Commission Approves WLEA Transfer

The Federal Communications Commission Tuesday approved the assignment of the license from John S. Booth and Edgar S. Hutton and associates, as agents for shareholders of Station WLEA, Hornell to the W. H. Greenhow Company, operators of Station WWHG, Hornell.

The assignment transfers the 1320 kilocycles frequency of WLEA to WWHG.

The FCC also approved the purchase of the fixed assets of WLEA by the Greenhow Company for $35,000, subject to the condition that the Greenhow company surrender its license for the 1590 frequency on which it now operates.

Youth Rally To Be Held In Wellsville Feb. 4

The Protestant Youth of Allegany County will hold a Youth Rally on Sunday February 4th at the Christian Temple in Wellsville as a part of Youth Week observance. The theme of the rally is "Serve in Christian Faith" with an attempt to understand how the Christian Faith can be better integrated into the whole community. The relationship of the church and its members to other organizations and institutions will be under discussion in the afternoon panel which will be followed by discussion groups.

Leading the discussion on the church and the school will be John Gilmore, principal of Alfred-Almond Central School. Rev. M. K. Sibley, chaplain of Alfred University will explore the field of public service with particular attention to the Christian in political action. Representing the rural organizations and extension serve will be Laurence Dedrick, the county 4-H club agent, while Theodore McClue, Seneca Council scout executive in the Wellsville area will lead the discussion on participation in scouting. Being mindful of the number of youth who will soon face service in the military ranks. Dr. Wayne Rood of the Alfred University School of Theology and a reserve Army chaplain will lead in that field. Rounding out the panel will be Rev. Irving Beal pastor of the Cuba Presbyterian Church who will consider the Christian's service in the church and its various organizations.

Rev. O. Blakely Hill, host pastor for the rally will lead the song fest at the supper table. The evening message will be brought by the Rev. Homer Cole, pastor of the Bolivar Methodist Church. He will be followed by a closing consecration service under the direction of the Rev. Edmund T. Rowe of Fillmore.

The rally is sponsored by the Allegany County Bible School Association. Registration begins at 3 p. m. with a fee of 65c which includes the followship supper. All young people of junior high, high school and college ages are invited to attend.

Slight Mistake

The husband was reading the evening paper, the wife was poring over a crossword puzzle. Suddenly she called out, "Henry, what is a female sheep?"

"Ewe," curtly replied her hubby, and that's how the row started.
