FUTURE TRAINING

by Eunice Hall

February is the beginning of another term and time is flying around our school corridors. Before it completely sneaks away and the dark reality of "What do I do now that I'm out of school" slides in, we should get ourselves prepared and set for it.

If we're going on to college, we should spend several afternoons in the library, hunting through reference books and sending away for catalogs to the schools which interest us most.

Naturally, a thorough study of all the reading material which we can get our hands on does not guarantee that we'll find a job and make out well.

To succeed in college or any career, we must bring our heads out of the fog. When we are planning to make our mark in a job, we must first see that our minds are defogged. Then we must learn how to use a newspaper for things besides cluttering the living room rug. Let us listen to our radio, read books, talk to our friends. Let us allow them to stimulate our thoughts and actions on things past, current, and to be. Let us be speedy, attentive and helpful as we observe, consider and digest what we take in, hear, and see.

Then on the day we leave high school behind, we won't just stand there with our hands in our pockets and with our noses pointing into the future. We shall be willing and competent to tackle whatever may be ahead for us in school, job or in the wide world.

IN MY OPINION

by Anita Nichols

What do you think about the Girls' Chorus getting robes?

Marion Milligan: I think it's a swell idea because when they sing they want to look their best.

Thelma Mickle: Good idea, because we haven't had any robes of our own.

Gay Rogers: I think it is a good idea, something different.

Laura Mae Croyle: It's a good idea. We have been wanting them a long time to make us all look neat when we go to festivals, etc.

Charity Howland: It would be a very good idea because the other schools have them and they look so neat.

Dean Fisher: Good idea, to make the girls look better.

"Dick" Hancock: Okay to make them neat and attractive.

SIX REPORTERS TO ATTEND PRESS DINNER

To exchange ideas and compare school papers, six reporters from the Andover Central School will attend the third quarterly dinner and meeting of the Allegany County School Press Association at Belfast Central School Monday, February 26, at 6:30.

The reporters representing the schools of the county have been asked to bring to the meeting enough copies of recent school newspapers to exchange with the other press clubs.

The young writers who will attend the dinner from Andover are: Colleen McAndrews, Eunice Hall, Mary Brown, Charity Howland, Gay Rogers and Mary Jane Sackett.

VARSITY LOSES LAST GAME TO CANISEO 34-44

by "Moose" Wheaton

Last Tuesday night the local varsity lost its last game of the season to Canisteo 34-44. The Redskins came out hard and played hard to build up a big lead, and at half time were ahead 25-11. In the second half the Panthers fought hard to get the lead but the visitors had a lead which the locals could not break. Canisteo never was behind during the game and had little trouble in winning.

High man for Andover was "Phipp" Fisher with nine points and was followed by Wheaton and Atwell each with six. For the Redskins it was Gillis and Terry, each with 13. The box score:

Andover	field	foul	ttl.
Fisher	4	1	9
Green	0	0	0
Snyder	2	0	4
Monahan	2	1	5

WILDCATS AND PANTHERS TO PLAY FACULTY, LEGION

by Dean Fisher

Tuesday night, February 27, the Andover Junior Varsity will tangle with the Faculty Twisters while the Varsity will match baskets with the local Legion on the Andover hardwood.

The J.V.'s have such high scorers as "Moose" Wheaton, "Les" Monahan and "Slug" Slocum, not to mention such fine ball handlers as "Points" Pelton and "Johnny" Baker. They also have fine rebounding in "Ted" Smith, "Skip" Jackson and "Pete" Howland.

The Twisters boast such sterling performers as "Hooker" Holden, "Dead Eye" Reil, "Baskets" Bronson, Carl "The Wizard" Witzel, smooth ball-handling Murlyn Conde and the speedy Carlyle Carmody.

"Pete" Daley, "Spider" Atwell, "Casey" Wheaton, "Bull" Green, "Ron" Monahan, "Duke" Snyder, "Lefty" Harder, "Chick" Davis, and Dean Fisher will make up a speedy, scrappy, never-quit varsity team.

The local Legion has such stars as Carl Witzel, Jim Burgett, Karl Fisher, Bob Baker, George Karcanes, Ronnie Atwell and "Duff" Joyce.

This promises to be an exciting evening which will be filled with fine basketball. Come on out and see the local boys in action.

WILDCATS TAKE SECTION II TITLE FROM RICHBURG

by Dean Fisher

The Andover Junior Varsity became the Section II champs last Wednesday night as they out-scrapped a fighting Richburg five on the Belmont court 30-25.

The locals opened the scoring and led 9-3 at the end of the first period. However, by half time the Bearcats had narrowed their lead to 12-9. The third quarter was very closely contested but Andover scored 10 points to Richburg's 9 and led 22-18 going into the final session. Several times in the last quarter Richburg came up within two points of the leaders only to have Andover toss in another bucket to increase their lead. When the final whistle sounded Andover had won out 30-25.

Rangy "Slug" Slocum paced the winners with 11 points and was followed by Lanky "Les" Monahan and mighty "Moose" Wheaton who scored nine and seven respectively.

Wilkins was high for Richburg with 11 points and McDonald was next with 9.

Andover took on Friendship Wednesday, February 21 for the county championship.

Box score:

TOT SPOT

by Mary Brown

Here I am again to take you on our weekly journey through the halls of Andover Central to see what our friends, the tots, are doing.

The tots in Miss Evans' kindergarten wish to welcome Bruce Forrest back to school after his extended absence.

This week we must offer congratulations to Bobby Vickers and Ronald Kemp of the kindergarten who have perfect attendance for the year to date.

Several children in Mrs. Robison's kindergarten have modeled animals from clay.

More congratulations are in order for the eight boys in this room who had perfect attendance last week.

Again we must extend a welcome to Charlene Baker who has returned to school after having chicken pox. Her classmates missed her while she was ill.

When I entered Mrs. Connor's first grade all the children were eager to tell me about their Valentine party. It seems they wish to thank Barbara Grossman, Marjorie Bledsoe and Deanna Wittie for bringing candy and cookies to make it a success.

Mrs. Loescher substituted for Mrs. Connor last Friday.

A thank you for Valentine's Day treats goes to Ruth Waters, Kaye Bostwick, Teddy Edwards, Gail Wightman, Timothy Brown and Alecia Reisman from their classmates in Mrs. Hall's first grade.

The tots in this room wish to welcome John Walter, Sandra Bird and Paul Jones, who have been absent due to chicken pox, back to school.

Robert Clarke and Encil Glover are to be congratulated for maintaining perfect attendance so far this year.

Hugh Church, Clifford Glover, Virginia Lewis and Maxine Mead of Mrs. Carmody's second grade are also to be congratulated for their attendance.

The children in this room enjoyed helping Merton Wright to celebrate his birthday February 16. The tots in this room wish to thank Maxine Mead, William Moag, James Brundage, Lois Reil, Gary Wightman and Barbara Pelton for bringing candy or cookies on Valentine's Day.

In Mrs. Tompkins' second grade Sandra Burch, David Carson, Ellen Joyce, Gary Rosintoski and Bruce Vickers have perfect attendance for the year to date.

Larry House treated his classmates to ice cream on his birthday February 14.

Barbara Hawks and Sandra Burch get the Valentine thanks from this room for bringing candy for the class party.

As I entered Miss Schermerhorn's third grade, I found Mrs. Holden acting as substitute teacher.

Leslie Marsh of this room has a birthday February 23.

Garth Hulin, Ellen Balcom, Carol Stewart, Manley George and Victor Kemp have perfect attendance for the year so far.

The children in Mrs. Helmer's third and fourth grade wish to welcome their classmate, Hazel Lehman, back to school.

The fourth graders are writing letters to the Navajo Indian children in the Navajo Mountain School in Tonalea, Ariz.

The fifth graders in Miss Jordan's room have kept themselves busy this week with the study of George Washington's life. They have also made Washington booklets.

The children in Miss Church's room have begun their jelly bean contest in spelling. The pupil earning the most jelly beans by Easter will receive a prize.

This is all the news for this week. I'll be back again next week to tell you what is happening to our tots.

COUNTRY Life Rally at the Agricultural and Technical Institute at Farmingdale will draw considerable crowds of people from Long Island and upstate counties for the 32nd annual three-day exhibit and demonstration February 22, 23 and 24. Halsey Knapp, director of the institute, promises a full and interesting program for everyone. There will be a Little Theatre program, hobby show and booths and exhibits by students, machinery dealers and Granges. Sunrise Grange plans a square dance on Saturday evening to put a climax on the show. Hustle down this week-end and see the fun while catching an eyeful of what one of our six Ag institutes are up to.

CONTROVERSY over whether the oleomargarine interests are to be allowed to perpetrate fraudulent coloring of their product in imitation of butter, continues to be a hot subject in the lobbies at Albany. Grange stand is perfectly clear: "We favor continuation of the ban on sale of margarine colored in imitation of butter." Conference Board of Farm Organizations stands pat on the same, with the added gimmick: "until such time as the Legislature devises a workable and enforceable plan to protect the public against fraud." Notable precedent in favor of our dairy farmers is the case of Lifebuoy soap, whose manufacturers won a court case to restrain another soap firm from coloring their soap the same color. Let's have purple oleo—that'll look good on a slice of bread.

HEAVY truck fees, registrations and other means of aligning the motor vehicle tax structure have occupied the attention of an increasing number of honest gentlemen lately, with the result that a pack of hounds has been let loose on trucking firms with huge rolling stock. The boys at Albany see a source of rich revenue to bolster our burden of road replacement. The railroads are not exactly not disinterested, having carried a tremendous tax load for generations, they won't cry if they see their greatest competitors shouldering some of the headaches. It was they who probably touched off the opening gun. We are primarily interested in the farmer, and his vast distribution system which relies on trucking, yet also suffers from poor farm-to-market roads. Grange went on record last October, with a four-point constructive program to be considered by the Conference Board of Farm Organizations. It begins to look as if something like that will win out.

Milking machines are used in four out of five herds of 20 cows or more in New York state.
