EDITORIAL

By James Conde

The cares of high school seem to leave an alumnus until only the pleasant things remain.

In high school one has many trials and troubles as well as good times which at the time seem very important to him. There are worries of tests and final marks. Competition in sports runs high and the troubles of trying to keep up stand out in the mind of a high school student.

After high school a person soon forgets the trouble about marks, teachers, and other things. The pleasures of school such as being in a senior play, good marks and good times remain for a very long time in the minds of alumni.

The troubles of going to school are soon laughed at and worry that a person had dissolves until all that remains in the mind of a person about high school is a pleasurable time in getting his education.

As a whole most people believe high school was fun as well as hard work.

DODGERS AND RED SOX FAVORED FOR PENNANTS

By Dean Fisher

Most of the baseball experts have picked the Brooklyn Dodgers to take the National League Pennant and the Boston Red Sox to capture the American League flag because of their all-around strength.

The Bums have comparatively weak hurling after you get by Big Don Newcombe and Lefty Preacher Roe, who are top flight performers. Their hitting and fielding is the best in the league with such men as Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider, Sil Hodges, Carl Tunillo and Roy Campanella.

The Fenway park men look practically unbeatable with such pitchers as Ray Scarborough, Bill Wright, Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder. Any club owner will turn green with envy when he looks over the Boston line-up of hitters. They include Ted Williams, Walt Dropo, Junior Stephens, Lon Boncheau, Don DiMaggio and Billy Goodman. It is hard to pick anyone but the Boston Belters for the American League flag.

Below are the way that most people pick the pennant races to end:

American League: Red Sox, New York Yankees, Detroit Tigers, Cleveland Indians, Washington Senators, Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia Athletics, St. Louis Browns.

National League: Brooklyn Dodgers, New York Giants, Philadelphia Phils, St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Braves, Cincinnatii Reds, Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh Pirates.

HAMSTERS TROUBLE SIXTH GRADERS

Recently the sixth grade has adopted a pair of hamsters which have caused the children much laughter as well as desperation.

On one bright morning a few days ago strange sounds of scurring and running were heard by the sixth grade teacher when she entered the room. With the ringing of the bell and the bustling of the children all these sounds were forgotten.

When an appointed child went to feed these furry fellows she found, to her dismay that one was gone. Then when she went to get the food for the remaining one, she found the food gone.

Gradually the class got used to having only one pet, and soon the other was forgotten. Although the students found bits of food gone from the feeding tray.

A few days later a dismayed janitor opened the sixth grade door and entered. To his surprise a small furry object scurried forth and ran around the door. With quick steps the janitor chased the small animal and soon caught him. Not knowing the pugnacity of the pair he put them both in the same cage where a war was soon waged.

In the morning two tired and fought out hamsters were found panting in two opposite corners of the cage. Soon the two were separated and peace reigned again in the sixth grade.

DOWN BEATS

The senior band and orchestra have taken over new quarters in the tower room for their rehearsals. This is proving very satisfactory as stands and equipment do not have to be set up for each rehearsal.

A musical mood was lent to the senior play by the A. C. S. senior band members who played before, after and between acts of the play.

Band rehearsals have been changed from eighth period on Tuesday and Thursday to every day except Wednesday from 12:30 until 1 o'clock.

The Andover Central School has just purchased new purple and white robes for the choir.

GRADE NEWS

The children in the kindergarten are sure spring is here because of the pussy willows Robert Vickers brought. Mary Ethel Caple visited school with her sister Kathie Thursday afternoon. Beverly Loucks is back after a long illness.

Mrs. Robison's kindergarten have planted seeds, another sure sign of spring. Their bulletin board also features spring. The children are enjoying a play farm with animals. Emily Alvord treated the grade to suckers on her birthday.

Both kindergartens are having a great deal of fun with the large rubber balls which Mr. Nobles has inflated for them

Group 3 of Mrs. Connor's reading class has dramatized a story called the new toy. A cash register and telephone, props for the play, were brought by Bruce Brundage. A very attractive bulletin board about farm friends has just been completed. To aid in arithmetic, number games were brought by Bruce Johnson and Jimmy Appier.

Mrs. Hall's grade is studying birds and wild flowers. Allan Skinner took two of his friends to the senior play.

Very attractive spatter painting has been done on the covers of booklets in Mrs. Carmody's room. The grade is now studying wild birds. A new bulletin board about animals is creating much interest.

Mrs. Helmer's grade enjoyed a treat of fudgecicles in honor of Jimmy Scott's birthday. The children are making spelling booklets with Dutch girl covers.

Lois Pelton treated the fifth and sixth grades in Miss Church's room to ice cream on her birthday. Donna Barnhart has been ill for the past week. The pupils are making booklets on the story of cod fish.

The girls in Miss Jordon's fifth grade have had perfect attendance for three weeks. Bruce Lehman treated the grade on his birthday.

Encil Glover of Mrs. Hall's first grade brought a rabbit to school. All the children in Mrs. Hall's grade had perfect attendance Tuesday. Alecia Reisman visited the Rochester airport.

1951 HALL OF FAME

Each year five seniors are chosen by the faculty for Andover's Hall of Fame. This is an honor much coveted by every senior. The selection is based upon scholastic standing, sportsmanship, personality, morality, cooperation and benefits rendered to the senior class and the school.

The five seniors chosen for this honor this year are: Dean Fisher, Phyllis Burger, Eunice Hall, Caroline Briggs and Charles Snyder.

Each person elected to the Hall of Fame will have his picture and a feature story about his school achievements in an issue of the school paper.

Better Health For Children

A Community Service Issued by Children's Hospital of Buffalo, N. Y.

A glance at the thermometer may cause serious doubts in your mind about the arrival of spring, but accident admissions at the Children's hospital indicate that for children, at least, spring is here.

This is the season which pent-up energy has a hey-day. Roller skates replace overshoes, bicycles replace sleds and baseballs, marbels and kits are brought out of winter storage. Now is the time when winter debris lies uncovered in open fields, inviting bonfires. Youthful exuberance is bursting out long before the tree buds.

Parents are urged to impress on their children the importance of tempering normal enthusiasm with caution. Retrieving a baseball is not nearly so important as avoiding an accident which might be serious. Parents could prevent may tragic accidents which result in lifelong handicaps.

For example, when window screens are installed, be sure they are securely hooked and cannot be unfastened. Children are naturally inquisitive and may unhook a screen just to see how it's done. This might result in a serious fall. Many cuts can be prevented if parents were always careful to keep sharp instruments beyond reach—such as axes, scythes, knives and scissors. Matches and inflammable fluids should be stored out of reach at all times. One child is still hospitalized because a playmate tossed a discarded inflammable liquid can on a bonfire last year.

Treatment of accident cases is expensive. Hundreds of parents can not afford to pay for needed care of their injured or sick child. The Children's Hospital is now conducting its annual appeal to provide funds for the care of needy children, some of whom may come from your community. Help the Children's Hospital to help needy, sick children. Send your contribution to the Sustaining Fund, 219 Bryant Street, Buffalo.
