

standing on ceremony. Let us push the cause for a big majority and not for a mere election of candidates. This election should produce a profound impression on public opinion, or it will stop at half-way results. And the work should begin in all the school districts. Let competent speakers be appointed to go out nightly, and stir up electors to their duty. Let public sentiment be fully aroused to the political situation, and the vote will fall in an old-fashioned majority in favor of the Democratic ticket. (Blair's Adv.)

The World in itself "knowing a lie," today. The file consists of documents and proofs showing the true character of the Democratic ticket, especially of S. J. Tilden, its head. When the people understand how fully this ticket is owned and controlled by the great railroad corporations, they will be less likely to be misled by the Government of the State into their hands. It is hard "fill" for the Democratic editors to "blame" the World with such a "blame" as this. But it is in the hands of the people, who are the electors, that the World will be compelled to set their records. (Blair's Adv.)

With the Leader in a personal matter, and not of pure judgment, as looking to the better interest of the cause. It can be nothing else. In what we have said our only desire is that practical men should look at this subject in a practical way. If it is impossible to achieve any positive good by persisting in the policy advocated by the extreme advocates of prohibition, why persist in it, when to do so, serious evil in other important respects may ensue? The line of duty is to plan, not the reasons for adhering to it as so often and palpable, that we cannot believe that any considerable number of intelligent men, earnestly devoted to all the vital principles which the Republican party is identified, can be induced to dissipate their power and thus play into the hands of the Democratic party in the manner proposed by the leaders of this third party movement.
