COMMUNISM AND YOU

What can you do to help prevent the spread of Communism in America?

Perhaps many of the girls who read this will say they can do nothing, because the boys will be doing the fighting against Communist aggression.

I can not agree with this view, because I believe every young American can do his or her part in stopping communism. The girls as well as the boys can build within themselves such a great love of things American and democratic principals that no Communist propagandist will ever be able to change their beliefs.

There is no person in our high school, who can not acquaint himself with current events well enough to understand our present day world crisis.

Another way we all may help carry on a successful fight against Communism is by preparing to take on our responsibilities as voters in a few years. If we are constantly alert to what is going on in Washington and what each candidate proposes, no socialist or communist can possibly get a foothold in our government, because we will be wise enough not to elect them.

Communism is more easily established where economic conditions are unsatisfactory. As we grow older we should all be conscious of our city slum areas. Perhaps in later life we shall have the opportunity to do something to relieve such economic strife.

Remember students, we can all do our share and those of you who do will find reward in a peaceful America someday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO IN A. H. S.

May 1931—Joe Lynch won the medal awarded by the International and Colonial Overseas Exposition of Paris, France for his essay "Why I Would Like to Spend Ten Days in Paris."

Eleanor Baker, Ruth Walton, Sarah Lobdell, Evelyn Moland, Eleanor Greene, Bernice Williams, Helen Vickers and Leah Oakes sang at the Memorial Day assembly. Charles Howland read "The Origin of Memorial Day, and Wilfred Brown recited "In Flanders Field."

In an Assembly in June 1931, Oliver Kemp played a baritone solo and Francis Vickers displayed his ability by his rendition of "Intermezzo Russe"

January 1932: Jim Mulholland, Francis Cable and others welcomed New Year's Eve at a party in Ceres.

Helen Smith entertained at her home New Year's Eve. A good time was reported by all. Many seniors helped to make the party a success by their presence.

J. Roger Tuttle attended the midnight show at Hornell, New Year's Eve.

Richard Appier was in Wellsville January 14, 1932.

Fay Brown, Malcolm Brundage, and Wisner Cook attended the show in Wellsville, January 12.

March 1932: Mary Monica had one of her devilish streaks recently. She gigled so at a certain party I am sure her solemn brother Joesph, would have spanked her and sent her to bed without her supper had he known.

These are some of the things your own parents might have been doing twenty years ago, so you see they were young once, too.

HALL OF FAME

Stepping into the spotlight as the first member of this year's Hall of Fame, is Caroline Stott Briggs.

Caroline is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Briggs who reside on Dyke street. She was born in Trenton, New Jersey on December 20, 1933.

Since coming to Andover in September 1947 with her mother, father and two sisters, Caroline has been very active in school activities. We remember her for her brilliant protrayal of Mrs. Campbell in the senior play, "The Campbells are Coming."

She has been a member of the orchestra and chorus throughout her high school career. In her junior year Caroline was class president, as well as president of both chorus and orchestra. She is now treasurer of the chorus.

During her freshman year, Caroline was a junior varsity cheerleader. She has been a member of the camera club since her sophomore year. Caroline served as secretary of the camera club throughout her junior year.

As a member of the student council in her junior year, she was elected secretary. Caroline has been a member of the F. H. A. and Library Council in her junior and senior years. She is now a member of the Girl's Athletic Association.

Caroline earned second prize in her sophomore and first in her junior year for her oratorical contest speeches.

She is a member of the yearbook organization committee and has written for the Hi Herald as a staff reporter. Caroline has three majors; math, science and Latin.

Since her ambition is a career in home economics, her hobbies are sewing, knitting and reading.

Caroline has a philolosphy of life which we could all profit by, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

The members of the Hall of Fame are selected by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, neatness of person, friendliness, cooperation, service and morals.

OLD GRADS FULFILL DREAMS

After examining several past issues of the A. C. S. year book, I find several old grads who have realized their dreams for the future. Many have chosen other careers or are preparing to reach their goals.

Most of you will probably remember the class of 1950, who left our halls only a short time ago.

"Ty" Carpenter, president of the class, is preparing to engage in his chosen occupation by studying mechanical engineering at Syracuse University. Class secretary "Bob" Baker is fulfilling his desire "to be successful in the field of agriculture.

Miss Barbara Wintembery and Miss Margaret Jackson have already realized their ambitions by graduating from Byrant Stratton Business School and R. B. I.

Those class members such as "Ronnie" Atwell, "Clat" Burdick, Robert Marsh, "Skeet" Milligan and "Don" Mulconery who stated that their ambition as "merely to graduate" have gone beyond this to enter various careers. "Ronnie" and "Clat" are successful agriculturists, Robert Marsh is attending Baptist Bible School Seminary in Johnson City. "Skeet" Milligan is studying gunsmithing in Colorado and "Don" Mulconery is now stationed at Kessler Air Force Base in Mississippi.

Miss Joyce Linza and Miss Teddy Vankuren, who chose careers as dental hygienists have both altered their plans. Joyce is working in Wellsville and Teddy is attending R. B. I. in Rochester.

"Bob" Dunham and Miss Mary Ellen Connor are among those who will see their goals reached. Mary is training to become a nurse at the St. James Mercy hospital in Hornell. "Bob" will have his desired tour of our great country with the U. S. Marine Corps.

Now we will turn the hands of time back another year to the class of 1949.

I am sure you will remember the president of this class as a formed basketball star. "Bob" Burger has gone beyond his goal of graduation to become a member of Uncle Sam's Navy.

Miss Evelyn Glover has succeeded in becoming a secretary who performs her duties faithful at Ford & Peckham's.

Ella Mae Clair and John Connor have changed their teaching plans. Ella Mae is a telephone operator in Rochester and John is in the U. S. Air Corps.

Miss Mary Ellen Driscoll is accomplishing her ambition to become a nurse by attending the Sisters of Charity Hospital in Buffalo.

Miss Rita Goodridge, who recently graduated from the Hornell Business School, has reached her goal.

Miss Ruth Halsey and Miss Mary Alice Horan have sacrificed their secretarial careers to be housewives and mothers.

The Air Force has changed the ambitions of Dick Lynch and Marlin Mather.

Miss Joan Joyce, now Mrs. Merle Dibble, has altered her lifework to that of housewife.

In closing I should like to wish good luck to all our "old grads" whether they are fulfilling their dreams or doing something they found more suitable. I also wish to express my appreciation to those boys who terminated their careers to answer Uncle Sam's call.

TOT SPOT

The children in the first six grades all reported enjoying their short vacation Friday.

Making photograph albums for Mother's Day gifts has occupied the minds of those in Miss Evans kindergarten. The children have also enjoyed watching their garden of peas, lettuce and cantaberry bells which are now peeping above the soil.

Six boys and eleven girls in Mrs. Robison's kindergarten have perfect attendance.

These kindergarteners are also learning about all growing things and enjoy observing their flowers grow.

David Rossman of the kindergarten reports that he will soon begin spending his week-ends at Rushford Lake in a new cottage built by his father.

Have you seen the circus parade in Mrs. Hall's first grade? The children have drawn clowns in art and are coloring circus pictures in their activity period.

Ruth Walters spent Sunday in Buffalo while Kaye Bostwick and John Walters were both in Bath Sunday. Harry Campbell visited in Knoxville, Pa., Alecia Reisman in Rochester and Gerald Burch in Friendship. These students enjoyed describing their trips to first grade classmates on Monday.

Reading tests have been given Mrs. Carmody's second graders by Mr. Mandel this week.

Brian Frizell treated his classmates to ice cream, cookies and suckers in honor of his birthday, Monday, May 1.

Several of the first graders visited out of town over the week-end. Bruce Brundage visited his cousin, Michael in Belmont, Duane Herrick visited his grandmother in Angelica.

Connie Bronson enjoyed her new roller skates while poor Brian Frizell was ill with a throat infection over the week-end.

Mrs. Carmody's second graders are making circus animal cages out of shoe boxes.

Clifford Glover and Merton Wright enjoyed spending the week-end in Addison and Greenwood.

Billy Woodruff went to Rochester twice this week-end with his father.

Paul Glover entertained some relatives from Friendship over the week-end.

An election for president in Mrs. Helmer's room was held by the class. Reta Lunn won the election.

From their weather chart the fourth graders in Miss Baker's room found there were 11 days of sunshine in April.

John Common won second prize in the kite flying contest for distance while Robert McClure took third prize for height.

Class elections for the month of May have been held in the fourth grade. Joyce Day was elected president, Albert Phelps, vice president; Claudette Corwin, secretary; and Billy Shawl was chosen treasurer.

James Riffle of Miss Church's room visited in Machias over the week-end.

Donald Howard went to Rushford Lake and Tommy Smith to Hornell this week-end.

Keith Howland attended a Father and Son banquet at Wellsville.

This is all the news from the little people this week.

HARVEY ATTENDS MINSTREL SHOW

As I started out for the Exchange Club Minstrel Show, who should come running after me but our little friend Harvey. He coaxed so hard to be allowed to go, that I finally gave my consent.

At first Harvey was afraid of all the people, but when the Dixie Land Band began to play he overcame his shyness. Harvey enjoyed the music very much and kept his foot tapping out the rythm along with Margaret Daley, who sat near him.

chorus kept Harvey busy all through the opening chorus of the show. He thought they all looked cute in their jeans, especially Gay Rogers, Ann Wood and Virginia Kibbe.

"Bugsy" Karranes' imitation of the Inkspots aroused our young friend's sense of humor. I must confess I was a bit ashamed of his extremely loud laughter. Anna Marie Joyce, who was sitting beside him found it necessary to protect her ear drums.

As Harvey is an admirer of barber shop harmony, he enjoyed the singing of the "Four Monks." He found a campanion in laughter during their rendition of "Bring Back Our Gath to Us." Marcy Smith enjoyed this song with him.

"Ain't Misbehavin" as sung by "Willie" Harrison did not apply to Harvey at this point in the program for it was then that he winked at Janet Hall. Janet was so surprizes she forgot to sing the chorus of the song.

Although Harvey is not a feminine heart, he was thrilled by the singing of "Sunny Tennesee" by Kent Harder and Clarence Kibbe. When they sang "Ain't She Sweet" his eyes found those of "Pat" Baker. He thinks she was sweet as she sang the chorus of this song.

Harvey bothered all those near him including Dale Pelton and James Conde with questions about this "Ida, "Jim" Mulhalland was singing about. He even asked Clyde Jackson if he could arrange an introduction to "Ida."

"Back Home Again In Indiana" sounded like a great place to be to our young friend when "Chuck" Holt described it in his song.

During intermission Harvey had fun flirting with Mary Lou Clark and the members of the girl's sextette. Although Anita Nichols, Laura Croyle, Clarice Nye, Arlene Edwards, Carol Nye and Marion Milligan didn't know it, Harvey told me he would like to have them sing "Let me call you Sweetheart" just for him. He was also very proud of Jack Wheaton, "Vic" Daley and "Doug" Wheaton as they came forward to receive their poster prizes.

After intermission Harvey found himself crying from laughing so hard when the end men and interlocutor sang their version of "Sheik of Araby." He could understand why Gay Rogers and "Pat" Sackett blushed during this song.

Our male friend overcame his male ego and sympathized with the hen in "chick" Gath's "I ain't gonna take it Sittin Down".

"Never the Less" as sung by George Joyce made even our Harvey swoon, so he could understand why Laura Croyle and Sandra Bostwick wanted his autograph.

Harvey joined me in self-pity during "Bob" Baker's singing of "Nobody's chasing me."

Maxine Baker, Charity Howland, Thelma Mickle and Ann Marvel joined Harvey from the stage in gails of laughter at "Junior" during Mr. Holden's song, "Sunny Boy."

"Mike" Gath's song "Carolina in the Morning" pleased Harvey so much that he sang it all the way home.

Harvey and I agree with the opinion that the whole show was the best in years and we want to say "good work" to the sextette and the members of the chorus.

REGENTS AND EXAMS APPROACH

After this week there are four and four-fifths weeks of school left before regents and final exams. If you wonder about the four-fifths, there is no school Memorial Day, May 30.

You have twenty-four days, 140 hours, 8,400 minutes and 504,000 seconds of this school year left in which to acquire the knowledge which is so necessary if you hope to pass those final examinations and regents.
