Address from the Metropolitan State
Committee, 440 7th St., New York.
The Republican, Editor of the State of New York.
Dear Sir:—You are called upon to save New York from a threatened peril. Unparalleled success elsewhere has encouraged your opponents. They hope that the majority given New York will give them New York. It is for you to demonstrate the fallacy of the hope by the efficiency and wisdom which you can bring to the work before you.

Constitutional Matters.
A large number of Republicans of Hornellsville addressed a letter to Mr. Shepley requesting that he address them at that place some evening this week, and the following is the reply:
ELMIRA, Oct. 24th, 1874.
My dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your kind invitation to address the citizens of Hornellsville at an early day. I am glad to accept of the honor, and I have no objection to the time and place named. I should be glad to see you and to hear from you. I have no objection to the time and place named. I should be glad to see you and to hear from you.

Public Credit is already falling.
The New York Graphic, which is a non-partisan paper, states in the following paragraph a fact which should make a profound impression upon every thinking and sober-minded man:
There is one unpleasant feature in the money market which cannot escape the notice of English and German capitalists. It is the fact that the United States Government is sending back to the coast large quantities of United States securities, and that the large and powerful States having voted for semi-republican, foreign-born, are naturally taking advantage of the fact to send back to the coast large quantities of United States securities.

The Comptroller.
The Comptroller of the State, Mr. Tilden, has been elected to the office of Governor. The fact that he is personally attending to the duties of his office in this city last Saturday he called on the railroads to fore him and give them instructions. In the days of the late Governor, the railroads were expected to secure places on the Central road and the indication was that the railroads were to be established, and the expense of the people at large.

LOOK AT THIS!
The last Democratic election for Governor was held on the 27th of October, 1873. The result was as follows:
The cost of holding the election was $2,200,000.00.
The cost of the State for the year was $2,200,000.00.
The cost of the State for the year was $2,200,000.00.
The cost of the State for the year was $2,200,000.00.
