Richburg, recording secretary; Marion Carpenter, Alfred, assistant recording secretary; Elmer B. Cowles, Richburg, treasurer; Ruby Clarke, Alfred Station, chairman Children's Division; Lola Sutton, chairman Youth Division; Leuella Lewis, Alfred Station, chairmon Youth Adult Division and Leta Crandall, chairman Adult Division.

The next regular session will be held at Little Genesee.
