[illegible] Properties of Milk.

Milk is heavier than water usually its composition of about 103 to 100. When freshly taken from the cow it is almost odorless. When exposed to the air it speedily loses this character, and even pure milk often exhibits a slight degree of acidity. When set, and kept at rest for a length of time, it separates into two portions, throwing up to the surface in the form of cream. When the whole milk, or cream alone, is agitated in a churn, the temperature undergoes a slight increase, when it becomes distinctly sour, and the fatty matter separates in the form of butter. If a little acid be added to the milk warmed to about 100 degrees, it immediately coagulates and separates into a solid and a liquid part—the curd and the whey.

Milk like the nutritious vegetable products, consists, besides water, of certain substances destitute of nitrogen called sugar and butter; of an organic substance containing nitrogen in considerable quantity—the creed or casein; and of inorganic or saline matter, partly dissolved and partly insoluable in pure water. The composition or quality of milk varies greatly under a variety of circumstances. The age of the animal influences the quality, as it is constantly observed that milk of the best quality is given only by cows which have had already three or four times in calf. Moist and temperate climates are favorable to the production of milk in large quantity. In hot countries and in dry seasons, the quantity is less, but the average quality is richer. Cool weather favors the production of cheese and sugar in milk, while hot weather increases the yield of butter. Health and general state of the animal, time and frequency of milking, period at which it is taken during the milking, the race or breed and size of the animal, and the kind and quantity of food given.

If a given weight of milk be allowed to stand for a sufficient length of time, the cream will rise to the top and may easily be skimmed off; if this cream be gently heated the butter in an oily form will collect upon the surface, and when cold may be separated from the water beneath and its weight determined. If the skimmed milk be gently warmed, and a little rennet then added to it, the curd will separate, and may be collected in a cloth, pressed, dried and weighed. The natural souring of milk requires but little explanation. It arises from the gradual conversion of the sugar into the acid of milk by the action of the casein. If milk be kept at a low temperature, it may be preserved for several days without becoming notably sour. But if the milk is kept at a high temperature it becomes sour rapidly and if afterwards raised to the boiling point, curdles immediately. An easy way of preserving milk or cream sweet for a long time is to add to it a small quantity of soda or magnesia. As the small quantity of soda or magnesia thus added is not unwholesome, cream may in this way be kept sweet for a considerable time.

The fatty part of the milk which exists in the cream, and which forms the butter, is merely mixed with and held in suspension by the water of which the milk chiefly consists. In the udder of the cow it is in some measure separated from and floats on the surface of the milk, the latter drawn portions being always the richest in cream. During the milking, the rich and poor portions are usually mixed intimately together again, and thus the after separation is rendered slower, more difficult, and less complete. That this is so is proved by two facts—first, that if milk be well shaken or stirred so as to mix its parts intimately together before it is set aside, the cream will be considerable longer in rising to the surface, and second, that more cream is obtained by keeping the milk in separate portions as it is drawn from the cow, and setting these aside to throw up their cream in separate vessels than when the whole milking is mixed together. Cream does not readily rise through any considerable depth of milk; it should be set in broad shallow vessels.

Suggestions about Wool.

The prospects for wool growers for obtaining good prices on wool in our opinion, was never better. The amount of wool in the country over last year is nothing, only one State showing any decided increase, while others remained as before or fell off. There was only enough wool to run the mills until this clip, consequently there is no stagnation that direction. True, woolen goods are lower now than they have been for some time, but they have all along been too high and that is nothing against our argument. The unsettled financial condition of the country has unsettled values and wool is one of the first articles to respond to the barometer, but it is settled that there will be no expansion this season, so all values will settle into their legitimate channel, hence wool should start off at the figures ruling before the silly game in. Fifty to fifty-five cents is the price it should command during the whole season, and if farmers are wide awake it will command that price at once. A word to the wise is sufficient.—[Buckeye Farmer.

Try Tar Mice.

Turmeric a simple and efficient means may procure a tolerably tight barrel. A salt barrel with one head will do—throw a little mice into bottom for a place for entrance; set it in the place where the mice found to congregate," throw into it a handful of rags or waste paper to make a nest, cover it so that the mice will "enter dark," and let it stand to advantage. Any day that the mice have taken up their abode in the barrel, take out the nest of mice and destroy them; then take the guard at once and set it over hog again, and you will have no more trouble. The above we have tried for the "this," and I have not Advantages of Yell Manuring.

No matter how susceptible manure is to fermentation, no matter whether it is fresh, heated up strongly, well rotted, or an old composite, if it is spread out thinly on the field, all fermentation is speedily checked, just as the ammonia of ignited coals is scattered out over the ground, the glow ceases, combustion declines, and even in the hottest summer day the fire is soon extinguished. If this spreading is done in the cool of autumn and a gentle rain shortly follows, and all the elements of the manure that can suffer loss, the ammonia, the potash, &c., dissolve and sink into the soil. But they cannot go far down unless we have manured a gravel bed or a sand pit. On land fit for a farmer to handle whether a natural loam, or a sand or clay, subdued to proper texture, the descent of fertilizing matter is arrested as already mentioned, by the slowly descending water is filtered by the soil of nearly all it took from the manure, and the real feeding qualities of top-dressing are distributed and diffused uniformly throughout the soil in a way that no tillage can begin to imitate. Loss is reduced to its minimum, and the application is as perfect in style as in cost. If, on the contrary, the manure is spread out in hot weather, and lies exposed some days to the dry winds the ammonia it contains in the form of carbonate, will be carried off into the atmosphere; but this loss is not so great as is often supposed. The quantity of volatile ammonia that can be got out of stable manure by this exposure is certainly not greater than exists in it, and the analysis of Visocker, Wolff and myself, show that it amounts to but two to six parts in 10,000 of fresh, or of well-rotted manure.—[Johnson.

Comforts and Luxuries of the Farm.

There is a class of farmers who are living only to grasp more acres. Their farms can never be large enough, nor can their workmen or themselves ever be quite enough work. They cannot be satisfied with the income of a farm, nor could they be with that of any other business. But those who understand that the highest object of labor is not simply to make money, but to provide the largest amount of the means of improvement and innocent enjoyment the world affords, can make the pursuit of agriculture furnish more luxuries than really contribute to our well-being, than any other employment requiring an equal amount of capital. Their farms are not so large as to make slaves of themselves and their sons, and their wives and their daughters are not worn out whit incessant drudgery. Their door yards blossom with flowers, their tables are supplied with many varieties of well grown delicious fruit, their houses are made cheerful by the influence of books and music, and a taste for the pure and innocent enjoyments of life is developed in their children. Here and there a farmer's home exemplifies all the contentment and happiness possible to a race doomed to labor and disappointment.—[Practical Farmer.

The Green Cabbage Worm should be killed. There has been one crop already and probably we shall have two more. If you have only a few cabbages go over them and destroy the worms as often as they appear.—They are not poisonous but they will certainly destroy your cabbage unless you fight them. The parent insect is a white butterfly and they work on all the brassic tribe,—cabbage, cauliflower, turnip, &c. These worms are so near the color of the cabbages, that only a practiced eye will see them. They waste on your plants while in the seed bed last year.

VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Original Texas-ines proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkable so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark colored fecid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and inveterate cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paint and Minerals, such as Painters, Type-setters, Gold-beaters and Miners, as they advance in life are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's
Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities or diseases that have lurked in the system for years soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Pits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it disciplines the dyspeptic and listless laggter of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.
