Library Observes Fiftieth Anniversary

the vestibule commemorating the builder as well as the giver. May 20, 1913 an informal reception was held afternoon and evening, in observance of the opening of the building upon the site which was given to the association by Mrs. J. M. Brundage.

It is interesting to note the names, besides those already mentioned, of some whose interest and efforts made possible the library's continuance and made it worthy of the pride and support of our citizenry. Among them are to be mentioned Dr. John Common, Mrs. Addie Coleman, Mrs. A. M. Burrows.

The list is not complete, of course, without the name of John E. Cannon, who was president of the association from 1905 to 1933 and who, up to his death, was the last surviving charter member. The building and its contents are a fitting memorial to their interest and efforts.

The librarians through its history were: Mrs. J. M. Brundage, Miss Carolyn Hincher, Mrs. Margaret Baker, Miss Mary Snyder. Mrs. Rema Baker has been librarian since February 10, 1932, who, with her assistants maintains the library at its present standard of efficiency. The present officers are: President, Dr. Robert Common; vice president, Mrs. Julia Fuller; treasurer, John C. Lever; secretary, Mrs. Irene Lynch. Mr. Lever is chairman of the finance committee, Mrs. F. W. Burrows chairman of the book committee and Dr. Robert Common chairman of the administration committee.

We would conclude this resume of the past half century history of the library with an expression of the hope that our Andover citizens may continue to be justly proud of this fine landmark and institution in our midst and may lend their encouragement by availing themselves of the fine collection of books and interesting their children in the juvenile section thereof.

Donald Holcomb of Portville was crowned "Hay King" for 1950 at the Annual Dairy Congress held last week. About 500 attended the Congress.

Firemen's Auxiliary

The time of the Andover Firemen's Auxiliary meeting to be held Wednesday evening, February 8, has been changed from 8 to 7 p. m.

Home Bureau

Day Unit

The regular all day meeting of the unit will be held at the Grange Hall next Thursday, February 10 with a sack lunch.

The lesson I on hooked mats and rugs will be given by Mrs. Emmeretta Green. Please note the change in program.

Members interested in this project look in the January issue of Farm and Home Bureau News on page 7 and find directions and list of materials required.

Evening Unit

The second lesson on fabric gloves was given Wednesday evening, Feb. 1, in the Grange hall. Those who had already cut gloves last meeting continued sewing and additional pairs were cut.

Mrs. Alice Barrett won the white elephant. Mrs. Elizabeth Regan was the winner last time.

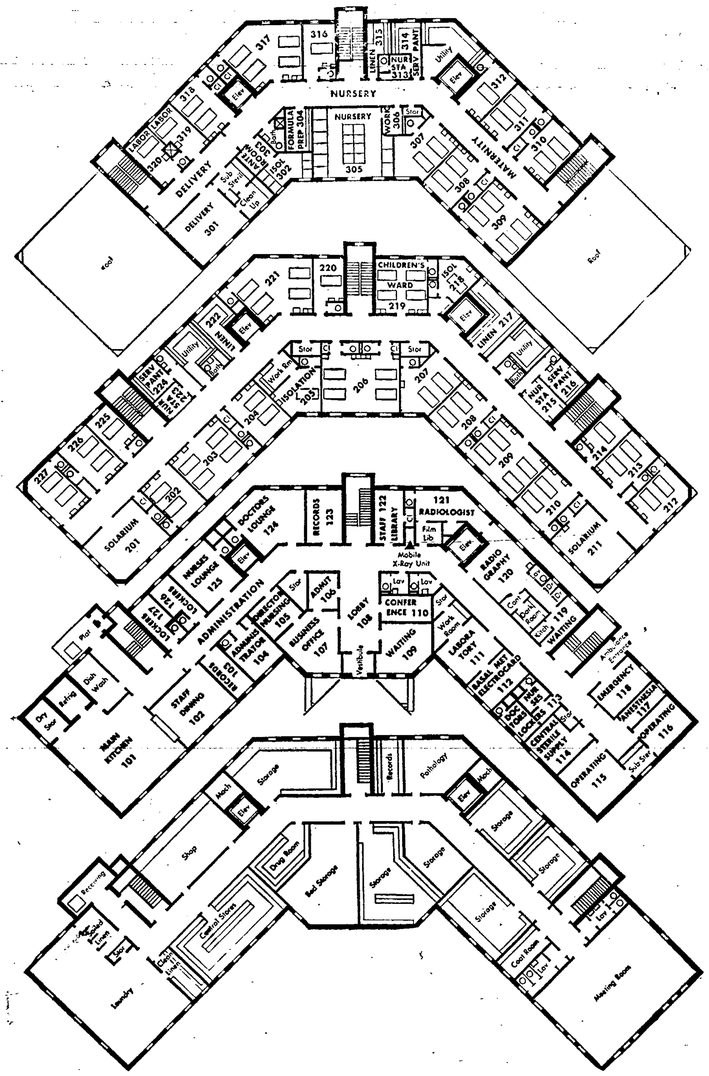
Next meeting will be held February 15 at which time the leather will be available for those wishing more work along that line. Gloves may be finished up, and we have more gray fabric if anyone wishes to make a pair. If you are interested in the leather bring your equipment for the project as you did earlier in the season—razor blade and holder, cutting knife, ruler with metal edge, nut pick, cutting board and glass.

Milan Barney Honored By Whitesville Legion

Milan Barney, who has always been one of the hardest workers in the local American Legion Post, was the guest of honor at a dinner held at the Legion Hall last Friday evening.

Mr. Barney was presented a Life Membership for "meritorious service to Robert E. James Post, American Legion."—Whitesville News.

FLOOR PLANS OF NEW JONES MEMORIAL HOSPITAL



The architects' drawings shown here indicate the rooms, suites and departments of the new and modern hospital for which a $500,000 building fund is being raised. It is expected that many of these units will be established as memorials, bearing honored family names and continuing the tradition started by William F. and Gertrude F. Jones who founded the hospital a generation ago. The third floor is set apart for mothers and babies. Medical and surgical patients are on the second floor and scientific and administrative services on the first. A feature of the ground floor is a meeting room for medical groups.

Honored at Surprise Anniversary Party

The West Greenwood Grange hall was the scene of gay festivity last Thursday evening, January 26, as a crowd of friends and neighbors both old and new gathered to extend best wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Snyder and to help them observe their fortieth wedding anniversary.

The "bride and groom" entered to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride", played on the piano by their niece, Mrs. Freeman Rogers and were a picture of utter surprise as the crowd shouted "Happy anniversary."

The evening was pleasantly passed with cards and dancing followed by supper served by Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Lynch.

Following supper a purse of good wishes was presented the honored couple and the guests said their good-byes, stating they had had an enjoyable time.

"Lou" and "Lizzie" say they are all for that "firemen's dance."

Veteran Publisher Active at 94

Mr. Mutschlechner still edits his newspaper, sets type and runs off printing jobs.

His son, Allie Mutschlechner, is now associated with him in the business.

Library News

A bookmobile in Washington state has a loudspeaker, which can be clearly heard for half a mile. As the librarian approaches a cross roads, she calls "Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Brown, the bookmobile is here. You and your children bring your books."

We have no loud speaker at our library, but we welcome new readers, both adult and children.

"Dark Trees to the Wind" by Carl Carmer: Out of a visit to his home town, Albion, and a blending of humorous yarns and historic details, Carl Carmer has fashioned a chronicle of up-state New York.

"Rogue's March" by Chapman: This stirring tale of intrigue and fighting during the Revolution is mainly concerned with a handsome young whig and his turbulent romance with the lovely daughter of a wealthy tory.

Sometimes in the search for new books, the good books of "yesterday" are overlooked. "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" by Thornton Wilder is the story of the most famous bridge in Peru. A young monk stops to rest on a hill side. He looks down on the willow bridge made by the Incas. He sees five tiny figures crossing the bridge. Suddenly the bridge parts and the travelers drop to their doom. Who were these five people? Did they know one another? Was it an accident? you will learn all the answers in this unusual story.
