You've asked these questions

—you'll want to remember these answers!

1 Do pharmacists practice their profession in retail drug stores only?

No, you will find them wherever drugs and medicines are required. Registered pharmacists are included on the staffs of many hospitals. The Army, the Navy, the U. S. Public Health Service, and other governmental departments all have pharmacists performing professional and administrative duties. They also are on the teaching staffs of colleges of pharmacy. Pharmaceutical manufacturers employ them not only to prepare drugs and medicines on a large scale, but also in the laboratories where these products are tested and standardized. Today, there are close to 100,000 registered pharmacists employed in various capacities, and of these over 3 percent are women.

2 What requirements must your pharmacist fulfill before starting his professional career?

(1) He must be a graduate of an accredited college course in pharmacy, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science, and before entering college he must have completed a full four-year high school course. (2) He must have had at least one year of practical experience under the supervision of a registered pharmacist. (3) He must pass a rigid examination given by his State Board of Pharmacy. (4) He must be at least 21 years of age, of good moral character, and meet certain citizenship qualifications.

3 Is there a systematic basis for determining the price of a prescription—or is the cost computed haphazardly?

Yes, there is a systematic basis for prescription pricing. The principal factors involved are the cost of the drugs specified by your doctor, a compounding charge, and the amount of time required to dispense the prescription. Naturally, prescription costs are higher when expensive drugs are required, or when time-consuming procedures are necessary.

4 Why is it dangerous to attempt to read or phone a prescription to your pharmacist?

A prescription is a precise document, expressed in technical terms and symbols that can easily be misinterpreted by the public. So, if you attempt to read a prescription to your pharmacist you may fail to interpret it correctly. However, when you give your doctor's written prescription to your pharmacist, you can be sure that you have handed him the information he needs to fill the prescription exactly as the doctor intended.

5 Why is your pharmacist permitted to keep narcotics in his store?

Your pharmacist keeps narcotics in his store because he is authorized to act as the legal custodian of these drugs. The supply which he maintains is carefully guarded, and no narcotic drug is dispensed except upon proper medical authorization. Pharmacists strictly observe the regulations set up to prevent misuse of these drugs—a practice that is in keeping with the high ethical standards of the profession.

6 If you handed your pharmacist an unlabeled bottle, a prescription container with the number defaced, or an envelope with a few loose tablets, would he refuse your request for "more of this medicine"?

Your pharmacist will always refuse to sell any drug that he cannot positively identify. When you request a medicine and give merely a vague description—or present an unlabeled container—you are asking your pharmacist to introduce an element of chance into his professional work. By declining to take such chances he is acting in the interest of your safety and your health.—Reprinted from a Copyrighted Advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company, Detroit 32, Michigan.

Harold Kemp Retires From State Police

Batavia, April 14—Inspector Harold L. Kemp of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of Troop A, State Police, will terminate 27 years of service to the uniformed and plainclothes units, tomorrow.

The official date for the change is May 1, since Inspector Kemp will be on terminal leave until that date. Shortly after, he will take a position with the Todd Co., Inc., of Rochester as supervisor of guards. He will continue to make his home in Webster, N. Y.

A native of Andover, Inspector Kemp was born on Nov. 21, 1895, and left high school to serve during World War I with the 305th Infantry. He received the Purple Heart for gas burns suffered near Chateau Thierry.

The trooper official joined the State Police organization on July 1, 1924 and had served various sections of Western New York, taking part in a number of investigations and including duty at the Auburn Prison riots, in the milk strike and assisting in crime detection on various cases.

After serving at Clarence and later at Webster and Pittsford, Mr. Kemp was transferred, in 1937 to the BCI and served as a sergeant. On Sept. 1, 1943, he was promoted to lieutenant and assigned to Troop B at Malone, where he remained until 1947. He then was appointed an inspector, with jurisdiction over 20 plainclothes officers.

Mrs. Kemp is the former marion A. Murphy of Depew. They have two sons, Rogers H. who lives in Canton and Gene of Webster.

Inspector Kemp's successor will not be named until after May officials here said.

Milk Price of $4.37 Announced for March

A uniform price of $4.37 per hundred wil be paid to dairy farmers for their March deliveries to 429 plants in the New York milkshed, it is announced by Dr. C. J. Blanford, Market Administrator. The uniform price in February was $4.78 and in March a year ago, $3.64

The Administrator also announced a producer butterfat differential for March of 5.8 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 standard.

Dr. Blanford reported that milk production last month was down 22,156,879 pounds, or 3.54 percent, from a year ago. This was due, he said, to a drop to 390 pounds in daily output per farm from last year's record high of 405 pounds. Milk production in March totaled 603,659,834 pounds compared with 625,796,713 in the same month of 1950.

R. APPIER, Collector.

Still Time to Attend Police School

The police school held in Wellsville at the Howe Library has been well attended with an enrollment of between 160 and 170 from the different villages in the county. Those attending from Andover are Harry Kemp, Albert Rogers, Kenneth Williams, Jack Dixon, Neil Callaghan, Basil Hancock, Hugh Barlow, Murlyn Conde, Arthur Kemp, Irving Gilfillan and George Reil.

These men are to be commended for their efforts in attending the school. It is hoped that the training received will never be needed in the Civilian Defense program as a result of attack or invasion by an enemy but rather have the villages benefit by having such a force of trained deputies to call on in case of any local emergency.

The school is still open to anyone interester. There are seven more sessions with a banquet at the end of the course. The group leave at 7:00 o'clock Monday evening from Clair's Drug Store.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. C. C. Backus was admitted to the St. James Mercy hospital in Hornell, Monday as a medical patient.

Raymond Short was admitted to the St. James Mercy hospital Monday for observation and treatment.

Master "Billy" Bixby was admitted to the Jones Memorial hospital Wednesday evening suffering from pneuphonia.

Exchange Club Minstrel Show May 4 - 5

May 4th and 5th are the dates set for this "Old Time Minstrel." Bigger and better than ever is the aim of this year's show committee. New songs, and new acts by a cast of local talent, all from Andover, spark this annual classic.

"Chuck" Holt, "Mike" and "Chick" Gath are the veterans of the end men. New comers to the group are "Bob" Baker, "Bunny" Karcanes' and "Young Bill" Harrison.

If you want to see some of your prominent neighbors squirm these are the boys who can do it. Pauline Yorton at the piano and musical direction by George Holden assure you of a smooth show.

This show, always a sell-out, is the only fund raising project sponsored by the Andover Exchange Club. All money for their civic and charitable enterprises are derived solely from this annual old time minstrel. Get your tickets early and don't miss an evening of absolute riot.

Genesee Country Music Festival April 27-28

The 16th Annual Genesee Country Music Festival, sponsored by the Allegany County Music Association, will be held this year at the Fillmore Central School, Friday and Saturday, April 27th and 28th. Friday has been designated as the day for bands, orchestras, solos and ensembles. Saturday is vocal day for choruses, solos and ensembles.

Dr. Irving Cheyette, Director of Music Education, Syracuse University will serve as adjudicator for the bands on Friday. Throughout the forenoon and early afternoon each band will be given an opportunity to present a short program. They will close their programs on Friday with a massed band composed of approximately 400 high school students.

Wallace Doubleday, Director of Music, Lockport Public Schools will serve as adjudicator for the choral groups. They will perform in a manner similar to the band groups. Like the bands they will close their program on Saturday with a massed chorus of approximately 500 voices.

In addition to the programs presented by the bands and choruses, there will be instrumental and vocal soloists which will be adjudicated by representatives of Houghton College, Fredonia Teachers College and other area schools.

The main aim of the festival is to provide a program for all young musicians. There is no competition. Comments and criticisms by the adjudicators will be given to the director of the various bands and choruses.

This year over 17 schools, including Andover Central School, from four different counties have indicated they are going to participate.
