Items.

Our District School closes on Friday of next week.

We are in want of a little rain just now. The roads are very dusty.

A wooden wedding was given to Chas. C. Thacher and wife, last week at Hounsfieldville.

Hon. E. Beardman Smith lies our thanks for several copies of the Congressional Globe.

The correspondence upon the Teachers' Institute, held at Friendship last year, will appear next week.

Mr. C. H. Capin has one cow from which he makes 10 3-4 pounds of Butter a week, besides the milk and cream used in the family.

Governor Dix has signed the bill which compells all persons who wish to practice medicine, to obtain a license from a country medical society.

We were favored with a call from Elder Hull, of Alfred, yesterday. He looks very much improved after his absence of two or three weeks.

Henry W. Sanford, Esq., has left Addison and opened a neat little law office at Andover. He merits success, and has our best wishes.—Hornellsville Herald.

We received a call to-day from Mr. Lungworthy one of the local editors of the Hornellsville Times. He reports business good, which we are pleased to learn.

Mrs. Jeff Bundy, of Saginaw, Mich., has been visiting with her friends in this place for the past week. She returns, to-day with her mother, Mrs. Jason Hunt.

The nomination of S. M. Thacher, of the Hornellsville Times, as Post Master at that place has been confirmed by the Senate and he will take procession of the office the 1st of July.

The question has been asked us who the County Deputy of the Grauger Association of this county is. We are unable to answer the question: if there is any one who can, please inform us.

Our second page is rather light this week, as we were unable for two or three days to do any work, since which time we have been so driven with job work that we were unable to do any more than take care of our local page.

It would be well if all traveling men would remember that Ching Hunt has a good hotel in running order in this this place The house is furnished with good accommodations, as well as good stabling. Try him.

The post-mortem examination of Mr Amos Preston made the 22d inst. by Drs. Crandall & Baker showed cancer of the stomach, also Pleurisy with effusion, the chest containing four and one half pints of fluid.

Bath is to celebrate the ca-lori-ous Fourth. Climbing a greased pole is to be one of the amusements. Let the prize be a Republican nomination for M. C. and one pole wouldn't begin to accommodate the climbers.—[Corning Democrat.

A conductor on the Erie Railway whose name it is Charles O'Graves, recently received a fare from Corning to Elmira in cigars. He reported the fact to the Superintendent, and said he would send the ashes with his next statement.—[Owego Record.

The anniversary exercises at Alfred Center will be held next week. Orophillian Dyscum, Monday afternoon, June 29th. Allegheniun Lyceum, Tuesday morning June 30th. Commencement exercises at the University, Wednesday, July 1st.

We are a little late with our paper, for two or three reasons. One of our hours gave us the slip, and "mostly," we have had a heavy run of job work, together with an extra of our paper, was a little too much for us, but this we do not mean shall happen very often.

We received a call from Gilbert & Brundage, Insurance Agents of Friendship one day this week. They report business brisk. This firm has during the past two years succeeded in building up a large busines in heir line, and we wish them an abundant success.

We received a call the other day from A. B. Sherman, of Alfred Centro. He informed us that he had made so far this season 12,000 cheese boxes, and intends to make 50,000 during the season; is now making about 300 per day.

The telegraph operators, both commercial and railroad, along the line of the N. Y. Central and Erie Railroads are to hold their fourth annual reunion in Rochester, on the 4th day of July. Arrangements are being made by the fraternity there which will make the occasion an enjoyable one. The programme includes a visit to the various places of interest in that city, dinner at some hotel and a ride down the river to Charlotte, returning in the evening. The Erie operators go as the guests of the Central New York operators.

We have been noticing for some time that every day the Blacksmith shop of Jas. O'Leary, in Dyke Street, was crowded full. Upon inquiring we found why it was simply because Mr. O'Leary manufactures all of his own shoes and nails, and knows that they are made from good iron. We noticed another branch of the business which he seemed to have quite a plenty of to do, the shoeing of Oxen. We understand that Mr. O'Leary has a reputation as a No. 1 in this work. Call and ascertain the truth of this statement yourselves.

We had the pleasure of meeting our friend Captain John T. Wright, on Saturday last while on his way home from a months tour among the Adirondack mountains, Lake Champlain and Saratoga Springs &c. He looks remarkably well and his health has been much improved by his journey.—"Long may he wave."

The ANDOVER ADVERTISER & FREE PRESS is what its name signifies, a good newspaper and a fearless, outspoken advocate of progress and reform.—[Hammondsport Herald.

We can but take notice of this mention coming from the source which it does. The Herald is edited and published by two ladies, Mrs. Bennitt & Fairchild, and is a lively, wide-awake little paper, and deserves, as we hope it is receiving, a liberal support.

The citizens of Belfast have decided by a majority of seventy-five to unite the Seminary and District School as a Union Graded School. We understand that the Baptist Society gave the Seminary building to the town with the understanding that it should be made a Union Graded School. We are glad to note the above change and, as we know that it will, prove an entire success.

It is reported that upon the 16th inst. that Gov. Dix Signed the bill in relation to the Rochester, Hornellsville & Pine Creek Railroad, which confirms the decision of the County Judge of Steuben county. This will be received with great joy among those who are pushing the railroad through. but by those who are opposed to their town bonds will feel somewhat vexed. We will be glad if the time shall come when there will be no bonding of towns for railroad purposes. It is a great error, and should be corrected.

Died from maintentional neglect and want of care at time of birth," was the jury's verdict at a coroner's inquest held in this village last Sunday upon the dead body of a new-born infant. The mother of the child was a young girl with little experience in the world, who sought to hide her shame by a denial of her true condition: so all alone in the agonies of motherhood the babe was born, and died in a few minutes afterward. While society has little charity and few kind words for the erring and suffering mother, would it not be well to remember that there is also a father in the case entitled to at least a share of public condemnation. There is no justice in blighted woman's life, while the man, amid the ribald jest of the bar-room, the shop and the street corner, is made a hero.—Hornellsville Herald.

We accidentally met our much esteemed friend Wm. H. Peters—Conductor on the Buffalo Branch of the Erie Railway, at Hornellsville a few days ago, and were much pleased with his friendly attentions. Our stay at Hornellsville was necessarily short but the most was made of the time. We were shown through the new Osborn House and found it a perfect model in every. Which finished it will be a first class hotel and inf-ct to none between New York and Buffalo. Hornellsville is going ahead, and improving as fast as any town on the Erie, and is bound to win.

Prof. Lewis Swift, of Rochester, on the 8th inst., discovered a brilliant comet which is rapidly approaching the earth. It was first seen at Marseilles, France, on the 17th of April. Prof. Swift says it will be nearest the earth about the first of August, and that he sees nothing "to prevent its being a very conspicuous and beautiful object in the western sky during the months of July and August." It is now just visible to the naked eye, but soon thro' an opera glass or small telescope the nebulous mass forming the head with a bright point a little to one side as well as the tail stretching out in the direction of the north, can be distinctly seen. The comet will be brightest on the evening of the 3d of August, being then two hundred and forty-two times as bright as at the time of discovery, while now it is only five and one-half times as bright. It is located in the northern heavens and is now visible all the night, but will soon be so only in the early hours of evening.

Improvements.

Mr. Dildine is building a new fence about his residence on the corner of Pleasant Ave. and East Street.

Mr. Brown's new residence on Church Street is nearly inclosed.

Lost.

The subscriber lost a gold locket engraved upon one side, and plain on the other, last Sunday or Monday, upon the street in Andover. Any person returning the same to this office will be rewarded therefor. JAS. COMSTOCK

A Sad and Fatal Accident.

Yesterday morning two sons of Mr. John Rouge, an old and well-known citizen of Canaseraga, went to the woods to peel bark.—They cut down one tree which in falling lodged upon another and to displace it the fellow still another which had the desired effect. They then peeled the bark from one tree and partly from the second one when they discovered their father laying under the tree which had been lodged with his head completly crushed and his right arm torn from the body. The Supposition is that Mr. Rouge went to a spring directly under the lodged tree to get a drink of water, and while there unobserved, the tree fell doing its terrible work. It was two hours after the accident occurred before Mr. Rouge was discovered.—[Hornellsville Herald.

Indictments.

There were thirty-six indictments found by the Grand Jury, at the present term of Court at Belmont, of which, one is for Manslaughter, four for assault and Battery, seventeen for Violation of the Excise Law, four for Larceny, two for Assault with intent to Ravish, one for Burglarly and Larceny, three for False Pretenses, one for keeping a Disorderly House, one for keeping Bowdy House, one for keeping a Bawdy and Disorderly House, two for Forgory, and one for Granting Licenses contrary to law, (Wellsville Board of Excise.)

Accidental Thrashing.

Frank Craw, Son of Col. W. N. Craw, was running yesterday afternoon near the creek with a pistol in his hand.—By some accident the pistol was discharged, and the bullet entered and passed through the upper part of the leg and finally lodged in the calf of the limb. The first wound is some six inches in length, and the hole where the ball entered is within a quarter of an inch of the main artery. Dr. Robinson was called, but was not able to find the ball. The boy had a narow escape, but will probably get on without serious difficulty.—H'ville Times.

Artificial Stone.

Fitches Artificial stone manufactury at Elmira, whose advertisement is in another column is fast attracting that attention from builders, which it deserves, Mr. Fitch manufactures sand and compact stone from clean sand, by solvical process as the natural stone. His process is the same nature forms stone, only he does it by a very short process. Those contemplating the erection of stores or dwelling houses are invited to call at our office and examine specimens of this valuable art. We had two specimens sent us from Elmira last week which can be seen on our Sanctum table. The cheapness of this stone forms one of its most valuable features. Call in.

Festival and Concert.

There will be a Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival at the new house of J. W. Fuller of Friday evening of this week. In conection with the same there will be an "Old Folks' Concert" at which will be presented a fine collection of stering music both Sacred and Sentimental, peculiarly adapted to the ancient sex. The concert troup will appear in costume suitable for the occasion. A general invitation is extended to all, the proceeds to be applied toward furnishing the new M. E. Church.

By order of, Committee.

Bridge Down.

The bridge across Dykes Creek on Main Street fell down with a team upon it last week. It has long enough dilapidated our main thoroughfare, as also the one on main street near the railroad track, which will soon follow the example of the Dyke Creek Bridge. We are in hopes now that our Commissioners will put in the place of the one now down, a good respectable looking bridge with a walk upon one side at least. And this should be done immediately, for it is almost impossible for a team with a load to get through the creek on account of the steep banks. Something should be put up as a guard against people driving upon the bridge as it now is. One team got a good start on the bridge Friday night last before the driver discovered that the bridge was broken down.

Unmurdered by a Bull.

"On Monday of this week Robert Boyd and a man by the name of Dunnigan was badly tired upon and hooked by a Bull owned by Mr. Boyd. He had been in the habit of being led out to water but by some reason the strap broke and as soon as the animal found out that he was free became unmanageable, and at once declared himself in fighting order. The man Dunnigan proved of high weight for his antagonist and Mr. Boyd hearing the noise came to his assistance when the Bull at once turned upon him, when Mr. D. improved the opportunity and made himself scarce. Mr. Boyd after some heavy skirmishing managed to get clear of the animal but not until he was badly injured. Dr. W. W. Crandall is attending the gentlemen and we hope to soon see them again upon our streets.

Temperance Notices.

On Wednesday of last week United States Marshall Atwill, of this city, went to Olean and seized the extensive browery of Charles Dotterwich, for alleged violation of the internal revenue laws. A large number of packages, which it is said bear evidence of fraud, were seized and the evidence of illegality in the transaction of business appears to be very clear.

The firm shipped about 140 kegs per day, and the property seized is valued at $70,000.

Dotterwich was brought to this city and lodged in jail that night and remained there on the following day. On Friday morning he was brought before United States Commissioner Woods and a partial examination was had. The defendant was held to bail for his further appearance at Olean on the 14th day of July.—[Elmira Gazette.

The Naples Record is accountable for the following: Ira C. Williams of Naples has a horse that takes the piston rod, at the top of the pump, in his teeth and pumps water for himself and others. This has been seen in the lot back of the lower cemetery, and he does it when the trough is empty and they need water.

There has been a large attendance from abroad at the County Baptist Association which closes it labors to-day. We shall try and furnish our readers with a full report next week.

This is the way the Bath Advocate puts it: Five children at a birth! This was successfully accomplished by Mrs. J. Winthrop of Howard, city, Mich. Base Ball at Alfred Centre.

The most interesting and exciting game of base ball of the season, was played on the University grounds, June 18th, 1874, between the Tremont nine, and the Brick nine. The nines are composed of the boys of the Tremont House, and the University Boarding Hall exclusively. The backers and supporters of each club, were on the grounds, giving encouragement to their nines, by their presence and cheers. It is highly necessary to state in this connection that "Davey" the landlord of the Tremont House was there, lending the inspiration of his cheers to the "Tremont boys." At 3:48 P. M. the game was called by C. W. Rosebush, Umpire, the "Bricks" taking the field. The game was characterized by good batting on both sides; the fielding also showed that the players were not used to the ground. At the end of the 9th inning the game closed amid the wildest excitement. The following is the score:—

Tremont.	scores.	outs.	Brick.	scores.	outs.
Meager, P.	0	2	William, 1st B.	3	3

W. W. Miller, Capt. N. Baker, Capt.
O. W. Rosebush, Umpire. E. L. Atkinson, Hoover.
Time of game, two hours and twenty-two minutes.

As soon as the game closed the boys adjourned, to the Tremont House, "Jarry" loading the van, with hat in hand, announcing to wondering populace, that "this boys had best," where they were treated to lemonade. After partaking of this hospitality of Mr. Kenyon, three rousing cheers were sent up for the Tremont House, and its gallant Landlord," and the crowd dispersed.

MAKING WATER RUN UP HILL.

(Concluded)

In my communication last week I spoke more particularly of the location and business interests of the Oneida Community; I will now in conclusion speak of their social relations to some extent, as well as their peculiar religious notions.

The government of the Community is through a free public criticism which amounts to almost a tyranny of the majority. This system takes the place of idle gossip and back-biting so prevalent in ordinary society. The unfortunate member criticised is not allowed to reply, but the opinion of the majority is looked upon as of Papal infallibility.—If Fanny and Jenny fall in love with George and yourself, they are publicly criticised until by-and-by, though they have jealousies, they do not show them. They become sullen and morose. They have no rewards for good conduct, the only reward is an approving conscience and "sustaining Deity," none are promoted for goodness. Men with special talents become natural managers. Persons with property of any description, upon becoming a member puts the same in the "pot," or more politely speaking, in the common stock, there to remain so long as he shall continue a member, and if he dissolves partnership he takes out what he puts in, receiving nothing for the use of the same and like pay for his labor.

We have said there is no recognition of or reward for moral worth; in a word, if John Bunyan and Martin Luther on the one hand, and Lord Byron and Robert Burns on the other, were all Communists, they would labor and toil side by side, and if the latter with all their alleged looseness and licentiousness, had special rat-trap making talents, they might even rank the former. Freedom of criticism is the power which checks all who have, in this manner, subdued themselves, living without heart-burnings or jealousies. This free public criticism is conducted privately in the public hall in the presence of the members; "outside barbarians" are strictly expelled.

The government of the children (who are puny and sickly in looks) is peculiar to the institution. They have one parent (after birth), the Community.—Mothers nurse their children until the age of fifteen months, when they surrender them, and they become "common stock" in the children's department of the Community until the age of maturity. After that age and when each desires the company of the opposite sex, they judge for themselves. Fanny can mate with Jemmy or Charlie or any one she chooses, the community reserving the right to criticise and advise. She may mate with either or both at the same time without any bond of matrimony or engagement, except temporary fancy. They regard the contract of marriage as recognized and regulated by the civil law and civilized society, as "legalized prostitution" as it is termed by the advanced advocate of woman's rights, Mrs. Woodhull.

This is the spirit of "Biblical communism" as interpreted by them. "And they had all things in common," of the Bible means all things, not only potatoes, corn, rat traps, and ribbons, but also love.

They have no jealousies at all resulting from this communism of love. They claim to have overcome the passions, of the world, so if, as we have intended, Bob loves and mates with a pretty lass of sweet nature with red lips and curly hair, or with a lovely elder who is "fat fair and forty," and Tom should fancy them at the same time, each would have no jealousy of the other. This would only be another bond of union among the happy number. They quaintly tell us in the world that divorces cannot be had without proof of crime. We divorce daily and tri-daily if we desire to. Marriage (sometimes) provides for the maintenance of children, so do we in ways. Children are more sure to be provided for by two hundred parents than by two. The Community is the family. The tie that binds them is sacred. It is their religion, love, property, intelligence, everything. Every dollar of Community money is pledged to the maintenance of the women and the protection and education of the children. They are not free lovers in the common acceptation of the term.—Freedom down south they say was one sided freedom—freedom for a white man to "wallop a nigger" -freedom of the strong to oppress the weak. Marriage is also a one-sided freedom. The woman is in the power of the man.—They claim to have left the simple form of marriage and advanced to the perfect stage of it. They have no quarrels with those who believe in exclusive dual marriage and faithfully observe it, but claim that for them there is a better way. The honor and faithfulness that constitute an ideal marriage, may exist between two hundred as well as two, while the guarantees for women and children are much greater in the Community than in the private family.—The result of this complex system as claimed by them, we may sum up by saying that men are rendered more courteous, women more winning, children better born, educated and cared for, and all personally free; all of which propositions are, we believe, manifestly erroneous. Their religious belief may be summarized as follows: 1. The Bible is the accredited o.gan of God. 2. The final interpreter of the Bible is not the church as the Roman Catholics hold, or the philologists as the Protestants hold, but the Spirit of Truth promised to all believers. 3. Bible faith is all-sufficient, and that the Adventist may be the means of informing our sister countries what old Allegany is doing.

RUSHFORD N. Y. June 22d, 1874.

ESS. ADVERTISER & FREE PRESS,—I will give you a report as near as I can without seeing the salesman or secretary of the factory, which is as follows: First sale, 72 cheese for 13 3-4 cts. per lb. 62 cheese for 15 1-2 cts. per lb. 38 cheese for 14 1-4 cts per lb. The average weight of cheese was 63 to 65 lbs. making 9 cheese per day amount of milk received daily 5,000 lbs. or more. This is the third page, is not perfectly correct or exhaustive; for Orange county is left out and creameries in Steuben county, and the parties handling it having one cent per pound for so doing. We are glad you have undertaken this enterprise and think it will result in much good if you can get a report from all of the factories, or nearly all of them.
