Secrecy.

There are many good people who say the order of Patrons of Husbandry has not taken a great work, and is apparently accomplishing much, but they object to its secrecy. They say all good can bear the scrutiny of mankind under the fullest light. Possibly. But what objection can be brought to the secret modes of the order if thereby them no evil come to any of our fellow beings? If a farmer should choose to gather his grain and store it in his barn without informing his neighbors of the exact number of bushels, he is not withholding information to which they are entitled. He is not supp...ing with.

There are affairs in the life of every man and of every woman, which are entirely proper and right, but which concern only the individuals, and by right should be kept private. Certainly no one not interested has any right to object to such privacy; which is secrecy.

The principles and the objects of our order are as open as day. Any person may object to these, and if he can sustain his objections by sound arguments he has the right—perhaps it is his duty to do it. If he sees that we are going on in the wrong, and has the power to enlighten us fellows, it is clearly his duty to perform that good, even if he should find his work could be more effectually performed by means of which we are not cognizant, and therefore so far as we are concerned—secret.

We are all of us more or less subject whims. We perceive many acts for which we can not assign good reasons. We have thoughts which come unbidden and give us pain—secret pain, but how much less poignant because the thoughts are secret and there is no obligation anywhere to give them publicity! Of course all our acts and all our thoughts should be pure, but so long as they work no pain nor wrong to any of our fellows, we are accountable for whatever of wickedness there is in them to our Maker alone, and to Him there is nothing hidden nor secret. There are no arguments ever presented to show that all the honest, upright acts of men should be openly performed. And in all families, there are affairs existing only their social circles, which it would be gross wrong to divulge. May it not with equal propriety be assumed that larger bodies, having homogenous family characters, should have certain relations, notions, designs ways and objects which are justly their own affairs, and, therefore, properly private?

On the whole there is much reason to suspect that generally, in average society, there is far too much publicity of common affairs, by which is stimulated morbid appetites for unprofitable knowledge. The Granges of the order of Patrons of Husbandry are great families, having common interests, and the whole order is a grand family in which there is the spirit of love, truth and charity which nourish and support this harmony that pervades all the homelies which go to make up the order.

To the cavilers who have a holy horror of secrecy, we have no argument to make, nor remonstrance to urge, because they do not harm themselves. Still it is an unhappy business to hunt for wrong without power to prevent it, and we might suggest to these who feel like that sorrowful way, that they undertake the more pleasant task of considering the good which they see, and if they can be generous enough to approve, to allow themselves that happiness.

This is, however, a class of honest and well meaning men and women, who would become honored members of our order if they could overcome these scruples about the privacy of the meetings. While approving all they see in our work they are deterred from entering by the fear that covered by the obligation of secrecy there is the power of wrong. If such men and women will examine their feelings in the matter and thereby become satisfied that conscience directs their belief, to them we have naught to say, for they so right. But, if without due thought they allow themselves to be governed by a mere whim, if this objection of secrecy will not itself bear such scrutiny as they can bring to its consideration, let them seek, through the investigation, to emancipate themselves from the dominance of an idea which is not founded on truth. There are many thousands of honored citizens who have passed all the mysteries of the order and who have in no degree diminished their self-respect. It is true they do not put any obligation upon the timid persons to step within the veil, but there is, nevertheless, something like an argument in their acts. Supposing them to be worthy of estimation in which they are held, they would not continue in a body which practised and approved wrong. They know of the whole work, all there is to be known, and with recognized good characters for honesty and fair dealing, they stay within without an objection. But still further, for the general good of honest objectors to secrecy, let us direct toward them a beam of light in the explanation that they take upon themselves no obligation of secrecy, only so far as they act ultimately, having always full permission to retire before they are merged into the awful shadow of that secrecy, curtain of which diminish by basic approach. The whole material consists of this: let their secret reflection in the consoling belief that if they preserve that secrecy of thought, no harm will come of the secrecy, even if they should think it a great deal.

VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they removes the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Iron in the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protect-ed Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an ailment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enrichest and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strength, health and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

HAIR RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR-DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the best PREPARATION for its intended purposes."
