Sister Camille Marie Says Final Profession in Island Chapel

As the sun swung around the globe on March 7, it witnessed the Final Profession Ceremonies of 50 Maryknoll Sisters in all parts of the world.

Sister Camille Marie, the former Miss Mary Lois Black of Dansville, pronounced Final Vows in a little mission chapel in Occidental Negros, Phillipine Islands, where she was assigned soon after her profession in 1948.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Black of Dansville and granddaughter of Mrs. William Hower of Andover. She attended Sacred Heart School at Perkinsville, St. Patrick's School in Dansville, Dansville Central School and was graduated from St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing in Elmira.

The 50 Sisters pronouncing final vows are located as follows: six in Hawaii, one in Africa, four in the Phillipines, five in Boliva, one in the South Sea Islands, and one in Ceylon. Three are behind the Iron Curtain in Communist dominated territory in China and the others are employed in essential work in the States.

The Maryknoll Sisters are a congregation of American women whose lives are dedicated to work in Catholic Foreign Missions.

Library News

A. B. Guthrie, author of best selling novels of the American West, and author of the Pulitzer prize winning novel "The Way West," says that historical novels give us a richer sense of the present. A knowledge of the dreams and deeds of the men and women who went before, helps to make better citizens and human beings.

Abe Lincoln of Pigeon Creek, a story of the young manhood of Lincoln, by Wilson.

Richard Pryne, a novel of the American Revolution, by Harris.

The Torguts, a novel of the time of Catherine the Great, by River.

The Dark Command, a story of the early days of Kansas, by Burnett.

This Land of Ours, a tale of the struggle to win the old northwest, by Zara.

Capt. Paul, a novel based on the life of John Paul Jones, by Ellsberg.

Phanton Fortress, based on the story of Francis Marion, the Swamp Fox, by Lancaster.

These are a few of the many interesting historical novels you will find at your Andover Library.

Scout News

Ernest Weirick, a first class scout of Troop 42, Andover, has earned the Gardening and Home Repairs Merit badges.

To earn the Gardening Merit badge, a scout must grow at least six vegetables in a garden, test 100 seeds for germination, and show how to exhibit and preserve vegetables.

The candidate may submit 4-H work done instead of the above.

The Home Repairs badge calls for the candidate to do 14 repair items around the home.

Presbyterian Pulpit Exchange This Week

The annual exchange of pulpits within the bounds of Steuben-Elmira Presbytery will bring Rev. Wm. Semple of Canisteo to Andover Presbyterian Church for the regular service this Sunday. A class of new members will be received pending action by the elders at their meeting preceeding the service.

Rev. Albert N. Rogers, supply at the local church, will be in the Canaseraga Larger Parish Church and in Ossian Presbyterian Church as part of the plan. The pulpit exchange is set up to promote understanding of the church fellowship in the post-Easter season. Since Mr. Semple was appointed moderator of the Andover church following the retirement of Dr. W. W. McCall of Hornell it was arranged for him to visit the church on this occasion.

A special offering for church overseas relief, postponed from the "One Great Time of Sharing" observed by many churches during Lent will also be taken. Children of the Sunday School will bring in coin boxes distributed to them on Palm Sunday for their sharing offering. The curriculm of the Sunday School this year centers on the work and meaning of the church.

Local Man in Jail On Rape Charge

Donald L. Jones, 26, of Andover, D. R. 2, was committed to the county jail Friday to await action of the May Grand Jury on a charge of second degree statutory rape. The complaint was made by the mother of a 15 year-old girl and the arrest was made by Officer Albert Rogers.
