Mail Overseas Christmas Gifts By November 15

Christmas packages for military and civilian personnel stationed overseas must be mailed before November 15 to assure delivery during the holiday season, the Defense Department states.

Greeting cards, sent first class, also should be mailed within this period.

Gifts should be wrapped securely in boxes of metal, wood or strong fiber board, and marked "gift parcel."

The name of the addressee, and a list of the contents, should be written on a slip of paper and placed inside the box, the department says.

It also asks persons sending packages to write the addressee's name directly on the box or wrapping, not on gummed lables which may become moist and slip from the package.

The weight limit is seventy pounds.

The department urges gift senders not to send food and military clothing, because members of the armed forces are amply provided with these items.

Parcels for hospitalized wounded personnel will receive special air mail service whenever possible.
