Nine Women Nominated For Potato Queen

The Potato Commodity Committee of Allegany County will sponsor a county queen this year to exemplify the superior quality of Allegany County Potatoes William Hodnet of Fillmore, chairman of the potato Commodity Committee, announces that nine women from, Fillmore, Andover, and Wellsville have been nominated for the prospective title of County Queen. He urges persons interested in the potato industry of the county to send their nomination ballots to the Farm Bureau Office in Belmont. The nominees must have all of the three following qualifications over 18 years old, wife or daughter of a potato grower and a resident of the county.

The County Queen will be chosen in an appropriate ceremony during July. On August 3rd she will have the opportunity to try for the title of State Potato Queen, with other countys' queens. The final selection on Augusta 3rd will take place during the Summer Field Day of the Empire State Potato Club. The event will be on the Maurice Phelps farm near Chaffee in Erie County.

County Herds Rate High in June

Allegany County dairymen who test their herds under the supervision of one of the six official DHIA testers of the county, find that their high records prove the worth of accurate record keeping in knowing the full value of better breeding, good pasture care and proper barn feeding. Assistant County Agent, Charlie Hebblethwaite released the following statistics to show standing of the top herds of the county for June.

Those farmers with herds having a monthly average per cow of over 50 pounds of butterfat were: Leslie Merwin and Son of Fillmore 50.8; Carlton Green, Andover 52.6; Glenn Wightman of Bolivar 56.5 and Fred Bennett of Cuba 50.0.

Those with butterfat averages between 45.0 and 50.0 pounds per cow were Clark Luckey 46.8 and Alfred Sweet 46.8 of Black Creek; James Merriam of Friendship 49.8, Rodney Sheffield 47.0 and James A. Young 45.9 of Angelica; Claude Fuller 48.6 and Leland Cooley 46.3 of Fillmore; Charles Capes 46.7 of Rushford, Lewis Waters 47.5 of Whitesville, Everett Clarke 46.9 of Andover, Alfred Agricultural Tech. Unit 1 of Alfred 46.7.

A total of 151 herds were on test in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month.

William Joyce Cow Completes Test

Brattleboro, Vt., July 7—With an average of 523 pounds of butterfat and 14,862 pounds of milk to her credit, Kay Topsy Aggie, registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by William F. Joyce of Andover, has completed a 365-day production test under the official Herd Improvement Registry. She was milked twice daily and was three years 11 months when she began her testing period.

The 18-cow herd of registered Holstein-Friesians owned by the New York State Agricultural and Technical Institute at Alfred recently completed their last test year with an average of 433 pounds of butterfat and 12,320 pounds of milk.

County Bridges In Bad Shape Report Shows

Allegany county supervisors were handed a staggering statement last Thursday in the form of a report on the condition of county bridges.

The report showed that Allegany county is responsible for a total of 346 bridges of a 25-foot span or more, the annual cost of maintenance of which is $220,000. The report also showed that more than half of the bridges for which the county is responsible need replacement or repair that would cost an estimated $4,840,000.

County Superintendent of Highways Harry Craig, in addressing the board said that "Bridge costs on town roads must be paid from the taxes raised on real estate.

"Construction, reconditioning and repair of bridges located on county roads is paid from money in the county road fund. This money comes from Allegany's share of the gas tax, auto license fees and state aid. The county's share of this money this year was $40,000," Mr. Craig said.

The highway committee's statement said that 16 bridges span the Genesee river "14 of these structures are unsafe for loads which pass over them. Foundations are unstable and in danger from every reasonable flood. Present structures and foundations do not justify major repairs. Minor repairs necessary are of temporary value only."

The report estimated that cost of replacing 13 bridges would total $3,250,000 and that repairs to structures and foundations alone would equal $300,000.

The committee's report also said that 81 of the 164 bridges on county roads "should be replaced. Their condition demands constant and excessive maintenance costs."

Replacement cost of the 81 bridges was set at $720,000 and immediate repairs at $85,000.

Ninety-two town road bridges of 25-foot span or more need replacement. The report said that "all are posted for restricted loading. All are carrying loads which far exceed their posting and capacity. Maintenance costs are excessive."

Present repairs were estimated at $80,000 and replacement cost for the 92 was set at $870,000.

The board passed a resolution for the spending of $13,000 on the repair of bridges in the towns of Willing, Hume and Friendship.
