LET'S BEGIN RIGHT

By Marion Milligan

Well kids, the school year of 1950-51 has begun and we are now in the clutches of Andover Central School routine but let us begin our happy season the right way.

One very important factor in starting school the correct way is by being prompt to school and to classes. Many of us start out the wrong way consequently we suffer in several ways by missing important points in our classes which are vitally needed at test time.

When there is an assignment given we should hand it in on time and see to it that it is neat and done to the best of our ability.

Another thing we should do it to abolish the idea of staying out of school on those days we just don't feel like going. We should practice going to bed early to get our needed rest which will help to keep the cobwebs from our brains.

A necessity in our new schedule is the attempt to be more friendly and co-operative. After all the teachers are teaching for our sake not theirs. They give us an opportunity to gain further knowledge and to aid us in obtaining a higher standard of living. We must understand it is just as hard on them as it is on us. With our mates we should try to see their side of the story and give them a chance to explain before we do anything drastic since you know we could be wrong.

Also we should begin immediately to see to it that our school property is cared for properly. For instance, the basements are no place to deposit galoshes, coats and other clothing. We are lucky that we have individual lockers for such purposes. When we have excess paper which is unwanted there are waste paper baskets provided. The careful disposal of paper would make the standard of the school higher as well as assist our faithful janitors in keeping it immaculate for our use.

Books, desks and other school property should be treated correctly without finding marks engraved in them.

Let's resolve to begin the year by forming healthy habits of study, friendliness, cleanliness, cooperativeness, promptness and neatness.

PEERING AT THE PEDAGOGUES

I find that the teachers relax in numerous ways.

Mrs. Marie McFadden entertained company and visited in Brookville, Pa., and Rochester.

Mrs. Mary Baker and Mr. George Holden went to school at Alfred University and Fredonia.

Mrs. Margaret Joyce was busy caring for her new son, "Mike."

Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Carmody built a garage.

Mr. Murlyn Conde fished, sold boats and bought a house.

Miss Doris Church spent a week in New York City.

Miss Ruby Jordan moved from Friendship and Mrs. Harriet Schwarzenbach moved into her new home on Center street. Mrs. Schwarzenbach also entertained her mother, niece and two nephews.

Mrs. Carolyn Helmer attended "Cinderella Week-end" in Rochester's Radio City.

Mrs. Patricia Tompkins went to Crystal Beach., Letchworth Park and Stony Brook Park.

Miss Schermerhorn attended the Conservation Workshop Survey at Ithaca sponsored by Cornell University and also spent two weeks on Long Island.

Miss Mary McCarthy spent the summer in Addison.

CHIT CHAT

By Mary Brown

Once again I am here to describe the enjoyable vacation spent by some of our high school students.

Clarice Nye, a junior, spent a very enjoyable week at camp Oswegatchie with her F. H. A. friends.

Charity Howland, one of our gay young sophomore girls, spent a busy week at 4-H camp followed by another week at Elmira.

Arlene Edwards, a new senior, spent her summer getting settled in her new Andover home.

Dale Green spent part of his summer judging exhibits at the Toronto, Angelica and Syracuse fairs.

Kent Harder spent an exciting vacation at Virginia Beach after weeks of toil on an oil lease.

One of our freshman, Ann Marie Joyce, spent three weeks of pleasant vacationing in Lockport.

Margaret Daley enjoyed a week in Bolivar.

Dale Pelton practiced the old saying "work then play."

A sophomore girl, Marion Milligan, went to Friendship and took a pleasant trip to Niagara Falls.

James Conde spent the summer at Waneta Lake.

One of our grand old seniors, Victor Daley, spent his summer working, sleeping and writing letters.

Jack Wheaton, another senior worked in the pea vinery and grew a red mustach.

Dean Fisher enjoyed seeing nine major league baseball games in Philadelphia.

A freshman, "Doug" Wheaton moved to his new residence on Greenwood Street.

HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMES NEW STUDENTS

The registration of the senior class reached twenty-nine as they greeted a new student, Arlene Edwards, who attended Rushford Central School last year.

Arlene says her hobbies are reading, hiking, dancing, and baby-care.

Her favorite food is spaghetti, the book she liked best was "Let the Hurricane Roar," and the movie of her choice was "Gone With the Wind."

The registration of the freshman class totaled thirty-nine Tuesday when they welcomed Virginia Kibbe who came from Ulysses Central School. Virginia is the daughter of Landis Kibbe.

Her hobbies are cooking, sewing, and baby-care.

Virginia tells us that her favorite food is macaroni and cheese, that the book she liked best was "The Haunted Apartment" and that "Gone With the Wind" was also the best movie she had seen.

All the students and teachers of the high school hope that Arlene and Virginia will be happy in the Andover Central High School.

A. C. S. BOARD HAS RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS

Followng the faculty meeting held in the school cafeteria Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, the school board and their wives held a reception for the teachers and their wives and husbands in the homemaking room at 8 o'clock.

The room was decorated with fall flowers. Ice cream cake and tea were served. Miss Laura Crandall and Mrs. Beatrice Common poured.

4-H Members Take Part In State Fair

Eighteen club members from Allegany County are among the hundreds of club members from New York State taking part in the State Fair at Syracuse.

Showing sheep are Betsey McVey, Black Creek and Joyce Thomas, also of Black Creek.

A poultry judging team made up of David Jordan, Friendship; Sid Claire, Alfred Station; and Norman Payne, Andover, will compete on Thursday of fair week.

Robert Donnelly, Bishopville; Joyce Tucker and Betsy McVey, and James Beard will judge dairy cattle.

Helen Chamberlain, Caneadea, will take part in the dress revue.

Barbara Baker, Friendship; William Simons, Wellsville; Dick Baker, Friendship; and William Doerler, Friendship, will work on the 4-H potato grading project and judge in the vegetable judging contest.

Berries, cones, and pods, dried in a cool dry or hot dry place, will make excellent holiday decorations later in the year.

HIGH HERALD STAFF OFFERS APPRECIATION

The Hi Herald staff wishes to express their appriciation to Colleen McAndrew, Marion Milligan Charity Howland, Gay Rogers Phyllis Burger and Mary Brown for the splendid work and cooperation in preparing copy for this week's issue of the Hi Herald. These reporters had a very short time in which to conduct interviews and compose news stories in time for this paper.

MEMBERSHIP PLAN begun last year and closing, as far as records are concerned, on June 30th of this year, bore considerable fruit and probably will result in a substantial net gain in Grange members throughout the 897 Granges in the state. Fifty-three Granges won the $10 awards for making a net gain of 10 members each. The Subordinate which won the first place state award of $100 will be announced at the State Grange sessions in Elmira next month, so we cannot give it to you now.

The membership plan, first put into effect by the executive committee last year, indicates the need for more active membership committees in each Grange. While this would seem obvious to most, it is quite true that many Granges do not even have one. While membership is by invitation, and subject to passing the ballot box, each Grange should be alert to the desirable folks who would make good Grangers, and make sure that a vigorous, growing membership list is maintained.

STATE SESSION change in schedule this year has the Sixth degree being conferred on Tuesday evening, October 31, the first day of the sessions. Unlike other years, there will be no recess before the degree, but there will be one the next day. This will give the committees an opportunity to hear reports prior to going to work on resolutions. This seems to be a sensible move for everyone's convenience. We hope you are planning to attend this year. Elmira is an attractive convention city, and State sessions are always pleasant occasions to meet your friends from all over the state.

STATE FAIR at Syracuse is keeping us busy this week. It started with a fair weather day and good attendance. Service and Hospitality Committee ladies were on hand to meet all Grange members and their friends, dispense ready information and perform many helpful services. The Grange exhibits in the horticultural building attracted interested crowds and the judging was difficult because of their general excellence. As promised, it is a "bigger and better fair," and you shouldn't miss it. Saturday, September 9, is the final and climatic day.

How Could He Tell?

"Didn't you get my letter?" asked Pat's employer.

"Yes, sur, Oi did."

"Did you read it?"

"Sure, sur, Oi read it inside and Oi read it outside," said Pat calmly. "On th' inside yez said Oi was fired, an' on the outside yez said 'Return in foive days.'"

A Horse For Little Buffalo Bill

Want to delight your small son with a handsome hobby horse? You can make one without much fuss from odds and ends around the house. Just stuff one of dad's old socks with excelsior (that's the horse's head) and shove well into it a yard length of broomstick. Tack the sock opening to the wood.

Then hunt up a pair of old gloves and clip off the thumbs for ears on your animal. Strips of leather or shoestrings can serve as bridle and lines. And you needn't be much of an artist to paint in the nostrils and mouth.

Fabric Finish

If you have ever owned an acetate rayon dress that turned from blue to streaked pink after hanging in the closet for awhile, you will be pleased to know that some manufacturers are now giving these fabrics a special finish to combat gas or fume fading. Since fume fading is due to gases in the air, such discoloration of garments may depend upon the locality in which you live. To be on the safe side, it's a good idea to look for the special finish when you buy acetate rayons in blue or yellow or combinations of these colors.

Canned Tomatoes—Whole

To can tomatoes whole and have them whole when you serve them later in the year, scientists at the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station, Geneva, suggest that you use two calcium-salt tablets in each quart jar after the jar is filled with the whole tomatoes and just before it is sealed for processing.

These calcium-salt tablets are available from the Station at Geneva, N. Y. Small samples sufficient for 25 quarts of tomatoes for home trial may be obtained for 25 cents to defray packaging and mailing costs. Scientists warn that the tablets are not a presevative to take the place of processing. The tomatoes still must be processed in hot water bath as usual. What happens is that the calcium in the tablets reacts with the pectin compounds in the tomatoes to form a gel in the tissue, and this gel tends to keep the tomatoes in their original shape.

Avoid Mid-Morning Slump

Eat a "protein-rich" breakfast to start the day right, nutritionists urge. Research has shown that breakfasts which include protein-rich foods such as milk and eggs give the eater a far better sense of well-being than do grab-and-run meals of coffee and orange juice. Breakfasts with plenty of protein are also likely to stave off that mid-morning slump. After a good breakfast, say the specialists, you should feel chipper until well into the afternoon even if you eat only sandwiches and coffee for lunch.

For The Women

Women-in-the-house, please note: Specialists at the New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell say that, in general, there is no one right way to carry out household tasks.

One method may be pleasanter or easier than another, but whether it is or is not often depends on the doer and her sense of values. Some homemakers prefer a flexible plan of cleaning; others like to conform to a regular schedule. Whatever suits the family's needs best is best for the family. This is a good philosophy to keep in mind when those occasional squabbles over housework arise between the women-in-the-house.

Don't Pincha Da Fruit

Do you recall the old story of the fruit vendor who had a sign over his cart: If you gotta pincha da fruit pincha dat cocoanut? Sound advice, say food marketing specialists. Needless thumping and handling of fruits and vegetables can bruise the produce and hasten decay and thus cause much damage and waste. A good shopper will learn to judge quality without undue handling of fruits and vegetables. It's not only a matter of courtesy but of benefit to consumers as well as merchants.
